

The Daily Reporter.

D. C. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS.

McMinnville, Or. - Sept. 21, 1886

Sidewalk lumber for sale at this office.

Mrs. E. X. Harding is expected home to-day.

A decline in coffee is noted. The corner wouldn't work.

The bee men are in session in this city to-day at Grange hall.

G. G. Bingham, in the city on legal business, goes to Lafayette to-day.

Choice uncolored and English breakfast tea 50 cents a lb. at the bakery.

Portland has a swarm of tramps from the sound. Thirty were lodged in jail Sunday.

Those hats at half the marked price at Miss Russ' millinery store are going off rapidly.

Old school books rebound and made good as new for half the price of new ones by J. C. Cooper.

The Oregonian says the silver drain is in consequence of Chinese workers on the NPR, Cascade branch.

Mrs. G. A. Wilcox has an elegant bogonia in its handsomest bloom, a gift from Mrs. Hattie Wilcox.

The OPR pass immigrants at the same rates charged by the OCR upon board of immigration certificate.

The Daily Reporter is a success. We expect to enlarge in a few days, at the same price. Only ten cents a week.

A four horse team from Chehalem, with eight persons, bag and baggage for the coast, passed through the city yesterday, driven by Mr. Brooks.

A fine lot of moulding for picture frames at E. B. Fellows'. Call and sample the lot. Any size pictures framed to order, neat, quick and cheap.

The attendance at the public schools yesterday was quite large for the opening day. Success will be assured with full co-operation on the part of the parents.

Grouse, deer, and other game seems to be abundant in this bailiwick, if are to judge from reports of hunters; but we do not see any of it in the markets, neither for love nor money.

Three prizes are to be shot for at Collard's gallery. One is a handsome Winchester rifle, 2d a box of cigars; 3d a silver dollar. Call and take a shot. Mr. Collard will give you all particulars.

The Narrow Gauge wins its suits against the O. R. N. Co. This will be apt to place the infant upon its feet again, as the decrees carry about a quarter of a million of money with them.

C. Symons has received the sad news of the death of his father, at Devonshire, England. He was buried Sept. 1st. Mr. Symons was expecting to go home in July on a visit, but was detained on account of business.

An inquirer asks how it is that the city council can and does award important contracts to its own members without announcement to the public and inviting bids? We are not sufficiently posted to answer the conundrum.

Ice can only be had in thousand pound lots at Portland, and then at 2½ cents per pound, which is equivalent to total exclusion from cities such as this. Never mind, next winter is going to be a regular blizzard, and all who live through it can put up a supply from nature's resources which will last them independent of the manufacturers another year. Portland will not be able to sell any ice here in 1887.

Wolverines nearly took the Oregon exhibit car at Jackson, Michigan. Jar fruit put up in salicylic acid and water will not stand these journeys by rail. The acid makes the fruit soft, and the constant movement of the train churns it into an indescribable mass. The green fruit sent in the car has stood the journey and the intense heat of the east and the super-heat of a crowded car pretty well. If a car is sent out another year, some other arrangement will have to be made for the transportation and exhibit of fruit.

It is suggested by some of the pioneer members of the old Union library of this city to donate the books of that institution to the proposed library of the McMinnville public schools. As Prof. Price is making an effort to secure a much needed library for the public schools, and has just received several volumes of the finest books for such purposes, it occurs to us that the suggestion is a good one. It would be necessary for the old association to get together and take action upon the subject, and these columns are open to propositions on the subject.

A Salem hotel is thus "noticed" in the Astorian tournament notes: "Oh, that hotel! Everthing cold but the water; everthing sour except the vinegar. And the beds!" "Albany was not represented at the tournament, though Albany firemen told the editor of the Astorian while on a visit in that city, that had the tournament been at Astoria they would gladly have come." We are sorry that our sister city of Salem does not enjoy a better reputation abroad, especially with the contemporary press of the state; but it was ever thus—at least for about eight years past.

The UPR will place tickets on sale Sept. 30, at Portland to Council bluffs, Omaha, Kansas city, and Topeka and return at $65 first class. Chicago and return, $81.50, and correspondingly low rates to all other points. Tickets good to return at any time within ninety days. These tickets will be first-class and entitle the holder to ride in Pullman cars upon payment of price of berth, which is $14 for a double berth to Omaha, Kansas city, Council bluffs, and $17 to Chicago.
