McMinnville, Or. - Oct. 29, 1886

The fair grounds water wheel scared a ghost story last week.

Mr. Wilcox, station agent at this place is very ill from typhoid fever.

W. N. Oldham and wife, of Carlton, have opened out a first class hotel in Dallas.

A meeting of citizens will be held at Grange hall to nominate a city ticket to-night.

A meeting of citizens will be held at Fremont's hall to nominate a city ticket to-morrow evening.

The time for the city election comes apace. It is about time to pick out the timbers for the several offices.

Ed. W. Fuller reached home a cripple yesterday, from an accident at Yamina which badly maimed his foot.

John Evenden proposes to improve the stock in this county, and has bought thorough-bred Cotswold from Broadheads.

So many hogs are being shipped out of the county it is doubtful if any pork will be packed at home next winter. There is a demand for hogs up in British Columbia.

It is thought that the state will set a tax of two mills for general expenses, one-tenth of a mill for state university, and half a mill for debt, making a total of two and three-fifth mills state tax.

The state board of education have granted J. A. C. Freund, county school superintendent of Yamhill county, a teacher's diploma, on certificates from other states and lower grade certificates from Oregon.

The Yamhill lumbering company have made over ten thousand fruit boxes this fall. They have shipped 1000 to D. W. Sears, at McCoy, since the season commenced. A car load the day, and a boat load the next.

Since the heavy rain yesterday and at night the park trees of this vicinity, the deciduous, are fast dropping their leaves, but it is noticeable that they have no such blaze of gorgeous coloring as characterizes the native forests at this season.

The informant editor has been on a visit to the stock farm of Thos. Kay of townsville, where is to be seen a Holstein bull, Tornad, eighteen months old, weighing 1,360 lbs. In a few years this farm will produce a breed of horses, cattle and sheep equal to any in the east. Mr. Kay, like some other energetic farmers in Oregon, has come to the conclusion that in order to make farming profitable, they must give their attention to stock raising.

The other day an Amity farmer drove into Dayton with a load of wheat, reached his team on the main street, and climbed down from the wagon with a remark: "I'm either going to find out what causes this depression in the wheat market, or somebody will get me." After three men had vainly attempted to explain matters to his satisfaction and had their heads scratched, the marshal came along and arrested him, with the explanation: "The trouble is over production. There are too many farmers out of jail."

Visit the public school to-day. Interesting exercises at 2 p. m.

Levi Gilliam has sold his farm at Pleasant hill to his son-in-law, John Esson, of Portland.

All the news; at your door; six times a week; only ten cents; everybody reads it. The Daily Reporter.

E. W. Conyer's called at our office yesterday and left us sixty apples which measured over a bushel. They were Fall Pippins, Blankins Orange, 20-ounce, and Baldwins, the sight of which would make the mouth of an epicure water.

If stories concerning salmon packers at Astoria putting up rotten fish this late are true, names should be mentioned. They are worse for salmon than are the shad. Both combined will ruin this hitherto grand and profitable industry of our state.

There are six flat broke men at least in the supposed "historical and publishing association of the Pacific northwest, got up at Portland. Three of them owe bills at this office long overdue. S. Monroe Hubbard, J. F. Cache, Charles E. Streeter, Joseph Sloan, W. W. Copeland, B. F. Dowell and W. H. Adams, are the incorporators.

Everything of a literary turn has an ending, except it be the play at a Chinese theater. This is evidenced from the fact that the somewhat lengthy, but intensely interesting story: "Condemned; or the Galley Slave," which has called for so much space in the Reporter the past twelve weeks, will be finished November 4th.

The big statue of Liberty Enlightening the World was dedicated yesterday. Besides the torch held high in an outstretched hand, with eight lamps of 60,000 candle power, eight more of 60,000 candle power each, at the feet, incandescent lamps will be placed within the diadem upon the brow of the statue, giving it the attractive effect of sparkling jewels.

That ink eraser sold to banks and offices at $15 per bottle costs ten cents a gallon at a Seattle drug store. The mixture is simply a solution of chloride of lime, while the reproducing mixture is simply a mild solution of tannic acid. Stewart does the business in better shape and in less time than Smithley, and is open to engagements to supply the goods at five cents a quart, retail. Whenever our bankers run a little short they may call on any drug clerk for a new supply.

We now know, from personal practical effect, the unpleasantness of having a chestnut gong rung in your ears upon your best original joke. Referring to the scientific report of W. S. Ladd's artesian well by Dr. Everette, who says it is money worse than wasted to go any farther into that archaic rock, solid granite, and that Mr. Ladd wished to quit but the contractor held him to it, we remarked in the presence of bystanders that it must be to Mr. Ladd under such trying circumstances apparent that the contractor was "the greatest bore of the two." Off goes the gong in Bevy Apperson's pocket, and two seconds later off would have come his head under the sharpened wrath of our jovial joker had not Briggs intercepted the blow, and stayed our progress.

Gun Lost or Stolen.

October 25th, from my wagon between McMinnville and my shingle camp 17 miles northwest of town. A 45-70 Marlin rifle, new, boxed, with gun cover and two boxes of shells. It is supposed the gun was taken by a couple of tramps who begged a ride. A suitable reward will be paid for the recovery of the same, left at the gun shop of W. F. Collard, in McMinnville. A Bargain.

The Exchange hotel of North Yamhill, containing twenty-two rooms in all, two stories high, is offered for sale for cash, or exchange for real estate. The house is well known to the traveling public, and doing a good business. The present proprietor's reason for selling is that he is too far advanced in age to attend to it, and is determined to sell if an opportunity is offered, even at a sacrifice. In fact he is bound to sell it if a customer comes. North Yamhill is as rapidly improving town as any on the west side, is the center of a large trade, the starting point for Tillamook bay, the resort for hunters and sportsmen in the summer season, and this is the best chance for a good man in the whole state. For further particulars address this office, or apply to J. Delap, North Yamhill, Oregon.
