

The Daily Reporter.

D. C. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS,
McMinnville, Or. - Nov 5, 1886

Peter Head has returned from his sojourning in Salem.

I. C. Lawrence has finished his work in Polk county for the year.

J. C. Terry has had a tussle with the fever, but is coming off first best.

The job department of the Reporter is at work upon fine printing for Portland.

Judge and Mrs. R. P. Boise left for the east on Wednesday to be absent about three months.

Col. W. H. H. Waters of Salem goes as deputy collector with Quincy A. Brooks to Port Townsend.

The daily German paper of Portland, suspended publication yesterday. The weekly will be continued.

Cecil Beebe, indicted for embezzling money from Shindler & Co., was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Miss Belle Johnson, teacher of music in McMinnville and at McMinnville college. Residence corner of Second and C Streets.

Mrs. Senator Mitchell and daughter, Miss Mattie E., have just reached Washington from a two years tour, most of which was spent in Paris.

The rubber stamp man has been here again, gulling greenies, who pay more for stamp botches than it costs to get decent printing at this office.

The good Lord sends us these lovely days to dry up an intolerable mud in our streets, else this city would be as bad as Salem, where the streets resemble one vast sewer.

Save time and money by handing your subscription for any paper or magazine to Chas. Grissen, he is the local agent for the American Subscription Co.

The firemen of this city have decided upon a ball for thanksgiving. The committee of arrangements consists of Messrs. W. F. Bangasser, P. D. Glenn, Elsie Wright, L. C. Turner and E. W. Fuller.

Ripe strawberries in Salem on the 31st, growing in the open air, flowers blooming in gardens in McMinnville, and 18,000 fish at one haul on Puget sound, last week, are the latest startling facts on production in the Pacific northwest.

Tangent farmers haul their wheat to Albany because of the excessive freight charges on the OCR: $20 per car to Portland, 86 miles, and $18 per car to Albany, seven miles. Wheat is selling at 60 cents in Tangent but on account of cheap rates over the OPR is worth 64 in Albany, which is causing large quantities to move in that direction.

W. J. Garrison and several other Indian war veterans, from Yamhill county, attended the reunion in Portland Tuesday and listened to the able address by Hon. Elwood Evans. The Oregonian published the address in full. It is a very able document on the subject of the Indian wars of 1855-6; the authorities and people of Oregon and Washington vindicated. It was given under the auspices of Multnomah Camp No. 2, I.W.V.

Grissen's grapes are fine. Another large band of Polk county sheep passed through yesterday to Portland.

J. A. Ball of New Philadelphia was presented with twins by his better half on the 27th. One of them died.

All the hens in the vicinity of McMinnville have struck for higher wages and eggs are 30c. Cock-e-doodle-do!

Uncle Sam Staggs threatens to murder us if we don't get the length of those corn rows right. It was two hundred and twenty-five feet. There now.

One reason why the proper name of cape Hancock is not recognized for cape Disappointment at the mouth of the Columbia, is because of another cape Hancock near Atlanta, to produce confusion of terms.

Blood will tell, but it is not the purest in Tom Mountain jr., of Portland, who has a first class reputation as a political trickster and dead beat. His double dealing got good men into trouble, including Sheriff Thomas Jordan.

Ever since we came here we have begged the farmers to write for the Reporter. A county paper to be complete should have news for all interested, and pray who in this county are more interested for what is enlightening to them in their calling than the farmers?

The Murder Excitement.

The only topic that calls a group of men together in Yamhill county these days is the murder of D. I. Corker. Great excitement prevails in Lafayette, where the investigation has proceeded since Tuesday, under direction of Coroner Narver. Suspicion rests upon two men, strongly supported by circumstantial evidence, and the pent up feelings of an outraged community is liable to explode at any moment, with a vengeance swift and speedy in its execution. It were better to let the strong arm of the law assert itself by systematic methods, particularly when it is possible that an innocent man is made a victim of mis-placed suspicion; and in this case, while it is true that strong circumstances would seem to point to the accused as the guilty pair, the better judgment of the people should be coolly invoked to temper the justified wrath of a community so grossly shocked as this has been. That this murder is without a parallel in the history of Oregon is too true. It closely resembles the Delaney tragedy of years long gone by in Marion county, and the thread of circumstances connecting the suspicions in this case is more certain in our estimation than those which connected Beade and Baker with the murder of Delaney. At all events, let the law take its course.

Important Stock Sale.

Posters are out for an auction sale of fat and thoroughbred stock by Mills & Howe at their Mount Stewart farm near North Yamhill on Saturday Nov. 13th. The sale includes sixty head of all ages including fifteen head suitable for the butcher. Terms cash, or approved notes at 10 per cent.

A Bargain.

The Exchange hotel of North Yamhill, containing twenty-two rooms in all, two stories high, is offered for sale for cash, or exchange for real estate. The house is well known to the traveling public, and doing a good business. The present proprietor's reason for selling is that he is too far advanced in age to attend to it, and is determined to sell if an opportunity is offered, even at a sacrifice. In fact he is bound to sell it if a customer comes. North Yamhill is as rapidly improving town as any on the west side, is the center of a large trade, the starting point for Tillamook bay, the resort for hunters and sportsmen in the summer season, and this is the best chance for a good man in the whole state. For further particulars address this office, or apply to J. Delap, North Yamhill, Oregon.

Watch This Art Gallery.

This is the time of year when Merchants all begin to show low prices. We realize that permanent trade cannot be made unless one has the correct styles and correct prices. We are selling goods at astonishingly low prices on the merits of our wares. We know that there are no better styles of Clothing, no better fitting, no better made than ours, and we believe that no one in McMinnville is selling Clothing as cheaply as we are.

We only ask an inspection of our goods and a comparison of prices.
