McMinnville, Or. - Nov. 6, 1886

NEWS AND NOTES.

The United Brethren are holding protracted meetings at Lone star.

Corvallis grocers publish full page lists of their prices in the local papers, and pretend to be running each other for "all that is out," but McMinnville grocers sell much cheaper.

Jennie Winslow has written to a friend in Portland that she will be there before long to play a six weeks' engagement at the Casino. This will be good news to her many admirers. One of whom we see which.

The Bulletin says Corvallis still publishes her effluvia by posting written copies on telegraph poles and buildings. Yet she has three local papers ready to print them in modern fashion, cheap for cash.

Alex McNary, a prominent farmer of Polk county, claims to have been the first farmer to cross the Willamette river on a ferry at Salem, and he now claims that by virtue of being the pioneer in that, he should drive the first wagon across the new bridge when completed.

The Oregonian Mad Bull shook his horns at the wrong Mitchell red rag hung up at the Gervais city election. There were two tickets in the field, Mitchell and anti-Mitchell, but it was McKinley Mitchell of that city for mayor. Mar got there, "all the same" as if it were John H. Ha, ha, ha!

T. R. Fisher was sand bagged and robbed in the main plaza of Portland Tuesday night. He was relieved of $412. He had just passed the band stand when two men rushed upon him from behind, one striking him on the head with a sand bag. The blow rendered him unconscious for the time being, and when he awoke, he found his pockets rifled. The highwaymen left the sand bag lying near their victim. Mr. Fisher was unable to give a description of the men.

The new town of Woods, near the big Neumons, about the center of Tillamook county, will become in time a fine summer resort for parties who wish to visit the beach of the grand Pacific, and hunt, fish and bathe. It is only about six months old now, yet it has two general stores, a large blacksmith shop, cooper shop and packing house, the best school house in the county, and the certainty of one canner and perhaps two next season, also a first class sawmill.

Much has been said and written about the bright and variegated foliage in the eastern states at this season of the year, and many of us who have been transplanted from beyond the Rockies recall the glories of shrub and tree in their autumn dress of gold and scarlet and brown, of the sugar maple, ash, hickory, sumach and kindred foliage. But now our trees have taken on new and beautiful tints, borrowed from the warm sun rays of "mellow October." To the lover of nature, even the short trip to Portland is for miles a panorama of beauty, as seen in the leaves of bright red and yellow, contrasting with the somber green of fir and pine. The most beautiful of our autumn colors in the native growth is the poison ivy, which turns a vivid scarlet in the autumn, like many another things, beautiful to look at, but forbidden the touch.

It is reported that the use of the Suez canal in moving the tea crop from China to America is rapidly being abandoned for the swifter means afforded by our transcontinental railways. In 1884 the bulk of the shipments were via Suez. This year the imports by way of San Francisco have reached 20,525,280 pounds, while those via the Suez canal have fallen off to 7,592,049 pounds. From Yokohama to New York by the canal takes sixty days, by San Francisco forty-nine days. Insurance and freight charges are diminished, and the tea, being fresher, is said to be better when brought by the latter route.

James G. Blaine has been saying at many places during the last three months that the people of the United States were resolved to uphold protective tariff on principle and practice. Divers other people now begin to think that James G. Blaine's opinion is correct. Among them are Mr. William Morrison, Mr. John Carlisle, Mr. Frank Hurd and Mr. William Springer. Mr. Grover Cleveland also, and many other citizens of the United States are no doubt interested observers of the same fact. As a result of this the Oregonian suggest that a multitude of democratic statesmen all over the country will be compelled to contend boisterously to keep them from crowding him off it. And Mr. Samuel Randall, who has not been allowed for some time to sit at the democratic board, will now be given the head of the table.

Discussing the Coker murder at Lafayette the Evening Telegram says: "This murder shows that the necessity for importing rope did not cease in that locality with the suicide in the jail at Lafayette of the murderer of Mrs. Petch. It would seem impossible that the perpetrator of such a crime could escape from a community so thoroughly aroused, but for the reflection that a like murder was committed in this city more than a year ago, and there has never been the slightest clue to the perpetrator, and that the brutal killing of Mrs. Hagar, an aged and defenceless woman near Milwaukie some years ago with an axe or hatchet, has never been traced certainly to the murderer, although a young man was sentenced to a term in the penitentiary for complicity in the crime based on purely circumstantial evidence. The most conscientious disbeliever in capital punishment must be at a loss for an argument upon which to base a plea for a life of a criminal, who, with uplifted axe steals upon a sleeping man and brains him for pelf. It is hoped that the assassin in this case will be speedily arrested, and promptly tried and hanged. The brutal crime committed plainly shows that Yamhill county has been too long without a necktie party presided over by the sheriff."

Ever since we came here we have begged the farmers to write for the Reporter. A county paper to be complete should have news for all interested, and pray who in this county are more interested for what is enlightening to them in their calling than the farmers?

A Business Proposition to Everybody.

Having the most complete and best selected stock of goods on the west side, outside of Portland, as conceded by all commercial men, and my facilities for buying being equal to or better than any house here, I am prepared to furnish you with Dry Goods, Clothing, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Boots and Shoes, Groceries, Glassware and Crockery, at prices as low or lower than any house outside of Portland, and if you buy upon same terms as you do when you go to Portland, buy in quantities paying cash, I engage to compete with the retail houses of Portland on the same class of goods, save and except Sugar, Salt and such goods as freight figures up on so that it cannot be done. This does not apply to some cheney houses who would bait you by selling some special article at a sacrifice, and making it up on some other articles. IT SHALL BE STRAIGHT BUSINESS. I especially invite purchasers, to call and make an inspection of the goods and price, before buying elsewhere. All goods marked down during clearance sale will be sold at clearance sale prices. Prices of all goods will be plainly marked on them, and no clerk is authorized to make any cut or deviation on them, and will be discharged for doing so before he has authority. SMALL PROFITS AND QUICK RETURNS IS THE MOTTO. CASH IN HAND OR SHORT CREDITS MUST BE THE RULE. A. J. APPERSON.
