Independent Order of Lyons Organized.

The establishment of a lodge of the Independent Order of Lyons in McMinnville is now an established fact. Like all new organizations, this one, too, has come in for its share of suspicion and initial struggles. But its essential features are such that it is bound to meet with recognition and success.

Its beneficiary plan is wise and equitable and cannot fail to meet the approval of anyone seeking protection from accident, disability, old age and death, and the fact that it is an Oregon institution ought to be in its favor rather than against it, as its founders are well known men throughout the state.

Following are the officers elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Elva Neal; Vice-President, Jesse T. Taylor; Past President, R. Nelson; Chaplain, W. L. Hembree; Secretary, Mrs. Jennie Irvine; Treasurer, John A. Newell; Sergeant-at-Arms, R. H. Wiscarver; Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, Mrs. Lillie Walker; Door-keeper, John McCullough; Sentinel, Douglas Taylor; Trustees, Ira O. Alderman, Henry Grinnold, John Newell.

Mr. Gortner, local representative of the Kingston, is informed that stock has advanced to 12 1/2 cents a share.

Willis Hall, aged 74 years, died at the residence of J. W. Carse north of this city Monday night, and was buried on Tuesday in the potter's field. Death was the result of being thrown from a wagon the previous Thursday at the Panther creek bridge, at which time a leg was broken, and internal injuries received. The only relative in the country was S. P. Aylsworth of Pine City, Wash., who arrived a few hours before death.

Under date of Nov. 30th, F. W. Newell writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Newell, from Tanana, Alaska, where he is still in the employ of the government, building telegraph lines. They went up over the river by dog team 160 miles averaging about 17 miles per day. The weather has not been very cold there this winter—only 22 degrees below, with ten inches of snow. The line from Rampart to Nome is about completed. He says it is quiet in the mining line, being a little excitement at Rampart about some diggings near there on the Tanana river.

The Carl Berch Co. has played to fair houses in this city each night this week. They are among the very best players that ever visited this city, and all have strong voices. The plays given were "A Gambler's Wife," "A Bitter Atonement," "My Uncle John" and "Don Caesar de Bezan." Miss Mabel Wierne is a lady of splendid appearance, and as capable as she is handsome, while Frank Readick and Carl Berch are fine looking men and superb actors. The whole company throws force into their work, and give it a strong appearance of reality. Their engagement closes with tonight. They go to Seattle next week, and Portland the week following.

Just now the hottest protective tariff men are those who raise sugar in Louisiana. They can see the point when an industry of their own is threatened by foreign competition.

Senator Tillman admits that the democratic party has no platform except to oppose republicanism. Republicans are satisfied with choice of position.

The woman reformer who found that cigarettes are adulterated made an interesting discovery. The general impression has been that they are an unadulterated nuisance.

THE SHIN WARRIERS.

The fat club room owner leaned up against the shelf and said: "The Shin Warriors are now in session. Come in and jine us, brother."

"No," said the baldheaded minister, "there is a little too much profanity recorded in the proceedings. I will not." "Joe swizzled aint swearin'," said the judge.

"Well, but what does the old blue cat say?" replied the minister.

"Amfino," said the judge. It was then a closed incident with the minister.

"A man that would talk to an old brother like that," said the grocer with a gray mustache, "needs a reprimand." "I was just telling what the cat said," retorted the judge.

"Quit your quarreling and talk politics," said Grand Master Smoothy.

"They'd be sure to quarrel then," said the old speculator with chin whiskers.

"No they wont," said the cynic, looking over toward the red-headed ex-sheriff. "The desire for office makes gentlemen of us all."

"Until after the conventions meet," suggested the slender attorney with a fuzzy face, "then they will call each other pet names."

"For revenue only," said the shepherd boy.

Return Engagement of the Popu- lar Company.

The Queen of Hayti, the big colored organization which comes to the opera house Wednesday, Jan. 22, is a musical comedy, and not a minstrel production. The piece is different in every respect from any colored company that has ever visited the west. Unlike most musical comedies, it has a plot sufficiently intricate to admit of many surprises.

The action of the piece takes place in the Isle of Hayti and is founded on historical facts during the war with the French in 1854 and during the Spanish invasion.

Henriette, "Queen of Hayti," with the assistance of Gen. Toussant La Overture, Napoleon Bonaparte, a stranded Hebrew and a tramp are the principal characters. The artistic work of Frank Kirk, as Tod Hunter the tramp, and Harry Gillam as Blotsky the stranded Hebrew, is said to be the cleverest character work ever done by colored artists. Around these two characters center the comedy of the piece. Every opportunity is afforded by the various situations for the introduction of clever specialties in a legitimate manner. The piece abounds with catchy music, tuneful choruses and novel drills. The scenery is all special, and the costumes are within keeping of the time, 1854, giving the effect of the times of Napoleon.

Installation and Reunion

One more link has been added to the chain of remembrance for Custer Post and Relief Corps. It being the one day of the year that they endeavor to make brighter by spending it together.

