The carnival is over, but the evidences that justify the assertion "Yamhill against the world," are still extant. Mrs. Frank Stout sent to this office with her compliments, October 7th, several stems with ripe raspberries upon them. Who wouldn't live in the Willamette valley?
A painful accident happened to Mrs. E. Ruffner at Miller's hop yard on Wednesday morning of last week. While building a fire, a spark ignited some hop sacks stretched above the stove, and Mrs. Ruffner grabbed them to extinguish the blaze. Her hands were severely burned, so much so that the ends of some of the fingers seem without feeling, and may be lost to their owner. The fire was put out after burning a hole through the tent. Mr. Ruffner had gone for a bucket of water at the time of the fire.
The time seems ripe for this city to make a decisive move for a fruit cannery. Some of our most responsible local parties are interesting themselves, and will shoulder most of the load, if a small bonus can be obtained from the citizens. We should have this enterprise, beyond a doubt. McMinville is fast becoming a prosperous city, and this is another golden opportunity for her. Don't let it slip! We will say more of this proposition later.

Of all the products used in the kitchen, flavoring extracts that are pure and strong are hardest to get. Try our extract of vanilla. It is absolutely pure, made from the highest grade of Mexican vanilla bean. There is one danger in its use: do not use more than one-half as much as of other kinds; if you do you will spoil your pastry. It is double the strength of other kinds. The same rule applies to our lemon extract. We only make two kinds, lemon and vanilla.

Carnival Aftermath.
George Owens exhibited seventeen varieties of apples grown on trees older than he is. The trees were planted by his father over 40 years ago, and are producing nice clean fruit without spraying. George's secret is that he allows the hogs to run in the orchard, and they clean out all the pests. He has proved this by comparing the orchard with outside trees, where the hogs did not run.
Did you observe how splendidly the home band performed its part? On hand whenever needed and putting in a full day. Being a member of a band is nearly always money out of pocket, besides being a sort of curtailment of one's freedom on a public occasion. The writer has been there, and knows whereof he speaks. When these facts are remembered and appreciated our band boys will receive their deserved measure of credit. Their music more than any other one thing, unless it be the weather, contributed to the enjoyment of the carnival.
The ladies' riding contest occurred on Friday on the vacant square south of the Atlas mills. There were four contestants, namely, Miss Lillie Cockerham, Miss Lizzie Kellar, Miss Cora Bowles and Mrs. Katie Potter. Great interest was shown in the race and all rode well. Miss Cockerham won first prize of $5 and Mrs. Potter the second of $2.50. The former secured all the rings but one, and would probably have had that if the cheer from the crowd had not frightened her horse. The judges were J. N. Hart and T. J. Graves of Polk county, and Dr. McNeill of Portland.
The floral exhibit was particularly beautiful. About half the display was exhibited by Mrs. S. H. Maris, who delights in flowers and plants, and has them to sell. She suggests that hereafter it will be more satisfactory not to mix exhibits. People can then know whose they are, and can know better where the awards are placed. The opposite suggestion is urged by the ladies in charge of the fancy needle work. In that department they claim that a better appearance could be made if exhibitors were less finicky about scattering their entries according to color. Thus do we gain ideas of benefit.
The floral committee wish to thank all the ladies who so kindly brought flowers to help decorate the floral booth. Mrs. Maris won the prize for the best assortment of potted plants, which was a necktie presented by Mr. Hamblin. Mrs. Herkosky received the package of calling cards presented by the Telephone-Register for finest assorted cut flowers. Mrs. John Hopfield had a fine assortment also. She is known the country over for her cultivation of flowers. It would take too much space to give all the names of persons who brought flowers. They were all beautiful and greatly appreciated.
Three races were run Saturday afternoon. The first was a potato race, first prize, $1, was won by Cleve Barch, second, 50 cents, by Harvey Willis. The boys' race was won by Levi Arthur, first, $1; Walter Potter, second, 50 cents, and Lyle Hendricks, third, 25 cents. The young men's race was won by Harry Jones, first, $2; S. L. Jones, second, $1. Then followed the apple eating contest. A wire was stretched across the street and from it were suspended on cords nine apples, tied to the stem. The contestants were Royal Varney, Claude Brower, Robert Foster, Babe Seibert, Floyd Kauffman, Ephraim Ford, Fred Young, Chester Gaunt and Earl Hirschberg. For a long time no incision of the teeth could be made. Then Brower and Foster located their apples on each other's shoulders and the apples began to disappear. They finally dropped to the ground. Brower's first. He picked it up with his teeth, carried it to a hydrant, turned same with his foot, washed the apple and devoured it, all in about eight minutes, and won the money. Foster was a close second, and Varney third. First prize 50 cents, second 25 cents, the other boys getting 10 cents each. The feature furnished much amusement.
Saturday's improvised program under the tent proved a great success. It opened with a piano solo by Miss Jessie Gortner. An address on "The Realm of Good Queen Bess" by President Boardman followed. He spoke with great felicity and force of the beauties of our hills and valleys, the sweet, simple and modest rural delight, and the peerless color and form, showing true poetic appreciation of our climate and scenery. His laudation of our fruits, cereals, timber wealth, coal, oil and gas, our intellectual, moral and social supremacy, our pioneers and soldiers, called forth repeated applause. Such environment, he said, will produce citizens to meet the coming problems. He predicted that if the queen lives out her natural lifetime she will witness in the next fifty years progress incomparable to that of the last fifty in this realm. Miss Mollie Patty sang a beautiful solo and was called

