

The Daily Reporter.

D. C. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS,
McMinnville, Or. - Nov. 4, 1886

Take it and try it a week. Daily Reporter.

Ten cents buys it a week. Daily Reporter.

Thanks to E. W. Conyers and S. H. Pate for favors.

P. M. writes a good letter to the Oregonian from Yamhill.

Mrs. Stuart expects to go to Portland on business this week.

The Odd Fellows are talking of building a brick next year. Good.

Darby Glenn has the boss rat killer. It is a domesticated owl, which he caught himself.

The council met for the last time, unless convened in special session, Tuesday evening.

The firemen are preparing for a suitable observance of Thanksgiving day in this city.

Our city fathers are going immediately to work to revise the city charter. That is good.

All the news; at your door; six times a week; only ten cents; everybody reads it. The Daily Reporter.

Mrs. A. J. Apperson and Mrs. E. B. Fellows called yesterday as they were out enjoying the delightful weather.

Mart. M. High has begun work for Henderson Bros. in this city. Mart is one of the best horsemen on the west side.

Miss Belle Johnson, teacher of music in McMinnville and at McMinnville college. Residence corner of Second and C Streets.

We are pleased to hear that plans are on foot to start a large manufacturing establishment in McMinnville. A move in the right direction.

Mr. Wright, one of the three opposite Cook's hotel, we are pleased to learn will build a substantial brick at that corner of cross streets as soon as the present lease on the premises expires. Good.

Mrs. Rufus Mallory, not her husband Hon. Rufus Mallory, as stated yesterday, was chosen vice president of the Spiritualists state organization. The error was occasioned by our proof reading.

We acknowledge a pleasant call from Isaac Blum, who is now traveling for the celebrated house of Jacobs Bros. & Co. He called partly to pay the respects of his house to Uncle Ezra. In behalf of the latter we volunteered to remark that Uncle Ezra is pleased to have people read and appreciate his letters, and understand the purity of motives which prompt them; the good of the public.

Following is a list of letters remaining in the McMinnville post office Nov. 1st 1886.

Mrs. Mary Allison, C. B. Burges, Mrs. Ella Branson, Al Barnes, Richard Beaufield, C. Crawford, Cornelius Edwards, A. W. Cox, Al Cummins, D. E. Frasier, Mrs. M. A. Fenton, Victor Ford, Gibson Bros., Austin Huges, Mrs. M. A. Hodges, Virgil James 3, William Jones, Mrs. O. B. Lerry, Mr. W. D. McConnell, Mrs. Mary Morrow, Jarred Morris, Jos. H. Mulky, Mrs. Lizzie Walker. Parties calling for the same will please say advertised. J. F. WISECARVER, Postmaster.

We acknowledge the receipt of a splendid glass of jelly prepared by our little friend Cynthia Fellows, and of that lot that was awarded first premium at the state fair.

The Yankery conducted in London by John C. Swash at the prospective expense of Oregon, might as well be yanked out. All the desirable immigrants from that quarter have emigrated, with very few exceptions.

One of the encouraging features of the political outlook is the decadence of free trade sentiment in the south coincident with the introduction of manufactures, the development of mineral wealth and the construction of new lines of railway. A majority of the leading newspapers of that section are advocates of a protective tariff.

If you have an old orchard tree that cannot be kept in good condition cut it down and burn it. They are fruitful sources of the destructive codling moth. The worms are generated in the old trees that are left standing uncared for, after the owner is done with them. Various causes are given for their presence here, but this is perhaps the most certain way of propagating them. Not a stone should be left unturned to destroy them.

The jury on the inquest at Lafayette is composed of the best men in the county: P. P. Gates, J. L. Ferguson, J. Hoberg, R. R. Daniels, Geo. Perkins and J. H. Olds. The atrocity of this murder is without a parallel in the annals of crime. The murderer must have been a monster worse than a fiend. His bloody work was horrifying to detail. Evidently Mr. Corker had attempted to defend himself, as his right arm was broken in three places, and his left hand badly cut. His face and head were slashed up beyond recognition.

Wanted

All persons indebted to me to call and settle their account immediately.

F. W. REDMOND.

Card of Thanks.

Rev. G. W. Branson and wife wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to the kind sisters and friends who so liberally contributed to our support.

Important Stock Sale.

Posters are out for an auction sale of fat and thoroughbred stock by Mills & Howe at their Mount Stewart farm near North Yamhill on Saturday Nov. 13th. The sale includes sixty head of all ages including fifteen head suitable for the butcher. Terms cash, or approved notes at 10 per cent.

Mineral Waters.

Rembrandt stirred up a hornet's nest in his truthful items about bogus mineral waters, and Northup & Sturgis plead guilty apparently, by ordering their ad. out of the Welcome. Perhaps the machinery of their shop is used to inflate bogus stuff. Our advice to the public is to taste not, touch not, handle not, unless it comes from Wilhoit springs.—McMinnville Reporter.

The Cascades and Scappoose waters might also be added in perfect justice. Welcome.

We ignore any water susceptible to the doctoring process. The purity of Wilhoit springs water will not admit of it.

The Centennial Gate.

Farmers read the following testimony of men who have tried and worked the Centennial Gate.

We the undersigned have seen the Centennial Gate and can testify that it will do all that is claimed for it.

F. W. Delashmutt, T. B. Hunter, H. H. Jaspersen, J. J. Johnson, J. Cunningham, C. Cally, C. Richardson, W. W. Wallace, J. P. Wallace, J. Cally.

Farm rights sold on the best of terms. For particulars address Burgess & Graves, McCoy, Or., sole agents for Polk and Yamhill counties.

A Bargain.

The Exchange hotel of North Yamhill, containing twenty-two rooms in all, two stories high, is offered for sale for cash, or exchange for real estate. The house is well known to the traveling public, and doing a good business. The present proprietor's reason for selling is that he is too far advanced in age to attend to it, and is determined to sell if an opportunity is offered, even at a sacrifice. In fact he is bound to sell if a customer comes. North Yamhill is as rapidly improving town as any on the west side, is the center of a large trade, the starting point for Tillamook bay, the resort for hunters and sportsmen in the summer season, and this is the best chance for a good man in the whole state. For further particulars address this office, or apply to J. Delap, North Yamhill, Oregon.

Watch This Art Gallery.

This is the time of year when Merchants all begin to show low prices. We realize that permanent trade cannot be made unless one has the correct styles and correct prices. We are selling goods at astonishingly low prices on the merits of our wares. We know that there are no better styles of Clothing, no better fitting, no better made than ours, and we believe that no one in McMinnville is selling Clothing as cheaply as we are.

We only ask an inspection of our goods and a comparison of prices.
