

Kid Gloves and Corsets.

I have sold kid gloves and corsets all my life; that is why I know a good thing when I see it. In offering the Scala kid glove at $1 per pair I can say without fear of dispute that I am giving the best $1 glove on the market. I have just received a large shipment including the latest shades. R. & G. corsets are without doubt the best on the market. They are made to fit as well as to wear. They give better satisfaction than any other make. They are guaranteed not to break. If a steel breaks, you get a new pair, free of charge. Every woman who has worn the R. & G. will never want any other kind.

Bird-Shot For Tiger.

No use to hunt tigers with bird-shot. It doesn't hurt the tiger any and it's awfully risky for you.

Consumption is a tiger among diseases. It is stealthy—but once started it rapidly eats up the flesh and destroys the life. No use to go hunting it with ordinary food and medicine. That's only bird-shot. It still advances. Good heavy charges of Scott's Emulsion will stop the advance. The disease feels that.

Scott's Emulsion makes the body strong to resist. It soothes and toughens the lungs and sustains the strength until the disease wears itself out.

On Monday at J. H. Burton's hopyard, north of Independence, Miss Florence Winnefred of King's valley built a fire with shavings in a sheet-iron stove, and lifting the lid the flames burst out, igniting her garments. The girl, frightened, started to run, fanning the flame to a fearful blaze. Portions of her body were cooked almost to a crisp. Her condition is considered critical.

Derby's hay-baling crew had quite an experience with fire last Monday, on the farm of Robert McDonald near this city. Henry Pearson had just started up his engine, when sparks from the same set fire to the end of about 200 bales of straw near by. The straw represented one day's work for the crew. From the bales the fire soon leaped to the unbaled straw stack, and it took the liveliest movements of the men to save the bales. Included in the loss was a $32 platform scale. Harry Jones and Hugh Bristow also suffered the loss of their mustaches.

The Oregon state fair at Salem, Sept. 23d to 28th, 1901, inclusive, promises to be the best this year that has yet been held. New features for amusement and instruction have been added, and particular attention will be given to the stock exhibit, owing to the great and constantly increasing interest in dairying throughout the state. For this occasion the Southern Pacific Co. will make a rate of one fare for the round trip, from all its stations in Oregon, to Salem and return, and it is hoped that everyone who can do so will show his appreciation by taking advantage of this opportunity to pass a few days pleasantly and profitably at our state capital.

R. A. Harris, a former printer of this city, murders the queen's English to the extent of nearly two columns in the Salem Statesman of September 10th, in a veiled apology for the fiend who shot the president. He calls himself a socialist, and attributes the breed of anarchists to our commercial, social and religious ethics. Two days later the Statesman says: "The Statesman possibly made a mistake in allowing Harris, the sympathizer with Czolgosz and anarchy, into its columns and in treating him kindly editorially, but still the fact that he has been shown to the public partially makes up for the error. We did not know at the time that he was discredited and disowned by the respectable socialists of the city. He is a harmless skunk if you but keep him out of your garden."

L. P. W. Quimby, state game and forestry warden, spent the first two days of the week in this city, in an official capacity. He finds a great deal of violation of the game law, and, strange to say, more particularly among the farmers, who seem to think that if they wait until the open season the sportsmen will get all the birds. There is only slight ground for this position. No true sportsman will trespass upon premises from which he is forbidden, nor will he kill more than ten birds in one day. The lack of appropriated money greatly hampers Mr. Quimby in his work, but he has a number of special deputies in the field, and some of them will "do" Yamhill county soon. An example was recently made of a wealthy Washington county farmer, who was seen to shoot and pick up the bird. The farmer says he will contest the case, but he is foolish to do so, and cannot hope to win. The open season begins Oct. 1st, and closes with November, during the last fifteen days of which pheasants may be offered for sale.

SCENES OF SPLENDOR.

Portland Carnival's Brilliant Array of Attractions.

Never in the history of the northwest have the people been offered such enjoyable entertainment mingled with useful instruction as will be laid before them during the month of the Portland carnival, which will be held in the great exposition building from Sept. 20th to Oct. 19th, and also in the beautiful Multnomah fields adjoining. The committee of representative business men having the carnival in charge have already made contracts involving the expenditure of $50,000, to make the carnival a success. On the music and amusements alone there will be $13,000 expended, and the other appropriations will be in proportion for the horseshow and the grand military tournament and the athletic exercises, etc.

These figures will give people an idea of the grandeur and immensity of the carnival, which will be illuminated with 3500 electric lights. The music by two military bands will be grand, and there will be a reproduction of Multnomah falls in the exposition building, a big working mining exhibit, a German village, a showing of all the products of the northwest, and other sights to see. All railroad and steamboat lines will sell excursion tickets to the carnival, good for 7 days, at one and one-third fare for the round trip. People who miss the Portland carnival will miss a grand event.

The Oregon City land office officials have set for hearing 19 of the contest cases in which Chas. T. Hayes is interested. Some time ago Hayes filed contests against 16 settlers in Tillamook county, and the case has excited much attention and newspaper comment. October 23d is the date set for hearing the first contest, and the others will be heard daily until the 19 are finished. Hayes has requested that the hearing of the remaining 55 cases be deferred until some future date.

We bow in sorrow at his untimely death, and are sick with shame at the manner of his taking off. Resolved, That our charter be draped in mourning and that each comrade wear the G. A. Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Holloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by Howorth & Co.

The great carnival, which opens in Portland on September 20th and continues until October 19th, 1901, will be well worth a visit to the metropolis.

The Southern Pacific Co. will sell tickets at low rates for this occasion, and will also run a special excursion from Ashland to Portland and return, stopping at all intermediate stations, the date and rates for which will be announced hereafter.
