Chicago Store.

A Sparkling Gem

Is the expression from many persons who have bought diamonds from us. We have yet to meet the first one dissatisfied with his purchase. We don't allow such persons to leave our store. We can't afford it. We strive to give service that leaves no ground for dissatisfaction. We know diamonds from the ground to our case, buy direct from the cutters, and give you the "middleman's" profit. If you want a diamond don't think you have to go to Portland for it. We keep a good assortment ranging in price from $5 to $150, and sell them for less money than the big city dealer, with his enormous expenses. We do diamond mounting and setting.

A Man's Protest.
We are going to eat at our house there's a common dish comes through the kitchen door: For me and all the girls is worth like they was machines—A-makin' "Dainty Dishes" from the fashion magazines. They give us dabs o' this an' that, with names we can't pronounce, With sprigs o' stuff around them all, just like a little boucne, A stock or two o' spinage takes the place o' "mess o' greens"—We're eatin' "Dainty Dishes" from the fashion magazines. The gro'ry bill's a-hummin' now—I tell you it's a sin; We got to buy the dainty stuff an' things to cook it in. I'm blamed if I'll call bean soup any "consum-may de beans!" But tis in the "Dainty Dishes" in the fashion magazines. I want a steak—I want it quick—I'm hungry as a horse—I want it with thick gravy—no new fangled kind o' sauce; An' listen kerf an' you'll know just what the ol' man means—I want no "Dainty Dishes" from the fashion magazines. —Baltimore American.

Oregon's Proud Record.
The Pan-American exposition granted to Oregon a grand total of 232 prizes. Of these 129 were medals and 103 were honorable mentions. A number of medals were lost, which causes a large list of honorable mentions. Yamhill county figures as follows:
Honorable mentions—Mrs. O. N. D., Lafayette, dent corn.
D. Boise, Dayton, timothy.
J. T. Smith, Amity, wheat.
A. M. Waddel, Whiteson, wheat and oats.
M. E. Hendrick, McMinnville, Charlotte peaches.
C. E. Hoskins, Springbrook, Willamette prunes in liquid.
Silver Medal—Thomas Prince & Sons, Dundee, evaporated prunes.
Bronze metal—Newberg Pressed Brick Co., Newberg, building brick and terra cotta.

The appropriation made by Oregon is believed to have been money well spent, and the state will see good results in increased population. This event will tide us over till 1905, when the Lewis & Clark exposition will prove the greatest contributor to Oregon's growth and development that the state has ever seen.

Called A New Pastor.
The Rev. J. Wood Stone, of Hanford, Calif., preached two sermons on Sunday at the Cumb. Presbyterian church, which were very acceptable to his audiences. Before his leaving the following day, the session extended him a call to serve the church as pastor, and the same was accepted. Mr. Stone secured the McKinney house on north E street as his place of residence, and the church parsonage is now for rent. He will remove to McMinnville during December, bringing his family, which consists of his wife, and two sons in their teens.

Death From Paralysis.
Mrs. Elizabeth F. Bond, while visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Hibbert, in Dayton, Ore., was stricken with paralysis last Friday, and death ensued within a few hours. Mrs. Bond was born in Daviess county, Ky., April 23d, 1840, and was married to L. C. Bond in Edwards county, Ills., in October, 1859. To them were born nine children, seven of whom are living—Leonard, of West Salem, Ills.; Mrs. E. M. Jennings, Grayville, Ill.; Mrs. W. T. Henderson, Browns, Ill; Milo, Mrs. A. C. Pace, and the Misses Hattie and Jessie Bond of this city. She also leaves a sister and two brothers to mourn her loss. She united with the Christian church in 1857, and had been a faithful Christian since that time. The funeral and burial were held at Dayton Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. L. Platt.

Jesse Henderson in Luck.
The fine A. B. Chase organ, which has stood as a premium for several months at the Grange store, for the largest return of coupons given in trade by local merchants, was secured by Jesse Henderson, who gathered up over 49,000 coupons. Jesse Rhodes, who made a hard race in the interest of the college, succeed in corraling all the balance, amounting to over 41,000.

Change in Business—Pay Up.

The cattle kings are endeavoring to prevent crowding of ranges by spreading the scare that beef will in time be so scarce and high that rich men only can afford to have it on their tables. There is no doubt that the ranges are becoming smaller, the number of head of cattle in consequence growing less, and consumers of beef increasing. It is also a deplorable fact that our farmers, looking ahead and plainly seeing, do not raise more cattle.

Advantages of River Transportation.

There is growing indignation locally among business circles as a result of the recent withdrawal of all steamboat traffic to this city. The reason given is low stage of water, but the alleged low stage is all below Dayton, to which landing boats still make regular trips. It is not understood that any obstacle intervenes between Dayton and McMinnville to the most tranquil navigation. It is well known that the government has expended thousands of dollars to make it possible for boats to traffic on this river as far as McMinnville. The fact that a few individuals have in their power to levy upon the people of this section just the tribute they see fit by destroying all competition in hauling, is a most lamentable one, and one that covers our faces with a sickly grin when we recall the self-gratulations and public glorifications over the completion of the locks last year, and the strong hopes that filled our breasts of attaining unto a condition of relief from exorbitant freight rates. There is one consolation left us. It cannot always last. Forbearance will cease to be a virtue. The reins of power are supposed to be in the hands of the people, if they will but use them. Already a proposition comes from one navigator that he will run an independent boat with a certain reasonable guarantee of patronage. Another thing remains to be done. The allied steamboat interests have all the wharf privileges, and a new wharf will have to be constructed to accommodate an independent boat.

Freight rates have already gone up. Merchandise that formerly came at the flat rate of 10c per 100 pounds is now from 12c to 19c. One merchant paid $1.50 more freight on Tuesday on a little bill of goods than would have been required under the old boat schedule. Another local dealer estimates that at present rates, if they go no higher, the increase in his yearly freight charges will reach $150. What will be done about it? The situation emphasizes a long existing need of some organized effort to promote the commercial and material interests of the town. Let the old board of trade be revived, or a new one called into life. Outside cooperation is always more surely attracted to a town that gives encouragement through organized effort. We can at least demonstrate whether we are hopelessly in the hands of a trust.

Christian Church.

PLATT, Pastor.

There is Hope For Newberg.
The trustees of Dallas College have said that football must be ruled out. Dallas College be praised! She is in the vanguard. A few years hence she can look back and say: "I started this reform in athletics in Oregon educational institutions."—Reporter.

The above effusion would carry more weight if it were not for the fact that it is seriously suspected that Dallas College is suffering more from that common malady known as "cold feet," than from a burning altruistic longing to reform Oregon athletics.—Newberg Graphic.

While Dallas College takes care of the cold feet, we rise to remark that the Graphic has made a very unexpected admission that there could be anything altruistic in a desire to reform football.
