

The Daily Reporter.

D. G. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS,
McMinnville, Or. - Oct. 2, 1886

J. W. Townsend is moving to Sheridan.

R. Cutter of Gaston has fine grapes this year.

Chas. Casteel has moved into the city from Bellevue.

Bouty Sanders may now be considered past the critical point.

A foot race at the track yesterday attracted a crowd of sporting men.

Mr. Tate of Pennsylvania, a brother of Mrs. Hindman, is on a visit here.

Uncle Tom Shadden's case, called in the matter of the harvester, was dismissed.

Wm. H. Warren is now purser on the steamer City of Salem running the Dayton and Portland route.

John Sax, Sr., was in the city this week. His health is not robust. He stays on his farm this side of Portland most of the time.

Miss Fannie Musgrove was called home yesterday from her post in this office in consequence of sickness of her mother.

C. P. Bishop was let off from the jury at Lafayette yesterday, and streaked it home without waiting for a team car or carriage.

L. Bettman has just opened a fine line of new dress goods and gents furnishing goods. It will pay you to call and inspect this stock.

Our friend Capt. E. J. Lanning, of the Crown mills, has growing in his Albany garden, Peruvian pumpkins which weigh one hundred pounds.

The Victor safe which we offer is not strictly a burglar-safe. A burglar-safe is all very well in its place, but a safe burglars place is in the penitentiary.

The Indian Veterans were in the city yesterday in large numbers. We acknowledge calls from several, including Hon. R. R. Laughlin of North Yamhill.

J. W. McBee and family, of Springfield, and Mrs. E. H. Piper, of Salem, sisters to Mrs. Frank Harding, of this city, go to Willamina to-day on a visit to their mother Mrs. Grubbs.

Billy Martin would very soon be a richer man than Vanderbilt if he could keep up his lick and find moths to flicker around his attraction. Yesterday he took in $300 in seven seconds, beating Odell 75 yards at the race track on foot.

Apperson has hit upon the finest racket for his customers. Every purchaser of a box of Baking powder gets a ticket calling for a prize, from a White sewing machine down to a glass sauce dish. It is genuine powder and no fraud as to prizes.

The Daily Reporter, in its enlarged form, took well yesterday. Improvement is our motto. The Oregonian says of this paper: "The Yamhill Daily Reporter is small, but it is the brightest and newsiest of all the valley papers. In all but size it equals the Astorian, which has long borne off the palm as the best daily in the state outside of Portland, and, by the way, Editor Ireland of the Reporter used to be Editor Ireland of the Astorian."

Summer fallow sowing is sprouting fine in all moist places.

The gentle breezes softly sigh among the trees; promising rain.

Mr. Sawyers' new house begins to present a very nice appearance.

Desirable town property for sale cheap. Inquire of E. Russ.

That was a good joke on us at Apperson's yesterday; but didn't we goblet? Ask David Wallace.

Jesse Clark is messenger for Uncle Sam at the post-office in this city, and carrier for the Daily Reporter.

The state school of spiritual education in Oregon will hold its anniversary meeting at Salem October 28th. It will be an interesting session.

Pacquet is building another steamer at east Portland for the OPRCo. She is to draw 16 inches of water when light. The company also intend ordering another when this one is done, and also a tug boat for the Yaquina bar. They need a tug there to take the place of the thing called a tug, now employed at the bay. Really we do not believe the Favorite could pull a setting hen off her nest. It is the nearest a deliberate and injurious stratagem of anything afloat on Oregon waters; Theresa May excepted.

Funeral Notice.

Geo. Bangasser Sr., breathed his last at 3:40 p. m. yesterday. The funeral will take place at St. James (Catholic) church at 10 a. m. to-morrow, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

Mr. Bangasser was an 1852 pioneer of Oregon. He has always been an active business man here and at Portland, highly esteemed by all who knew him, and it may be truthfully said in his case that none but the kindest remembrances of him will survive in the minds of people generally. He leaves four daughters and two sons, all grown persons.
