

The Daily Reporter.

D. C. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS,
McMinnville, Oregon, - Sept. 1, 1886

Hon. J. C. Braley is at Soda springs. Judge Hurley returned to Lafayette with his family on Saturday.

W. F. Collard left for Yaquina on a tour of observation last Monday.

On and after this date teachers will find Hon. J. A. C. Freund at his office in this city.

Our sanctum was honored on Tuesday by calls from Mrs. Jas. Turner and Mrs. John Wortman.

We acknowledge a call from Jesse Hobson last week, one of the enterprising builders of Newberg.

Wm. Campbell and Geo. W. Jones will represent our hook and ladder company at Salem on the 8th.

Elsie Wright threshed 40,016 bushels of grain in twenty-five days. Among this was 1,000 bushels of barley.

H. B. Derick and wife, of Crawfordsville, old friends of our city clothier C. P. Bishop, are here on a visit.

In the free for all match next week, Milton is entered. He is a noble old horse; and although 18 years of age, still has some style about him.

The Reporter force highly appreciate a magnificent watermelon from southern Oregon, presented to us by the liberal grocers Baxter & Martin.

The News notes a call from our Mr. E. L. E. White. When last heard from he was going in the direction of Puget sound, as happy as a clam at high tide.

Ladd & Reed's Broadmead stables will be represented at the fair next week by at least nine animals: Cleveland bays, Clydes, and cattle; all imported stock.

The fifth annual meeting of the firemen's association of Oregon and the accompanying state firemen's tournament will be held in Salem, commencing Wednesday, September 8th, and continuing three days. This city will be well represented by its firemen.

J. L. Hallett of Dilley, harvested 85 bushels of White winter wheat per acre for 22 acres. Mr. Hallett, writing to the Hillsboro Independent says: This field was sown the last of October, 1885, two bushels to the acre, of old white winter wheat. I kept it pastured down until about the middle of May.

Mrs. Nellie Curren, engaged in the Baptist missionary work at Portland, left here for her field of labor on Saturday.