At 10:30 a. m. the officers of the W. R. C. were installed by Past Department President, Mrs. Ungerman: Pres. Mrs. Jane Keene; S. V. P. Sarah Hopfield J. V. P. Mrs. Sadie Wess; Sec. Mrs. J. P. Irvine. Chaplain Mrs. Maloney; Conductor, Mrs. Ella Booth; Guard, Mrs. Annie Heath. Then Past Department Commander, J. C. Cooper, installed the officers of Custer Post as follows:

A. C. White, P. C.; R. P. Bird S. V. C.; A. A. Duboise, J. V. C.; H. B. Butcher, Q. M.; J. C. Cooper, Adj.; H. S. Maloney, S. M.; J. M. Agee, surgeon; H. P. Webster, Chop.; J. A. Peckham, O. D.; G. W. Keen, O. G.

After installation all repaired to the banquet room where a chicken dinner was in waiting. Toast Mistress, Mrs. Ungerman, called for the following toasts: "The sociability between Post and Corps," was responded to by Comrade Cooper. "The loyalty of old Yamhill" by J. P. Irvine. These numbers were rendered in the social hall, music, Cecil Peckham, sermon, Comrade Cooper, Solo Miss Bird, who responded to an encore, Recitation, Miss Neal, Solo Ethel Ford, Mrs. J. P. Irvine, in behalf of W. R. C. presented Mrs. Neal the retiring president, with a gold recognition pin which she responded to in a few well chosen words.

A. P. Oliver, Secretary

Bank of Newberg, Depository

We have received word that our machine and outfit was shipped on the 13th. The delay was caused by rush of business with manufacturers. The O. R. & N. and S. P. R. R. people have promised to make a rush job in bringing stuff out. There are two cars including boiler, engine, machine, casing, etc. The total cost, including freight, is about $4,850 F. O. B. Newberg. Up in Whatcom, Wash., a week ago they struck oil. From Whatcom south through Washington and Oregon to the California line at least twelve companies are preparing to drill, and you can trace these companies from Whatcom south in a direct line. There is no connection whatever between these companies. Each has been promoted and work has been inaugurated independent of the other, but the prospect, the incentive for action, and the probability of success is in each case laid on the same foundation based on theory if you like, but a theory that has the support of the best geological knowledge. Geologists have always contended that the oil belt was continuous through California, Oregon and Washington. Until this strike at Whatcom no oil was ever found north of California. This find at Whatcom makes our work a practical enterprise. Theory is knocked into a cocked hat, as it were. It is certainly practical and not theoretical at Whatcom. While we have had perfect confidence that development work would prove the existence of oil, we think and believe that the discovery of oil at Whatcom clinches the matter. It endorses our claims, it proves that oil exists in the northwest, it wipes out that old question of distance. We now have oil north as well as south of us. We are betwixt and between, and if the court knows herself, and we think she does, we will strike oil. Every dollar you put into this stock will go to direct work of development. There is no liability beyond the amount you purchase and pay for. We need your help now and respectfully solicit same.

There are enough Chinese in the Philippines and enough Japanese in Hawaii now. In the latter islands especially the Japanese are now so numerous as to make their population lopsided in composition. The present policy of shutting out Chinese laborers altogether, and forbidding the importation of contract or coolie labor of all kinds, is right and safe, and should be maintained. However, viewing the situation from a different standpoint, Samuel Parker, once a "noble" of the late Hawaiian kingdom and Queen Lilioukalanani's "prime minister," is on his way to Washington to implore congress to permit the Hawaiian sugar planters to import more cheap Japanese contract labor. In view of the fact that the workmen of our Pacific northwest are already protesting against oriental competition of this kind, and of the further fact that the Hawaiian sugar planters are notoriously making good profits with the labor that they now have, Mr. Parker's mission should be, and is likely to be, entirely vain. To induce the native Hawaiians to work steadily doubtless is difficult. They are probably even more thriftless than the average Filipino, of whom the Taft commission reports that the first effect of doubling his wages is to cause him to work only half as many days. Thus, if we keep out the Chinese and keep an eye on the Japanese, American workmen have nothing to fear from oriental competition anywhere within our national domain. They need have no fear of the Filipino or the South Sea Islander, for these are hundreds of years behind them in habits of steady work.

A Good Recommendation.

"I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa. "What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are sure to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by Howarth & Co."

We Do the Business.

Careful compounding physicians' prescriptions from best, purest, highest standard of drugs has gained us the confidence of our many customers all over the county. We appreciate your patronage and will strive to merit your good will and trade. Our store is jammed full of new goods to meet our increasing demand, and you who have not bought your drugs of us come in and look at our store; not a fly speck or old, shelf-worn bottle in stock. Compare this with others and you will be our customer when you have a prescription to fill. Our prices mean to live and let live. PERRY DRUG CO.

A contemporary speaks of "the blundering legislation that has piled a surplus in the federal treasury." Republicans must confess that the surplus is larger than was expected, and it usually is when they are on deck.
