COLONEL R. C. JUDSON.

Devotes Himself to Developing Agricultural Resources of Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

The latest good work started by Colonel R. C. Judson, of Portland, is the holding of exchange fairs at central business points at frequent intervals. Farmers and stockmen attend these fairs and display their farm products, also cattle, horses and sheep, in the streets for a day or two. Sales are then made to local merchants. They in turn are patronized freely. Business moves briskly. Ideas are exchanged. The women folks enjoy shopping and a brief rest. Land sales are also made. Settlers are attracted by the newspaper publicity. Colonel Judson's efforts are always original, attractive and substantial. He believes in amity rather than animosity, a principle that makes friends and business for his railroad, the O. R. & N.

The practical experiments conducted by Mr. Judson on the O. R. & N. Walla Walla farm, his broad views in encouraging diversified farming, and work of organizing farmer's institute meetings, have made him a familiar figure to all the progressive industrial workers of the United States. The United States agricultural department has been attracted by his work and used his methods as object lessons in encouraging the same kind of work in other states.

PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

Sets Apart Thursday, November 28, as a Day of National Thanksgiving.

Washington, Nov. 2.—President Roosevelt today issued his proclamation fixing Thursday, November 28, as a day of national thanksgiving. It reads:

"A Proclamation. The season is high when, according to the time-hallowed custom of our people, the president appoints a day as the special occasion for praise and thanksgiving to God.

"This Thanksgiving finds the people still bowed with sorrow for the death of a great and good president. We mourn for President McKinley because we loved and honored him, and the manner of his death should awaken in the breasts of our people a keen anxiety and a resolute purpose not to be driven by any calamity from the path of strong, orderly, popular liberty, which, as a nation, we have thus far safely trod.

"Yet, in spite of this great disaster, it is nevertheless true that no people on earth have such abundant cause for thanksgiving as we have. The past year, in particular, has been one of peace and plenty. We have prospered in things material, and have been able to work for our own uplifting in things intellectual and spiritual. Let us remember that, as much has been given us, much will be expected from us; and that true homage comes from the heart as well as from the lips and shows itself in deeds. We can best prove our thankfulness to the Almighty by the way in which, on this earth, and at this time, each of us does his duty to his fellow men.

"Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving, Thursday, the 28th of this present November, and do recommend that throughout the land the people cease from their wonted occupations and at their several homes and places of worship thank the giver of all good for the countless blessings of our national life.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the City of Washington, this 2d day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and twenty-sixth.

(Seal)

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"JOHN HAY, Secretary of State."

ABUSED LATE PRESIDENT.

Naval Electrician Sentenced to One Year's Imprisonment.

Washington, Nov. 6.—"To be confined one year in such place as the secretary of war may direct, to do extra police duty during that time, to lose all pay except $2 per month for prison expenses, and the further sum of $20 to be paid to him at the expiration of this confinement and to be dishonorably discharged from the service of the United States," is the sentence imposed by court martial upon John S. Stoll, a third class electrician of the receiving ship Columbia, lying at the New York navy yard, for foul abuse of the late President McKinley.

On the day of the late president's death, Stoll, in the company of a number of sailors, is charged with having declared, with an obscene oath, that the president should have been shot long ago and have added other foul and profane expressions of same tenor. He was arrested promptly and tried by court martial, with the result above announced, on two charges—first, conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline; second, scandalous conduct, tending to the destruction of good morals. Stoll made a vehement plea of innocence, declaring that his language referred to the president's assassin, but the evidence of the bystanders and the language itself was regarded by the court as completely establishing his guilt. He will be confined in the prison ship at Norfolk.

WARNING TO ENGLAND.

South African War May Necessitate a Higher Rate of Taxation.

London, Nov. 6.—What is regarded as an important announcement preparing the people of Great Britain for new taxes and fresh loans was made tonight by the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, in a speech at Bristol. After alluding to the enormous increase in the ordinary expenditures of the government, he reviewed the war taxes, and said that the ever increasing demand of the national exchequer gave reasons for careful thought, and even anxiety, for the future. "The cost of the war in South Africa is enormous," said Sir Michael. "It still drags, that I may have to ask the people of this country to bear even greater burdens, and to make even greater sacrifices."

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach announced that the government was communicating with the authorities in South Africa with a view to a change in the situation of the concentration camps and to an amelioration of their conditions.

John Morley, M. P., speaking today at Forfar, Scotland, asserted that the ordinary annual expenditures of the British government had increased £26,000,000 during the past 10 years, or, including the suspension of the sinking fund, £32,000,000. He directed attention to the fact that there was a real danger ahead of the country.

SUBIG BAY NAVAL STATION.

According to the Plans of the Naval Board It Will Cost Over $19,000,000.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The majority report of the naval board, headed by Rear Admiral Taylor, which has prepared plans for the proposed new naval station at Olongapo, P. I., shows that the station will cost this government $19,359,500, exclusive of defensive works, signal station, water supply, coal station, magazines, hospital, encampment grounds and a native village under the control of the naval authorities, which it is proposed to provide for the workmen who will be employed regularly at the Olongapo dockyard. The board recommends that in addition to the four prominent points selected for the defensive works by Admiral Remy's board—Silanguan Island, at the entrance of Port Silanguan; the point on the west side of the entrance to Subig bay; Grandee Island, at the mid entrance, and Port Hlan, on the east side of Subig bay entrance—another fort be located to protect the landing in Calaguaguin bay on the west coast of Zambales province, and that the mountain passes leading to the naval reservation on the north and east be fortified. The board's estimate for equipping the station for efficient work of repair and outfit of vessels, pending general development, is $12,903,500.

CALLED ON SECRETARY HAY.

Lord Pauncefote is Ready to Begin Work on the New Canal Treaty.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Lord Pauncefote, the British ambassador, called upon Secretary Hay today to announce formally to the secretary his return from a vacation in England and his readiness to undertake at once the conclusion of the new Hay-Pauncefote treaty. The interview lasted about half an hour. Many topics were touched upon besides the treaty, which was not given particular consideration today, the conversation on that point being rather preliminary to the beginning of the treaty drafting. Lord Pauncefote did not bring with him to the state department a copy of the proposed convention. In fact, this document does not exist as such, for, although the principal points of the treaty have been agreed upon between the two principals, they have yet to be transferred from protocols into a formal treaty. This work of transference will begin in about a week, according to the present expectation, and it is probable the new treaty will be in shape for submission to the senate immediately after that body convenes, next month.

FIRE UNDERGROUND.

Coal or Gas Believed to Be Burning Near the Town of Stevenson, Washington.

Stevenson, Wash., Nov. 6.—The residents of this place were thrown into great excitement this morning when J. T. Tatton and W. Udill reported that they had discovered a coal deposit on fire within a quarter of a mile of the town. The greater part of the population turned out to see what was the matter. A subterranean fire is burning in a crevice in the rocks with a sulphurous smell. So hot was the fire that it was difficult to make any headway at excavation. It is a wonder to the people here and is thought to be coal or gas on fire. In the near vicinity of the fire are small veins of coal running back from the Columbia river. Some years ago a coal prospector sunk a shaft some 50 feet, but abandoned it. Recently coal prospectors were operating in the neighborhood and declared there were excellent indications of coal and gas.
