BEEF, BUTTER AND BACON.

Practical experiment at Broadmeads have settled the fact that there is not a grass or any other article so profitable for pasture as rape. Farmers would do well to look into this matter. Mr. Gammie will furnish the most abundant proof of its excellence. Besides being profitable from a commercial point, in consequence of the value of the seed for oil; it furnishes the best of feed for both cattle and sheep. Without so much as an apology to any body who aspires to criticise our intentions, whether in Bellevue or Lafayette; we shall pursue the even tenor of our way and endeavor to convince the farmers of this county that it is their duty to keep better stock and produce more grass. At a meeting of dairymen in Portland last Friday, Mr. Knapp, a pioneer in very many enterprises that have added largely to the prosperity of Oregon and Washington territory, alluded to Washington's farewell address, wherein the father of his country admonished us that "eternal vigilance was the price of liberty." Diversified farming is forced upon us as a necessary condition to prosperity. Possessing as we do a prolific soil and mild climate, with an abundance of pure water, we have all the elements favorable for dairying, and the business will naturally come to the front and become a leading industry as surely as water finds its level. There is then no industry that needs more the fostering care of the sensible editorial fraternity, and grass is as essential to the pursuit as milk itself. Then there is another point: Breed to proper stock. Root out the scrubs. A scrub bull calf is as dangerous to the farm as a scrub editor is to the community. When a man comes here with coin to buy cattle, sheep or swine, show him good stock. There can be no reasonable excuse for not doing this, because Broadmeads is not the only place in Yamhill county largely interested in the matter of importing the best blood in America. We have it right here at home, and the man who does not use it to improve his flocks and herds will get left. Beef, Butter and Bacon is what the producers should turn their attention to, and grass is at the bottom of all. That we have the grass we again refer to that collection at the board of immigration rooms. It has nothing to do with the price of litigant advertising. We believe with Bro. Knapp, that the legislative assembly would do a good thing were it to create a dairy schoolmaster and send him out on a lecturing tour through every county in the state, and when he gets to Bellevue or Lafayette he ought to be accompanied by the fool-killer to get in his work upon our critics. Oregon stock raisers and dairymen need have no fears of ever producing an overstock of good goods. Scrub stock and stuff is not wanted anywhere. The merchants and buyers will meet you more than half way for good goods. It is true there is but one house in Portland to-day prepared to carry butter in hot weather, but how long will it be, if the articles are forthcoming, before refrigerators and refrigerator cars are numerous enough to supply all demands. No hand-to-mouth policy will accomplish the object; but go to work, like sensible men and women, and the time will be very short indeed until you quit "waiting for a dollar a bushel" for wheat, without money enough in the house to pay for your county paper. It is a fact referred to by Mr. Knapp that Oregon dairymen had never yet been able to supply the home market. Oregon is still importing butter and cheese from Illinois, Iowa and California. We have the advantage of climate and of the important item of transportation; and there is no danger of overstocking the market for years to come. But if such was the case, as Bro. Paulsen remarked then our dairymen need only learn what the markets want, in what form butter was most desirable. Large amounts of butter have been shipped into mines simply because some one learned how to ship it in tin cans and keep it fresh. The tins were lined with a thin coating of beeswax and hermetically sealed. Dairymen in Denmark knew how to put up butter so that it would keep in ships for a year or two years, even crossing the heat of the equator twice. There was no reason why Oregon dairymen could not learn to put up butter so it could be shipped into mines, or remain fresh during long sea voyages. Mr. Paulsen mentioned a Grant county dairyman who did quite a business in sending butter into mines in tin cans lined with wax. Dairymen have now a hopeful future for their business, which they can pursue with the same assurance of success and profit as that which attends any other branch of agriculture.

Dr. Haines and Goucher assisted by Dr. Young and Loughary removed an ovarian tumor from Mrs. McGrew. The tumor weighed 16 pounds, the operation reflects great credit on the Drs. of Yamhill, as it was neatly and skillfully done and offers the only means of saving life. At last accounts the lady is doing well.

A Business Proposition to Everybody.

Having the most complete and best selected stock of goods on the west side, outside of Portland, as conceded by all commercial men, and my facilities for buying being equal to or better than any house here, I am prepared to furnish you with Dry Goods, Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Boots and Shoes, Groceries, Glassware and Crockery, at prices as low or lower than any house outside of Portland, and if you buy upon same terms as you do when you go to Portland, buy in quantities paying cash, I engage to compete with the retail houses of Portland on the same class of goods, save and except Sugar, Salt and such goods as freight figures up on so that it cannot be done. This does not apply to some cheney houses who would bait you by selling some special article at a sacrifice, and making it up on some other articles. IT SHALL BE STRAIGHT BUSINESS. I especially invite purchasers, to call and make an inspection of the goods and price, before buying elsewhere. All goods marked down during clearance sale will be sold at clearance sale prices. Prices of all goods will be plainly marked on them, and no clerk is authorized to make any cut or deviation on them, and will be discharged for doing so before he has authority. SMALL PROFITS AND QUICK RETURNS IS THE MOTTO. CASH IN HAND OR SHORT CREDITS MUST BE THE RULE.
