CORRESPONDENCE.

TIME TO SETTLE.

Editor Reporter:

Some of us outsiders who lately invested capital to make our late county fair a success, wish to know how much longer we are to wait for that pro rata rebate? Please inform a

NOT A BATCHELOR.

Editor Reporter:

Your item with reference to the aplosproaching marriage of Secretary Lamar leaves the impression that he is a batchelor. This is a mistake. His first love will become his second wife. SARA JANE.

WILLAMETTE BRIDGES.

th Editor Reporter:

When writing about bridges across the Willamette you seem to forget the OCR Harrisburg bridge. I helped to build it; hence Albany and Salem one each, and Portland one, will make Albina the fifth. CARPENTER.

GOPHER VALLEY.

The school in this valley is again flourishing under Miss Katie Casey's able management.

Phillip Evenden has started for Canada. All wish him God speed, and a good time when he gets there.

Wheat hauling is about through. In this valley the grain is of good (All quality and heavy. Now we want McMINNVILLE, - - - good prices.

Miss Eborall has very successfully started a Sunday school, which deserves all the encouragement parents and children in the valley can give.

September 25th Rev. J. C. Fair gave a very interesting and impressive sery vice in the school house to a large congregation. John Evenden's two little sons were baptised. The sponsors were Miss Eborall, Miss Cawston, Edward and Walter Evenden, Sidney Cawston and George Agee.

LALLAH ROOKE.

NORTH YAMILL.

C. C. Tallman is moving into Barnekoff's house in North Yambill.

Mr. King Fisher was in town yester day looking for J. L. Castle's meat market, which sometimes savors of fish.

N. H. Perkins and wife have returned from a trip east of the mountains. They as usual look hale and hearty.

Would it not be well for the citizens to repair the sidewalks by driving down the nails and replacing broken boards with new ones.

G. W. Sappington is moving his stock of goods into his new store which is a neat and convenient apartment. Overhead is the Odd Fellows' hall.

Frank Houswirth is building a neat school house on his premises for the use of a select school, which is to be taught by Prof. Williamson, who I understand is worthy of the position.

Alex Powell has sold his farm to William Laughlin for $5,000, and intends to move east of the mountains. May fortune follow himself and family. We will miss their genial and pleasant face, enterprise and thrift from among us.

Rev. H. C. Morgan has returned from Sacramento. He looks as of old. He came home on the briny depths, and being rocked to and fro in the troughs of its mighty commotion, could not well perambulate on terra firma at first.

RARA AVIS.

Prof. Proctor is about as fussy an "old granny" man as we ever traveled with in a Pullman, but he is happy when the earth quakes. He says it proves that the world is not near death, and that it is a sign of vitality; it will be hundreds of thousands of years before earthquakes cease and the old thing dies.

Postmaster Roby is informed; by telegraph (?); from the dudes in the Washington head office that his $3.00. allowance for ice in December "is deemed excessive." The officials at Washington do not apparently know that in this semi-tropical country December is as pleasant as May so far as needing ice in drinking water goes.
