McMinnville, Or. Sept. 11, 1886

A New Daily.

D. C. Ireland & Co., of the McMinnville Reporter, have just commenced the publication of a daily. Volume 1, No. 1, of the Daily Reporter, bearing date of Wednesday, September 1st. It is a spruce-looking twelve-column sheet, and presents a very neat typographical appearance. Telegram.

It is a neatly printed 12-column folio, and will doubtless grow with the town. Albany Herald.

It is a neat, newsy and well gotten up, and we wish them the best of success. Yaquina Post.

D. C. Ireland & Co. are responsible for its issue. It is a "bijou" sheet. Vidette.

It is small but bright, and may grow to full size by age. We wish it success. Portland World.

It is a neat, newsy and well gotten up little sheet, and we wish them unbounded success. Albany Bulletin.

It is the spicy little adjunct to the Yamhill Reporter, and is chock full of news. Corvallis Gazette.

It is a bright, newsy little sheet and deserves a liberal support from the citizens of McMinnville. West Side.

It used to be that to be known as a republican or a democrat carried all there was in it with the name. Now it is asked to what faction of either party you belong? Prohibitionists stand today the only party not cursed with petty factions.

We are soon to have another 'Ostler Joe story. Victoria Schilling is missing from her coachee husband. People generally believe that she went with a young man who has been paying her marked attention for some time past. Her papa doesn't know where she is, all reports to the contrary.

The W. C. T. U. of McMinnville, have secured the services of Mrs. Mary B. Reese, of Ohio, for Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 11th, and 12th; services to be held in the M. E. church. Mrs. Reese has been engaged in public temperance work for the past sixteen years and is now acting as national organizer for the W. C. T. U. She will hold a mother's meeting Saturday at 7 p. m., to which all mothers are invited. A children's meeting on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock; and deliver a lecture in the evening commencing at the usual hour for service. The public are invited.
