CITY ELECTION NOTICES.

We are informed upon reliable authority that official notice of the coming city election was written out and stuck up at the post office; possibly it was also stuck up some other places. So we must take a back seat and offer our apology for calling for official authority. But is it not a beautiful spectacle indeed, for a city like this where Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly journals are published, for important legal notices to be written out and stuck up on a post for people to read? It is about time that a city council was chosen in this city which would awaken to a realizing sense of the situation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mark Twain is said to be worth a million dollars. He probably made it off his scrap book.

The Boston Advertiser thinks that the duty on sugar, which yields $50,000,000, can be safely abolished.

Whitelaw Reid, of the N. Y. Tribune, has purchased Henry Villard's handsome mansion at Fiftieth street and Madison avenue, New York city.

Gen. Logan is at present making the Grand Pacific hotel, Chicago, his headquarters, his residence on Calumet avenue having been leased till May.

Sam Jones is attempting to found a college at Cartersville, Ga., to be called The Sam Jones College. If Sam Jones theology is taught there it will be a "high old school."

Rosa Bonheur proposes to paint three typical American horses. The Norwich Bulletin recommends to her notice the saw-horse, the clothes-horse and the dark horse.

Autograph hunters are annoying Henry George. But he deserves his fate. He claims to have a collection of over 30,000 signatures of his fellow citizens. A fair exchange is no robbery.

Henry George was once an inspector of gas meters at Sacramento, Cal. This accounts for the remarkable facility with which he deals in the imponderable fluid, says the New York Graphic.

Mrs. Clara Foltz, the San Francisco lawyer, a lady well and favorably known in this city, has forsaken the camp of her political friends, and is now stumping California for the democracy. She offered her services to the republicans for $2,000 but they did not bite quick enough.

French wits are never tired of throwing hot shot at their neighbors across the channel. An Englishman writes thus to a French friend: "I am delighted at the recollection of the pleasant hours I have spent in France. If you visit England come at once to my house; and I will direct you to a very good hotel."

Notwithstanding the flat contradiction, it is a fact that the great Neidringhouse drive of cattle, from this country to British Columbia, has proven a disastrous failure to the St. Louis cattle syndicate. For a time the drive, consisting of 40,000 head of cattle, prospered but as the unusually dry season in Montana progressed, the grass became scarcer and streams of water fewer and farther between. Stock began to die by hundreds. The herders suffered great privations for water, and when nearing the British line, Mr. N. ordered the drive abandoned. The scene about the drive was pitiable. Cattlemen are of the opinion that the syndicate will not have 200 head of stock next spring out of the immense band driven from this country. Their loss in that case will reach $250,000. The situation throughout Montana for cattlemen is gloomy. In his annual report to the Interior department Gov. Hauser implores the government to allow cattle to be driven on Indian reservations for the winter as most of the living streams have dried up and not a spear of grass remains on the public domain, the result of an unusually dry season.

CORRESPONDENCE.

NORTH YAMHILL.

Mrs. Hodges is here from east of the mountains on a visit among relatives and friends. Also Wm. Pierce of the same place.

Mr. Busbee is building an awning to the front of his tin shop. It is a neat job.

Call at G. W. Sappington's store if you want fine potatoes. They were raised by John Harris.

Mrs. A. Higgins is visiting her daughter at the St. Joe mills.

Mrs. Brogue, in company with her husband, is visiting her parents at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Runnels and son, Dunkin, returned from a trip east on the 23d. The latter brought her mother to reside in Oregon.

Mrs. Goeser who has been sick for a long time, is still quite poorly.

RARA AVIS.

Eugene Sample writes in regard to the opening of the Columbia: In proposing a solution of the problem of cheap transportation to the seaboard I have considered time as an important factor. Just how important it is, may be judged from the assertion of the engineer in charge of the Cascade locks, that "every year saved in the opening of navigation through the Cascade mountains will save, to the mass of people affected, a sum approximating the whole cost of the works."

The newspaper of the day, the successful journal of the future, is the journal that trusts to the intelligence of its readers; that avoids foolish controversy; that gives all the news in the freshest and most reliable shapes; that stamps integrity in every column of its pages, and that advances with the matchless progress of the best civilization and the best government of the earth; and right here you have it for only ten cents a week, daily; five cents weekly.

A Business Proposition to Everybody.

Having the most complete and best selected stock of goods on the west side, outside of Portland, as conceded by all commercial men, and my facilities for buying being equal to or better than any house here, I am prepared to furnish you with Dry Goods, Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Boots and Shoes, Groceries, Glassware and Crockery, at prices as low or lower than any house outside of Portland, and if you buy upon same terms as you do when you go to Portland, buy in quantities paying cash, I engage to compete with the retail houses of Portland on the same class of goods, save and except Sugar, Salt and such goods as freight figures up on so that it cannot be done. This does not apply to some cheney houses who would bait you by selling some special article at a sacrifice, and making it up on some other articles. IT SHALL BE STRAIGHT BUSINESS. I especially invite purchasers, to call and make an inspection of the goods and price, before buying elsewhere. All goods marked down during clearance sale will be sold at clearance sale prices. Prices of all goods will be plainly marked on them, and no clerk is authorized to make any cut or deviation on them, and will be discharged for doing so before he has authority. SMALL PROFITS AND QUICK RETURNS IS THE MOTTO. CASH IN HAND OR SHORT CREDITS MUST BE THE RULE. A. J. APPERSON.
