OUR COTEMPORARIES.

The Silverton Appeal is chock full of live ads., and good sensible talk.

The Hillsboro Independent is getting ready to print an eight column folio. This indicates prosperity in Washington county.

The Rural Spirit is published daily during the fair at Portland, on the press of the new state printer, F. C., son of W. W. Baker.

The prosperity of the people is reflected in the prosperity of the press of a region, and just now the press of Oregon appears to be unusually healthy.

The McMinnville Daily Reporter is little, but Oh, my; there is nothing like pluck and energy, and its proprietors seem to have both. Long may they wave. Eugene Register.

We are in receipt of the first number of the Daily Mountaineer, published at the Dalles. It is interesting, well made up, and has the appearance of future long life and prosperity.

The Oregon city Enterprise is pleading with capitalists to utilize the wasting water power of the falls and turn it into a source of wealth to themselves and the surrounding country.

The Sunday Mercury of last Sunday was a mammoth edition, and indicative of the enterprise of the publishers. Twenty-five thousand copies were issued, which was full of general information.

Thos. Paulson has severed his connection with the Farmer and Dairyman in order to devote his entire attention to his farm and the legislative assembly, to which he was chosen a member last June.

We shouldn't advise our brothers of the press in Portland to take a large amount of stock in J. F. Cache, "a well-known newspaper man," now in that city talking up some sort of a coast historical publishing company.

The Daily Evening Democrat makes its bow to the public from the press of Portland October 7th. The editorial management is said to be under the direction of Col. Sidney Dell, assisted by Col. J. B. Fithian. Success attend the venture.

The Eugene Register has entered upon its third volume filled with a cheerful view of things in Lane county. Eugene city is rapidly improving and as fast as the requirements of the business will justify, additional facilities will be provided and the Register office always found abreast of the times.

NEWS AND NOTES.

occasioned by the difficulty of procuring lumber. They are tacked in a hostess never wash them. He could not go quite De Lesseps denies that he is sick. Some who invested in his canal stock do not deny that they feel sick.

The White House front door mat is ornamented with the horns of the deer that the president came near shooting.

A little over half a century ago the government was actively engaged in driving the Indians from Florida, now the United States authorities are engaged in bringing them back to that state.

A St. Paul paper estimates that during the past five months between two and three hundred persons have been killed in Minnesota, Dakota and Montana by atmospheric electricity and by tornadoes.

Some visitors went into a store in Portland, Me., kept by a German woman, and called for whisky. She said she could not sell any, and then whispered to one of them: "Ven you wants fisky call for vine, and pinch mit one eye."

According to a New York correspondent, young Mrs. Gould has black hair and eyes and a small but shapely statue. It is nice that she has something to set up house keeping with, and a pedestal can doubtless be procured without calling for contribution outside of the family.

Representative Cox of North Carolina, whose renomination was defeated on account of his advocacy of civil service reform, announces that he will do some more work in that line at the coming session of congress. The spoils theory has beaten him, but he still has a chance to get in a kick or two at the old thing before he retires from the field.

The United States engineers who are investigating the results of the earthquake in Charleston, find that nine-tenths of the damaged brick buildings have been constructed of faulty material and with careless workmanship. One new school house costing $20,000, is utterly ruined for this reason. The mortar used was made of yellow clay and lime, and was unfit to hold the mortar together.

A Business Proposition to Everybody.

Having the most complete and best selected stock of goods on the west side, outside of Portland, as conceded by all commercial men, and my facilities for buying being equal to or better than any house here, I am prepared to furnish you with Dry Goods, Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Boots and Shoes, Groceries, Glassware and Crockery, at prices as low or lower than any house outside of Portland, and if you buy upon same terms as you do when you go to Portland, buy in quantities paying cash, I engage to compete with the retail houses of Portland on the same class of goods, save and except Sugar, Salt and such goods as freight figures up on so that it cannot be done. This does not apply to some cheney houses who would bait you by selling some special article at a sacrifice, and making it up on some other articles. IT SHALL BE STRAIGHT BUSINESS. I especially invite purchasers, to call and make an inspection of the goods and price, before buying elsewhere. All goods marked down during clearance sale will be sold at clearance sale prices. Prices of all goods will be plainly marked on them, and no clerk is authorized to make any cut or deviation on them, and will be discharged for doing so before he has authority. SMALL PROFITS AND QUICK RETURNS IS THE MOTTO. CASH IN HAND OR SHORT CREDITS MUST BE THE RULE. A. J. APPERSON.
