

A WONDERFUL RECOVERY From a most Fatal Disease.

The Wilmington Del. Morning News of Sept. 8th, 1886, gives the following history of a prominent business man's plucky fight and terrific experience with that much-treasured and always to-be-forgotten disease, Cancer.

Some five years ago a barber accidentally cut my lower lip while shaving me. The pain was very slight and for some time hardly gave it passing thought. Finally it assumed the condition of a wart, which refused to heal entirely with all my efforts in that direction. I went to one of the leading physicians in Philadelphia, who treated me three months for cancer, and sent me home cured, as he said. But I was apprehensive. I was told by a prominent physician of Wilmington that I would surely die of cancer. About this time I heard of the wonderful cure effected by Swift's specific, known as S.S.S. I was suffering with perfect nervous prostration. After I had given S.S.S. a fair trial this all disappeared, and I felt like myself again. I continued to take the Swift's specific medicine regularly for several months, and before I could realize how it came about, I was a new man again. In fact I was cured never felt better in my life, and from that time up to the present I have never felt the least evidence of a return of my old trouble. The cancer disappeared over a year ago, but I refrained from making the cure public before this, as I wished to be certain that I was cured. My condition is perfectly normal, I have none of those annoying symptoms which followed every other treatment used. I honestly believe that I have been cured of one of the worst afflictions that can be visited upon the human family, and by the medicine known as S.S.S. I do not wish my name to appear in this connection, for business reasons only, but you are at liberty to give my name and address to any fellow sufferer, for any one interested in the cause of humanity.

The London Times is sour because liberty should be exported from France, which has so little thereof, to America, which has so much. The article is written throughout in an altogether spiteful and contemptible vein. This statue is not the gift of France to America. The idea was conceived by Bartholdi, who interested a large number of citizens of France in the plan, and their subscription were followed by a donation of 800,000 francs by the city of Paris, and 300,000 francs by more than one hundred other cities. The statue is a good will offering of the French people to the United States.

As earth quakes become more familiar in their habits, they are less and less feared. It is like sailing to sea or going up in a balloon; the more we escape the more we are inclined to try it again.
