PRESIDENTIAL BODYGUARDS.

President Roosevelt is acting in a characteristic manner when he takes long walks and horseback rides unattended. However, in these times, when the minds of the people are excited by the fear of the recurrence of such a tragedy as has placed Mr. Roosevelt in the white house, this disregard for his personal safety seems quite reckless to many people. The assassination of the late president has called up the old question of a greater seclusiveness on the part of the chief executive. Resort to some of the expedients of which European rulers avail themselves has even been advocated. The presidents of the United States have never been surrounded by armed cordons of guards, though they have been to a certain extent shielded by the presence of secret service agents and detectives when they have appeared in public.

True, czars in bomb-proof railway carriages have not been secure against the nihilist; rulers in coats of mail have not been safe from the dagger; kings have sought safety in vain from bullet and poison in armies of spies and guards. There is a lofty sentiment that the president of a free republic should require no other protection than the loyalty and patriotism of the people. President Roosevelt evidently has this view of the subject—though he may be just the least bit afraid that he may be thought afraid. That is the only fear he ever felt. But the gallant rough rider need have no fears that he will be thought a coward by adopting all the safeguards which prudence dictates, and the people will expect him to take into account the fact that he is the official head of the government and not a private citizen.

AS TO FREEDOM OF SPEECH.

It is pointed out by the New York Sun that the widespread demand for legislation by congress prohibiting anarchistic utterances will meet only with disappointment, for the reason that congress is specifically forbidden by the first amendment to the constitution to enact any laws "abridging the freedom of speech." That is true, so far as the immediate securing of the desired legislation is concerned. But it may be had, nevertheless. That prohibitive amendment was added to the constitution in the prescribed way for amending that instrument. Another amendment modifying or neutralizing its application could be adopted in the same way. Congress might, at the approaching session, pass by the requisite majority a bill embodying the provisions called for by public sentiment and submit it to the state legislatures for ratification. There is good reason for believing that more than a sufficient number of the legislatures would ratify to make it effective. That would take a little time, but the legislation demanded would be just as timely when it came as now. Anarchy and its promulgation are evils which will have to be reckoned with in the years to come, and possibly in the centuries to come. They are not ephemeral—menacing today and disappearing with the season or the decade.

Happily, however, it will not be necessary to sit down and wait passively until an amendment to the national constitution can be adopted. In the meantime, the states may act. There is nothing to prevent state legislatures from passing laws "abridging the freedom of speech." It would be better to have a general law affecting all parts of the country alike and enforced by national authority, but the individual states can pass very rigid anti-anarchy legislation and enforce it. In fact, there are already in effect laws which restrict freedom of speech in many states. In New York, Chicago and other cities anarchist meetings are suppressed by the police when the speakers become incendiary in their language. In every state whose legislature meets next winter there will probably be bills introduced prohibiting anarchistic utterances under severe penalties, and a large number of them will be passed. In the meantime congress should take up the subject and deal with it as far as its constitutional limitations will permit. One good way to suppress anarchistic speech is to shut out the foreign anarchists who come to this country to utter it, and congress has full authority to close our ports against the entry of such unclean cattle.

The Yamhill County Coal and Oil Co. is still offering its capital stock at 50 cents a share, in order to raise funds for active development. A few dollars invested will aid a worthy enterprise, and if all signs do not fail, will bring to the investor abundant returns.

Chas. V. Galloway has purchased the J. F. Wisecarver farm northwest of town. This comprises 156 acres, and the purchase price was $28 an acre.

Mrs. Katie Potter's graceful riding without saddle in the contest Friday, came near causing the judges to say they couldn't decide it.

COLUMBUS SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Cecil Peckham entered the 9th grade last Tuesday morning. Miss Helen Weed and Miss Nora Sciters were welcome visitors Tuesday afternoon.

Several new students are enrolled this week. The literary society of the high school is to be reorganized today. Already we have a challenge for a debate.

The boys have purchased a foot ball and are practicing at all intermissions. The girls of the high school are talking of organizing a basket ball team. Let the good work go on.

Misrepresented.

It is being noised about, probably as a joke, that I presented a bill for my services as king during the carnival. I presented a bill for services as marshal only, and stand ready to shave that bill to any extent necessary to enable the committee to make their money meet legitimate expenses. This is too serious a reflection to be regarded as a joke.

PEERY DRUG CO.,
Prescription Druggists.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a brand of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandip, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's cough remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not consider it worth the money, to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine, and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's cough remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation for the remedy." It is for sale by Howorth & Co.

WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated on Wednesday last at 11 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Joseph Draper northwest of McMinnville, when his daughter, Miss Jennie, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Edmiston of Astoria. The parlor in which the ceremony was performed was decorated in an extremely tasteful manner, a large marriage bell of beautiful flowers being suspended over the place where the ceremony was to be performed. Just previous to the entrance of the bride and groom, Miss Bessie Edmiston played a march upon the organ, and to its strains the couple entered supported by best man and bridesmaid, and took their places beneath the bell, when the ceremony which made them man and wife was pronounced according to the beautiful ritual of the Methodist Episcopal church, by Henry T. Atkinson, pastor of that church at McMinnville. At the close of the service, and after the congratulations of the friends and relatives who had assembled to honor the occasion, the company repaired to the dining room where a plentiful lunch was provided. It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston to make their future home in Astoria.

Pure water is essential to good health, and it has been proven that distilled water exceeds in purity. Mrs. S. M. Cook is agent for the "Puritan," new process sanitary, automatic still, and is now delivering her first order. Investigate the practical utility of this popular still, and drop a card to her in this city. She will take pleasure in explaining its merits.

"Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; Trial size by mail, 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment."

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

CARLTON.

The driers are both running, in full force.

The birds in our vicinity are becoming very scarce.

Quite a number of our people attended the carnival last week and thought it a great success.

Charles Harris of Elgin, Or., has moved to town for the purpose of running the meat shop.

Dr. E. B. Merchant of Manila has been enjoying several days hunting on his father's farm.

Mr. Waggoner will preach at the Christian church Sunday, Oct. 13. All are invited to attend.

Miss Effie Smith left for Portland Wednesday last week, where she intends staying about a year.

Our school commenced Monday with Prof. Kingery as principal and Miss Pagenkopf as primary teacher.

Mrs. W. R. Johnson and daughters, Lulu and Willie, have moved to town. The girls are attending school.

After a long illness Mrs. Sam McCune answered death's call on Saturday, Oct. 5th. Remains were buried in the North Yamhill cemetery on Monday. Deceased leaves a husband and two children to mourn her loss.

Quite a number of our young folks, including Misses Ida Smith, Dottie York, Anna and Minta McCutcheon, and Messrs. Harry Fryer, Thomas Merchant, and George McCutcheon, are away attending school. We wish the young folks all success and hope they will prove a credit to the schools they attend.

LAFAYETTE.

Another wedding today.

We have a new barber in town.

Mr. J. M. Belcher is improving slowly. W. I. Westerfield of Grass Valley is visiting his brothers.

Miss Josie Crichtons of Tualatin is a guest of Mrs. Andrews.

Mr. Robertson of Tillamook Co., has moved to town for the winter.

Mr. Edwards has rented the seminary building and has moved his family there.

Mrs. Rudder of South Bend, Wash., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Maggie Bryan.

Al Billington has purchased the property owned by Mrs. Metzger on the hill and is repairing it to move in.

O. P. Corporon and family started for Burley, Wash., on Wednesday, where they expect to make their home.

Prof. Crittenden started for Clackamas county on Saturday, where he expects to teach school this winter.

Mrs. Carr suffered from a stroke of paralysis last week. We are glad to hear that she is much improved at present.

Prof. Harry Blough has been secured as teacher of the school in district No. 8. He commenced his work on last Monday.

Rev. Buche, the new M. E. minister sent here by the last conference, preached on last Sunday, and is preparing to move his family here during the week.

The missionary society of the Evangelical church will meet at the home of the pastor, Rev. C. T. Hurd, on next Friday evening. All are invited to attend.

Secretary Cortelyou says that the president's name is pronounced Rosyvelt. Perhaps it should be, but usually it isn't. Most people say Roosevelt, and it is going to be a hard matter to break them of the habit. We have heard it pronounced Roosevelt in McMinnville.

ATTENTION

To physical warnings will often prevent a serious illness. When there are oppressive fullness after eating, bitter risings, belching, headache, dizziness, nervousness, with physical and mental sluggishness, prompt attention should be given to the condition of the digestive and nutritive systems. Not all these symptoms will occur at once or in any single case, but any one of them indicates a disordered condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

A prompt cure of these conditions will be effected by the timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It heals diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, perfectly and permanently. Many diseases, seemingly remote from the stomach, have their origin in a diseased condition of the organs of digestion and nutrition. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures through the stomach diseases which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach, and hence diseases of liver, lungs, heart and other organs are cured by use of the "Discovery." It contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, or other narcotic. It is a true temperance medicine.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing else "just as good."

"I was a total wreck—could not sleep or eat," writes Mr. J. O. Beers, of Berryman, Crawford Co., Mo. "For two years I tried medicine from doctors but received very little benefit. I lost flesh and strength, was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep, and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation by curing the cause. They do not beget the pill habit.
