Our County Fair.

TUESDAY.

The ladies certainly are deserving of all praise for the display at the pavillion yesterday. It would be impossible to enumerate the articles in the brief space allotted to us, but we cannot ignore the untiring efforts of Mrs. Apperson, Mrs. Fellows, Mrs. Fuller, Miss Russ, Mrs. C. W. Talmage, Mrs. Gault, and others, to make a good display of the articles offered. It is fine, but when a resident of the county expects more, who has perhaps not contributed an article to aid the display, we feel like having "a little square talk" with them. This fair is a county fair, and to make it a success every man, woman and child should pull out for success. If we ever get a state fair here, that is the way to get it. But we will talk this matter over some other time. We hate to leave the pavilion. It is a cheerful place, after a tramp around the stables and among the pens of sheep, cattle, etc., in the broiling hot sun, which compelled us to take two double doses of nauseous quinine last night to keep off the malaria; so we will just step into the parlor furnished by Capt. E. B. Fellows and S. A. Manning & Co. Here we find music, good company, and a display of furniture better than any that was used to decorate the halls of the first pavilion at Portland. These gentlemen deserve many thanks for this display, and it puts them "way up" in the estimation of those who believe that nothing succeeds like success. But we must go on, so we file out into machinery hall, where empty counters is the predominating feature of conspicuousness. However, B. F. Fuller is here with the very useful article, a clothes horse to be attached to the ceiling of a room, an invention of his own; and a packing chest for campers, which serves as a pantry and a table in camp. It is a most excellent thing. The products of the farm have a very limited display. Richard Cook, and Mr. Graves are the most liberal exhibitors in this department.

MISCELLANEOUS.

C. D. Johnson and Mr. Force have a fine display of home made buggies, carriages, and hacks. There is no better vehicle in the state, and when a man buys of his home manufacturer he does so with a consciousness of the fact that he knows the men who made the vehicle; and if it does not turn out good can have it made good.

Little Miss Nellie Hembree is competing as a bread maker at the fair.

Mr. Terry's display of tools, all home made, is very creditable.

Four lonesome chickens adorn the poultry pens. The credit of sending them belongs to R. W. Phillips.

There is a scandal over at North Yamhill which is unfit for publication, but which should be reported to Prosecuting Attorney Bradshaw, by some responsible citizen attested. The newspaper is not the court in such cases.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the F. B. Smith patent Sprinkler and Novelty force pump. Captain J. P. Deshon, the general agent, has a compound that goes with it which he claims will do the work of six fire extinguishers, at a cost of one dollar.

The gate receipts up to last night amounted to $1,194.

AT THE STOCK PENS.

Solon Prince, the fine Holstein bull owned by C. A. Wallace, attracts much attention. He has also some other fine stock on exhibition, including a two-year-old heifer, very handsome, and a fine cow and calf.

L. K. Wallace exhibits two yearling heifers and a cow of the Holstein blood.

Elon Wallace exhibits a calf that is a fine animal.

George Gammie brings down from Broadmead farm several head of Short Horns, and Clydesdale horses.

L. H. Morgan has a Durham and Devonshire bull and a pair of trained work oxen.

In sheep we find four head of Cotswolds, the property of A. C. Davis and one Southdown belonging to Mr. Harbaugh. Also a fine lot of Southdown ewes belonging to W. C. Hembree. These eight ewes produced twenty-one lambs this year. One had four; three had 3 each; and four had two each.

THE RACES.

Yesterdays running race was won by Minnie D., owned by Perkins, best two in three; Empress, owned by Mills & Howe, took the second heat.

Three entered for the trotting match. Holton, owned by Porter; Cadet by Dr. Littlefield; and one by Hallett—a very pretty race, won by Holton.

To-days races are announced as follows: 1:30 p. m., three-fourths mile handicap; two-year-old trotting race, for Yamhill county colts; best 2 in 3. Novelty or saddle horse race, free for all; purse of $50. Ten per cent. entrance; five to enter.

Don't forget the Newberg fair.

Mens suits from $8 at C. Symons.

Boys suits from $5.50 at C. Symons.

For Blue Vitriol go to Geo. W. Burt's.

Boys chinchilla coat and vest from $9 at C. Symons.

B. E. Saunders is quite ill with a fever.

Fresh salmon at the markets goes off like hot cakes.

Children's ready made suits from $2.50 at C. Symons.

Mrs. Jacob Wortman has been very ill but is improving.

Mens chinchilla coat and vest from $12.00 at C. Symons.

A large stock of School books at Geo. W. Burt's at bottom prices.

If you want to smoke a good cigar, go to Geo. W. Burt's prescription drug store.

Shobes auction sale turned out first rate. Capt. E. B. Fellows bought the piano.

Those hats at half price at the millinery store of Miss F. E. Russ, have not all been disposed of. Call and make a selection, and while there look at the articles on the 10 cent counter.

See the new goods at Appersons. They have surely arrived. Yesterday we counted ten large cases to be opened in time for business this morning.

The Astorian says: Wm. Martin, of McMinnville, wants to run with somebody for $500 a side. He can be, probably, accommodated by some of the Astoria boys at Salem this week.

There will probably be no finer display on the fair grounds than can be seen at Detmering's show window. Energy will tell. Detmering is certainly opening one of the finest lines of goods ever displayed in McMinnville.

If this paper suits you for a bit a week we shall appreciate the favor of your subscription; we have no money to lose in the venture; if it pays its way another column will be added, and another; if not perhaps not. The quality is surely as fair as the rate.

Don't forget that Bishop & Kay have the largest assortment of mens, youths, and boys clothing in McMinnville, also over coats and furnishing goods of all kinds, and now is the time to buy your goods and they are agents of the Brownsville Woolen Mills the best goods made and sold for the least money. Remember the place opposite Yamhill Co. bank.
