McMinnville, Or. - Nov. 10, 1886

CREDIT TO BLAINE.

That the result in Pennsylvania, to say nothing of other states, is in consequence of the appearance of Mr. Blaine in that canvass is very certain. He, better than any other man, can handle the tariff question so as to impress the necessity of protection even on the dullest and most prejudiced minds, and the tariff is almost the sole question of interest among the working men of that state. In Pittsburg Mr. Blaine made his most effective speech. He confined himself almost entirely to an elucidation of taxation problems, and he showed so clearly the advantages of the republican policy and the ruinous effects of free trade that many a man who had been who deceived by the glittering generalities of democratic stumpers made up their minds to vote with the party that tries to keep out the products of European pauper labor. In our opinion Mr. Blaine's visit to Pennsylvania was worth ten or fifteen thousand votes to the party. No man in the country can draw larger crowds, no man is listened to with more attention, and no man can fire the heart more effectively, and he did it this time.

NEWS AND NOTES.

Mr. Villard was a bidder for $5,000,000 of ORN bonds last Monday. He is now negotiating for the final transfer of the OCR to Huntington. Who says Villard will not yet land on top?

Miss Marie Hembree will be pleased to meet those desiring art lessons Friday Nov. 12th, at the residence of Mrs. John Carlin. Terms, oil painting, 35 cents; crayon, 30 cents; china painting, 50 cents.

Mr. Wilcox, agent for OCR at this place, who has been quite ill with fever, is slowly recovering, and is now, as we all trust, past danger. Don't be in a hurry George; this is a case where it is best to be slow and sure.

Mr. Holman sold his hogs off yesterday at three cents. Sixteen of them averaged 203 lbs., then the seventeenth one, which had frisked about so that he couldn't be counted, pulled the beam at 200. They were Poland China and Berkshire mixed, a fine drove.

Geo. Stinson & Co., synde publishers of Portland, Maine, have made an immense fortune off the people never once returning an equivalent for money sent to them; all simply because the country press do their advertising for them free gratis or for worse than nothing.

The Overland Monthly is one of the Pacific coast successes for 1886. We have always been proud of The Overland; though many of its early promoters have retired to the mysterious beyond, in its present management would it embodying the fitting meaning of the trite saying, "Nothing Succeeds like Success."

The McMinnville baths and shaving parlors of C. H. Fleming is a progressive place. Mr. F has lately added another modern piece of neat furniture to the adornment of the main room in the shape of a cup rack, and counter, the work of our skilled mechanic Mr. Clark, with E. B. Fellows.

The cocaine treatment by those Parisians at Portland is said to be speedy death to the patient. It will cure tooth ache "and such like ailments," but is liable to create a habit ten thousand times worse than morphine and opium. It is the worst constitution wrecker ever known. It ruins the liver and kidneys in half a year, and when this work is done, the strongest constitution succumbs.

James B. Upton's salmon well, at the mouth of the Nestucca is a paying institution. At the junction of two streams there is a natural basin in the rocks, the rim being above water deep enough for the fish to swim in. Just over this basin is a fall. By putting up a false work of canvas the fish attempting to leap the falls drop back and are caught in the basin where they remain alive until wanted for salting.

He was not Swift enough. Bartlett is to be governor of California.

Miss Annie Dielshneider had a pleasant gathering of her young friends at her father's residence, last Friday evening. Music, games and a social time was indulged in.

It is said that Marble, the suspected murderer of Corker, has jewelry in his possession belonging to the unfortunate Emma Merloaen, who was murdered in Portland last December and is suspected of that crime also.

Americans of all parties will be glad to learn that Justin McCarty has been awarded the contested seat for Londonderry. Mr. McCarty claimed this seat on the ground of frauds committed in the interest of his competitor, and though he was also elected for Longford county he determined to insist on his claim to the other seat. The speaker ruled that he could not sit in Parliament from Longford, and at the same time contest the seat for Londonderry. Mr. McCarty thereupon withdrew and sailed for this country. He was last week awarded the seat he claimed, and his American friends will rejoice in the result of his plucky contest.

But little is known of Marble. The Oregonian says he is the fellow who some nine years since, in connection with one Barnes, committed a series of daring and extensive robberies along the river from Eola down to Champeog. When they were caught Marble turned state's evidence, his partner Barnes was convicted and sent to the penitentiary. Marble told where the plunder was concealed and officers from Portland secured a large amount of goods. Barner got out of the penitentiary some years since and two years ago was sent up again for rape. Marble has been rambling about since, living in Marion and Benton counties and a few months since came to Lafayette. He has worked at odd jobs, cleaning wells and such like work but had no regular occupation. Partis in Portland who know him feel satisfied that the murder of Corker will be brought home to him.

CORRESPONDENCE.

LAFAYETTE.

Interesting exercises will be held in our public school on Friday afternoon of this week. Visitors will be made welcome.

The drama in course of preparation to be presented at Littlefield's hall on the 19th, is highly spoken of, and we bespeak for it a full house.

The excitement over the murder of D. I. Corker has in no wise abated. Every effort is being made to bring the murderer to justice. It is hoped that such efforts will be successful, as no community is safe with such a fiend at large.

Mrs. M. F. Cooke has returned from her eastern trip. She had an enjoyable time visiting relatives and friends in her native state, Ill., and, while fully appreciating the beauties and points of interest along the route, is nevertheless glad to return to Oregon, for she realizes more fully than ever that "there is no place like home."
