A young and responsible farmer living near here says that he "can buy a farm on time at $40 per acre and pay for it in raising wheat at the present price, if not he will make any one a present of the wheat." And still the papers complain at the farmer about the "diversity" business.

A piece of fir wood brought to Dr. Tuckers by R. G. Smith, upon being cut up into stove lengths revealed a deposit of three bullets, in good state of preservation. The growth of timber on the stick renders it certain that fully sixteen years have passed since the marksman placed them there; and he must have been a good shot, as two of the bullets were lodged one upon the other through the same spot.

Mr. T. Pettigrew died yesterday at the residence of C. D. Johnson, and his funeral will be attended to-day. He was one of the pioneers of this city. Years ago was engaged in merchandising here, and was an active citizen. His health has been feeble for many years past. He leaves no relatives here, but many kind friends who have known him for years will regret his demise.

Hon. W. J. McConnell, of Moscow, Idaho, yesterday arrived at North Yamhill. About ten days ago he was thrown from a horse, was cut badly about the head, and then the horse fell upon him, bruising him severely across the small of the back. Subscribe for the Reporter, and pay for it when you subscribe, and we will pledge ourselves to give you more news, for less money, than any other paper in the Willamette valley. The Daily will help the weekly 100 per cent. See if it don't.

If this paper suits you for a bit a week we shall appreciate the favor of your subscription; we have no money to lose in the venture; if it pays its way another column will be added, and another; if not perhaps not. The quality is surely as fair as the rate.

As much space in these columns as can be given consistently to such special purpose, will, in future, be devoted to the interests of religious and secular societies and associations, according as they in substantial ways reciprocate the interest taken in them by the Reporter.
