D. C. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS,
McMinnville, Or. - Nov. 19, 1886

Freshest Dates at Grissen's this morning, by the pound.

Uncle Jim Fletcher will start home from Missouri next Monday.

Mrs. Sarah Savage is fitted up for keeping a neat and cosy hotel at Willamina.

The ladies society of the C. P. church will give an entertainment Friday evening, Dec. 10, 1886.

There will be an attraction for the children, in the shape of a fish pond at the Episcopal church fair.

Mrs. M. Shadden is now alone in the dressmaking business, Miss Vessey having returned to Portland.

The farm to be sold by the Warren executors on the 27th is not the old donation claim, but is what is called the Jimmy Warren farm, 132 acres.

Miss Rosa McPhillips, on a visit to her uncle in Umatilla county, writes that the weather and the region is not attractive. She will be glad to get back to old Yamhill again.

People may not be aware of the fact, but it is a fact nevertheless, that when a letter improperly stamped, is put into the postoffice, it subjects the sender to both fine and imprisonment. Pay your postage.

Mr. S. C. Force is seriously ill. His head and face was badly swollen yesterday, and as black as an African, but he is getting along splendidly under the treatment of Dr. Calbreath.

The 16th was the nineteenth anniversary of the marriage of Watt G. Henderson and wife, and although he had forgotten it for the time, his friends had not, and when he went home that evening he found his house filled with a jolly crowd, reviving old time recollections in a really social way. It was a very pleasant surprise.

Oregon apples are being shipped east in large quantities. They are of fine size and excellent flavor, but most of them, unfortunately, carry the brand of the codlin moth. The papers of the state teem with remedies for the extermination of this pest. Up to date the one that advises the careful rolling of each individual insect between two smooth blocks prepared for the purpose is about as convenient and certainly as efficacious, as any. The only requisite to the success of this plan is to first catch your moth.

When Mr. Buick, who had charge of the Oregon exhibit car, returned from the east, he was requested by the state board to prepare a report which was to be submitted for approval. Mr. Buick only remained two days in Portland, and then went to his home. Complying with the request made by the board, he has prepared a somewhat elaborate report of the trip east. It is quite lengthy, and states in detail all the places visited by the car, and an estimate is made of the number of people who visited it at the various places. At Utica, New York he thinks not less than 20,000 persons visited the car and took a look at the collection. He estimated that at least 200,000 people passed through the car during the time it was east.

Try Willamina flour. Equal to the best.

Will Kellett moves into his new house to-day.

Spectators will be admitted to the gallery at the firemen's ball thanksgiving evening.

Senator Dolph, Miss Agnes Dolph, and Miss Fanny Odeneal, reached Portland from Washington city on the 16th.

Rev. Mr. Fair has so improved in health that he will be able to officiate at St. James church this evening, and Sunday, as usual.

If you want your business represented in the Thanksgiving 12-page edition of the Daily Reporter, hand in your copy early.

Work of rebuilding the Sax flouring mill in this city, began on Tuesday last. Three car loads of material arrived on that day from Portland.

To Wm. Turner, the Webfoot scrub, who works in a drug store for his grub, Works in Sprague, both early and late, In Washington Ter. the coming state. Is an inscription which left this city yesterday on a letter.

Prof. Price calls our attention to the accidental omission of the name of Raymond Satchwell, from the roll of honor of the public school. It was purely accidental, and the youth is entitled to this explanation.

Capt. B. B. Tuttle, formerly superintendent of the railway mail service for Oregon, has been appointed Judge advocate of the state militia, with the rank of Colonel, in place of Hon. Binger Hermann, M.C., resigned.

A quince from Mr. Rogers' farm was left at our office yesterday which weighed twenty two ounces and measured fifteen inches in circumference. It would probably have grown larger, but the limbs of the tree got in the way and it had to force its existence.

The public school exhibition at the opera house this, Friday evening, is for the benefit of the library and apparatus. There have been so far apparatus, books and charts placed in the school to the amount of $125, which are certainly almost indispensable to the progress of the school. The teachers are now in need of maps and globes, as the school is entirely devoid of them. A nominal fee for admission will be charged. Reserved seats secured at Rogers & Todd's drug store to-day.

You can make the trip overland to or from San Francisco now, in two and a half days. On the 14th, SPR trains began running to McCloud's siding, 308 miles from San Francisco. Passengers bound south will leave Portland at 8 o'clock a. m., arriving at Ashland at 4 the next morning. The stage will leave Ashland going south at 5 a. m., and arrive at McCloud's 85 miles distant, at 10:30 p. m., the same day. The train will leave McClouds at 5 the following morning. Passengers arriving in the evening can secure berths in the sleeping car the same evening at McClouds. The SPRCo will run a sleeping car through to Redding. Arriving there at 9 a. m., this will enable passengers to sleep in the car from the evening of their arrival at McCloud's until breakfast time next morning. San Francisco will be reached at 6:40 p. m. the same day.

An attractive part of the Episcopal church fair, will be a Japanese table, containing handsome articles for sale.

A case of novelties; new, nice and low priced; just received for the holiday trade at Mrs. H. P. Stuarts, opposite Grange store.

Miss Belle Johnson, teacher of music in McMinnville and at McMinnville college. Residence corner of Second and C Streets.

It is rather a significant fact that after all the excitement caused by the Taylor campaign, the vote in Tennessee was quite small. This is to be explained either by the supposition that the Tennesseans took the fraternal candidates for an uncorked minstrel troupe, or that they were unable to fiddle the crowds to the polls on election day.

"Orna, the Child of Sorrow," an original story, will soon be published in the Daily Reporter. It is a deeply interesting tale of the life of an immigrant girl, and abounds with much that is of a heroic nature, and places, before the young ladies of the present day, a strong contrast with the manifold trials and tribulations of that roving class styled immigrants. The publishers of the Reporter omit no expense of time and money, to place before their readers the best and most attractive family paper published in Oregon, and from the manner in which new subscribers are daily added to our list, is a strong approval of our best efforts to please the public. The story will run through several numbers of the Daily.

Pocket Book Lost.

On the road between McMinnville and Sheridan, on Sunday, Nov. 14th, a leather covered pocket memorandum book, containing several notes and papers of no value to anybody but myself, and also one $5 bill green-back. The owner will be suitably rewarded on leaving the same at this office, or with the undersigned in Sheridan. VICTOR GROSS.

A Bargain.

The Exchange hotel of North Yamhill, containing twenty-two rooms in all, two stories high, is offered for sale for cash, or exchange for real estate. The house is well known to the traveling public, and doing a good business. The present proprietor's reason for selling is that he is too far advanced in age to attend to it, and is determined to sell if an opportunity is offered, even at a sacrifice. In fact he is bound to sell it if a customer comes. North Yamhill is as rapidly improving town as any on the west side, is the center of a large trade, the starting point for Tillamook bay, the resort for hunters and sportsmen in the summer season, and this is the best chance for a good man in the whole state. For further particulars address this office, or apply to J. Delap, North Yamhill, Oregon.

Watch This Art Gallery.

This is the time of year when Merchants all begin to show low prices. We realize that permanent trade cannot be made unless one has the correct styles and correct prices. We are selling goods at astonishingly low prices on the merits of our wares. We know that there are no better styles of Clothing, no better fitting, no better made than ours, and we believe that no one in McMinnville is selling Clothing as cheaply as we are.

We only ask an inspection of our goods and a comparison of prices.