She is known the country over for her cultivation of flowers. It would take too much space to give all the names of persons who brought flowers. They were all beautiful and greatly appreciated.
Three races were run Saturday afternoon. The first was a potato race, first prize, $1, was won by Cleve Barch, second, 50 cents, by Harvey Willis. The boys' race was won by Levi Arthur, first, $1; Walter Potter, second, 50 cents, and Lyle Hendricks, third, 25 cents. The young men's race was won by Harry Jones, first, $2; S. L. Jones, second, $1. Then followed the apple eating contest. A wire was stretched across the street and from it were suspended on cords nine apples, tied to the stem. The contestants were Royal Varney, Claude Brower, Robert Foster, Babe Seibert, Floyd Kauffman, Ephraim Ford, Fred Young, Chester Gaunt and Earl Hirschberg. For a long time no incision of the teeth could be made. Then Brower and Foster located their apples on each other's shoulders and the apples began to disappear. They finally dropped to the ground. Brower's first. He picked it up with his teeth, carried it to a hydrant, turned same with his foot, washed the apple and devoured it, all in about eight minutes, and won the money. Foster was a close second, and Varney third. First prize 50 cents, second 25 cents, the other boys getting 10 cents each. The feature furnished much amusement.
Saturday's improvised program under the tent proved a great success. It opened with a piano solo by Miss Jessie Gortner. An address on "The Realm of Good Queen Bess" by President Boardman followed. He spoke with great felicity and force of the beauties of our hills and valleys, the sweet, simple and modest rural delight, and the peerless color and form, showing true poetic appreciation of our climate and scenery. His laudation of our fruits, cereals, timber wealth, coal, oil and gas, our intellectual, moral and social supremacy, our pioneers and soldiers, called forth repeated applause. Such environment, he said, will produce citizens to meet the coming problems. He predicted that if the queen lives out her natural lifetime she will witness in the next fifty years progress incomparable to that of the last fifty in this realm. Miss Mollie Patty sang a beautiful solo and was called

It will repay someone who cares to see a big crop of prunes to take a drive out to one of Mr. Churchill's large orchards north of town. The trees are yielding more than three boxes each, and with his present drying capacity he is taking care of an immense amount of fruit. He is already planning for putting up a much larger plant next season.
The public school opened Monday morning with an attendance of 205, and has been filling rapidly during the week. Many of the pupils in the upper grades are still out helping with the prune crop. The teaching force continues the same as last year, and notwithstanding the trouble incident to a change of books, everything was arranged and the pupils cheerfully began their year's work.
The final decision in the inter-state oratorical contest has been made and the result is in favor of Haenerbach, the orator of Whitman College. Prof. Flaherty of California, the deciding judge, gave Haenerbach first place in composition with a percentage of 90, and Minchin of Pacific college second place with a percentage of 88, the difference of two per cent deciding the contest.—Newberg Graphic.

Kitchen Drugs.
Of all the products used in the kitchen, flavoring extracts that are pure and strong are hardest to get. Try our extract of vanilla. It is absolutely pure, made from the highest grade of Mexican vanilla bean. There is one danger in its use: do not use more than one-half as much as of other kinds; if you do you will spoil your pastry. It is double the strength of other kinds. The same rule applies to our lemon extract. We only make two kinds, lemon and vanilla.
Other articles for the kitchen: cream of tartar, soda, turmeric, mustard seed, mustard, celery seed and pure olive oil in any quantities of unquestionable purity.
Let us remind you the safe place to get drugs is at a drug store.
