

THE DAILY REPORTER.

From the Daily Ssept. 30th.

This is the end of the first month of publication of THE DAILY REPORTER. To-morrow it will appear enlarged in size and otherwise improved. No advance in price. Nothing succeeds like success; give us your  everybody.

Grant Turner has been very sick, but is now past danger.

An observatory should be added to Cook's hotel. It's way up.

J. W. Henry has opened a fine new stable in Newberg. Give him a call.

J. Harvey Henderson will be successor to L. Root in the grocery trade.

Mr. Stowe is putting up a fine residence on First street, west of B street.

The new postal delivery service begins all throughout the United States to-day.

C. C. Booth is going to Yaquina; Miles Hendricks has been heard from at Colfax.

Detmering intends to have his show windows photographed. They are finely displayed.

Did you remark that Jupiter Pluvius was going to sprinkle our streets? If so, when?

A wagon wood worker is wanted at Lafayette. A fine opening for permanent business.

We are under obligations to Clerk Briedwell for favors, for which he will accept thanks.

C. H. Powell, of North Yamhill, will have an auction sale October 16th, at one o'clock p. m.

S. M. Kelty was found to be extremely busy, hence no opportunity to chat while at Lafayette yesterday.

Bishop Morris accompanied Mrs. Bushnell and Master Leonard eastward from Portland on Wednesday.

Mrs. Bedwell has returned to North Yamhill from a very pleasant visit at Eugene. She was present at the Lane county fair.

B. B. Branson, one of the leading and influential farmers of Polk, paid us a pleasant visit yesterday and subscribed for the Daily Reporter.

D. I. Corker says that the farmers can learn of something to their advantage by coming to his store at Lafayette. Look out for particulars.

Dr. H. V. V. Johnson has been under the weather the past few days, but is to-day himself again. Mrs. Johnson and Miss Belle expect to return to-day.

In the case of the state v. A. J. Baker, a fine of $300 was imposed. Jas. Bewley was acquitted of obstructing a highway. Uncle Shadden's case went to the jury last evening.

Forbid your child from drinking water at the public school pump. There is danger of the stinking waters there creating a pestilence. Fill up that well and dig a new one.

As soon as the roof is on Cook's hotel, O. O. Hodson will lite out for America. He is gathering a fine collection of Oregon products with which to astonish the Hoosiers. If you have any nice samples give them to him.

W. F. Collard has moved his residence to Third, between A and B streets, Mr. Cozine's house.

One who has used them pronounces the self-revolving churn dasher a fraud. Not so with the Missouri steam washer.

H. C. Mance's Japanese cleansing cream is the boss. A drop or two of it will take the spots out of your coat. Try it.

The white turnips sent to us by Wm. Roof are fine. We can relish such fodder as that raw, cooked, mashed or in bulk. Buy some.

In having preparations compounded did it ever occur to you that there is a great saving in calling upon Burt, the prescription druggist, Third street.

The Telephone's "B street Catastrophe" happen as well on C street, or D street, or E, F, G, H, I, J, Ist, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th, in fact anywhere in McMinnville, which hasn't got three blocks of decent streets within the corporate limits, for a fact.

W. F. Collard's business in this city is an evidence of what "business sense" leads a man to. He is obliged to leave his small store on C street to accommodate his patrons, and will open the new place with the finest range for target shooting in the state. Call and take a site at his latest.

Tennessee has begun a war of the roses. Alf. Taylor, the republican candidate for governor, wears a red rose as his emblem, and his brother and rival, Bob, a white one. The idea has spread over the whole state, and the two parties are now distinguished everywhere by the color of the roses. History repeats itself.

Albany has no stamped envelopes because of red tape and circumlocution on the part of the postal department at Washington, where the deide officials appear to arrogate to themselves the right of dogmatically deciding that they know better than the Albany postmaster what is wanted in Albany. Stamp eme out. Salem, Corvallis and other postoffices of the country are without stamped envelopes for the same reason.

Rev. Mr. Fair held service in the Gopher valley school house last Sunday. Attendance was good, two children were baptised. At his next service Oct. 17th, four more will be baptised. The settlement is largely composed of church people from England, and we understand that the prospects are favorable for the construction of a church edifice at no distant day. Mr. Evenden has just arrived with new settlers direct from England.

The Missouri steam washer, sold by Mr. Alex Sutton in this county, is just what it is recommended to be. Everybody who uses it indorses it. Dr. Linklater, of Hillsboro says: "Personally I observe that washing day seems very much shorter since I brought it to the house, and that it is not nearly such a formidable event as it used to be. My wife and girl seem to get through with it very much sooner and more easily." It is indorsed by Mrs. M. Baily of Willamina; Mrs. L. E. Hanna, Carlton; A. J. Killen and wife, North Yamhill; E. E. Brooks and John Rowell, Sholls ferry; Mrs. Mary A. Schmeltzer, Mountain side, and others. Mr. Sutton will be in the county some time; give him your order.

Circuit Court.

The following cases have been acted upon during the past week, and the general giest of business completed. Up to 1:30 p. m. Thursday, many of the jurymen had been excused, and the grand jury were ready with their report. Several new cases were spoken of on Thursday, but as their character was decidedly sensational, nothing definite could be obtained:

Albany has secured the car shops. Good again for that live burg.

Advertisers can take their choice, either daily or weekly, at the same old rate. No advance in the price. We've come to stay, if you say so.

H. S. Maloney, of Sheridan, a civil engineer of note, paid us a call to-day, and placed his name down for the Daily Reporter.

The Oklahoma boomers have gone to work on the railroad and will await and respect the decision of congress in their case. They always have been respectful, and oppressed by the government.

Joaquin Miller grows enthusiastic over the entrance at Siuslaw. It is a better point for commercial enterprises than either Newport or Astoria, in his estimation; still he doesn't pre-empt any land over there apparently.

C. P. Church. Services next Sunday, forenoon and evening. Subject for forenoon discourse: "An answer to the question, "Who will show us any good." Subject for evening discourse: "Gems of truth from the Poets, or poetic aid to Divine revelation." Sunday school 9:30 a. m. All are cordially invited to attend these services. T. H. Henderson, Pastor.

Had an Operation Performed.

Nearly all the hotel men in the city know a young man of about 19 years, called D. Kelly, and must also remember how cross-eyed he was. Those who know him, among whom is Mr. Lewiston, of the International hotel, used to think he could not possibly see with one of his eyes, as it looked right in to his nose. About a week since, however, he had an operation performed, which was quite a painless one, and which has left the eye, which was really very much crossed, so staight and well, that the other now shows that it was also a little off. Dr. Turner will in a few days attend to the other and will have both eyes perfectly straight. Young Kelly is al ready at work regularly. The doctor has rooms at the International hotel but will be in this city October 12th
