

DAILY REPORTER.

VOL. 1.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1886.

NO. 6.

The Daily Reporter.

Entered in the Postoffice at McMinnville for Transmission Through the Mails as Second Class Matter.

D. C. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS,

McMinnville, Or. - Sept. 10, 1886

The daily Reporter will be the means of improving the weekly Reporter fully half. Make a note of this.

Subscribe for the Reporter, and pay for it when you subscribe, and we will pledge ourselves to give you more news, for less money, than any other paper in the Willamette valley. The Daily will help the weekly 100 per cent. See if it don't.

If this paper suits you for a bit a week we shall appreciate the favor of your subscription; we have no money to lose in the venture; if it pays its way another column will be added, and another; if not perhaps not. The quality is surely as fair as the rate.

At the Baptist church next Sunday a special sermon will be preached on "Probation after death," by the pastor, G. J. Burchett. The sermon will be preached at 11 o'clock a. m. All are cordially invited, especially those who are supposed not to believe in orthodoxy.

An agricultural exchange has an article on "the best hog." He evidently is not the kind of hog that takes the weekly newspaper every week out of the postoffice and reads it till he gets a bill for it and then refuses to take it out any more, and declines to pay for it and walks around with the printer's money in his pocket.

The local fair to begin at Newberg on the 23d is free for all. For several years the people in that part of that county have made a neighborhood exhibit that has been a great credit as well as a means progress. If such fairs could be held in all parts of Oregon they would do much to create honorable enterprise and emulation and add no little to the social advantages of our state.

Newport must be a lonesome place for Stinit. The hotels and restaurants have all closed up, except the Grotto; and the season is ended. Crickets only tenant Sleepy-hollow; Mr. Case is alone with his family and a few lodger's at the Ocean house; and Abbey hasn't got even a lone fisherman to play jack-pot with. Frank Stanton has gone to his ranch, and business of all kinds is about as it used to be in "The days of old, the days of gold, the days of '49."
