Eggs 30 cents. Can you stand it? If not, go to laying.

Safe prediction. Don't look for big rain till the weather changes.

The school exhibition last evening was in every way a perfect success.

The new fire bell tapped three strokes at 9:30 a. m. yesterday. Make a note of this for Bancroft's history.

Hoes are no good on our city side walks. The mud is too obstinate. It needs hose with water works to fit it.

There is a little stronger feeling in the wheat market this week, probably owing to the extreme cold weather in the east.

They are selling thirteen postage stamps at the postoffice for a cent and a quarter. Don't rush after a stock until you have read this item twice.

Mrs. M. H. James of Tacoma, is in the city, a guest of Mrs. and Rev. J. C. Fair. Miss Hepburn, a sister of Mrs. Fair is also on a visit to them here from New York city.

The baby doll pitch has struck such a slant in Portland that one man has imported one which produces music, bows politely and carries a basket in which is a lamb. On opening the basket lid the lamb bleats as naturally as if alive.

A baby weighing twenty-one pounds is the latest boast of Tacoma, and the mother is congratulated on having given birth to the "biggest baby on the Pacific coast." The special merit in the case is not pointed out.

The Multnomah grand jury is investigating charges of libel against J. B. Fithian and Sidney Dell, of the Democrat, growing out of articles published relative to the Merlotin murder case, in connection with which some prominent city officials are handled without gloves.

Among our visitors yesterday was an old pioneer of 1848, Levi Bennett, of Dayton. Mr. B. met with an accident about two weeks since, when his team ran away, dislocating his shoulder, but is rapidly recovering. He was a successful miner in Coeur d'Alene, and still has some fine specimens from the Widows claim, one of which he permits us to control in the future.

Prof. George P. Newell, of Philomath, died suddenly in Salem of heart disease, on Saturday. He came to Oregon city in 1851, and has lived in Portland, Salem and McMinnville. Many of Oregon's best musicians took their first lessons of him. He was an honest, christian gentleman, a member of the Baptist church, and had many warm friends.

The vexed question has at length been solved. A woman, who however long since married and quit the business, assures us that in her life as a shop-girl in a millinery store for two years she did not find more disagreeable customers to wait upon than she found in her experience as clerk in a large book and stationary store for a like period. In the first employment her customers were women, almost exclusively. In the last, nine-tenths were men.

Church Matters.

Subject for forenoon: "Some very desirable things that can be had only by those who seek after and labor for them." Subject for evening: "Conscience—what is it? And it is a sufficient guide?"

If you want your business represented in the Thanksgiving 12-page edition of the Daily Reporter, hand in your copy early.

The McMinnville Business College is open every evening at 7 o'clock for students in writing, drawing and book-keeping.

It is quite refreshing to read of blooming strawberries in the open air last week in Lane county. The Register says: A party of four from this city visited the Mohawk hills last Sunday, killed one deer, and reported the mountains covered with wild strawberry blossoms.

Horses are cleaned by a steam brush in a large stable at Portland. It takes the place of the currycomb and horse brush, and works very much like one of the machines used by dentists for operating drills. The brush makes 1400 revolutions a minute. A remarkable feature of the steam brush is that all horses like it and never squirm when the tenderest part of the body is touched. Two men with these machines will clean thirty horses per hour, while caring for twelve horses a day is considered good work for a groom on this coast. The steam brush keeps the hair oily and glossy, and almost invariably improves the health of the animal.

Genuine California honey 15 cts. per lb., at the bakery.

Spectators will be admitted to the gallery at the firemen's ball thanksgiving evening.

The ladies society of the C. P. church will give an entertainment Friday evening, Dec. 10, 1886.

The Guild of St. James (Episcopal) church will hold a fair on Wednesday evening, December 1st.

Miss Belle Johnson, teacher of music in McMinnville and at McMinnville college. Residence corner of Second and C Streets.

The fund started by the San Francisco Post to aid in prosecuting the case against Goldenson, murderer of Minnie Kelly, has reached $8200. It would seem that the great state of California should, through officers chosen and salaried to attend to such business, be able to prosecute a case of this kind without private assistance. It may be well enough, when mercy is the plea to raise a sympathy fund in order that it may be heard, but justice should be able to state and support its claims without extraneous fee.

A man was sent to the chain gang in North Carolina recently for trading wives with a neighbor. He plead in extenuation that he did not know that the act was a crime, and that having a chance to get a better looking woman than his wife by paying $1 50 to boot, he thought he had a right to make the trade. It would seem from this showing that our foreign missionary societies are overshooting mark widely when they train their guns on China and Hindoostan.

Advertisers can take their choice, either daily or weekly, at the same old rate. No advance in the price. We've come to stay, if you say so.

Subscribe for the Reporter, and pay for it when you subscribe, and we will pledge ourselves to give you more news, for less money, than any other paper in the Willamette valley. The Daily will help the weekly 100 per cent.

Pocket Book Lost.

On the road between McMinnville and Sheridan, on Sunday, Nov. 14th, a leather covered pocket memorandum book, containing several notes and papers of no value to anybody but myself, and also one $5 bill greenback. The owner will be suitably rewarded on leaving the same at this office, or with the undersigned in Sheridan. VICTOR GROSS.

A Bargain.

The Exchange hotel of North Yamhill, containing twenty-two rooms in all, two stories high, is offered for sale for cash, or exchange for real estate. The house is well known to the traveling public, and doing a good business. The present proprietor's reason for selling is that he is too far advanced in age to attend to it, and is determined to sell if an opportunity is offered, even at a sacrifice. In fact he is bound to sell it if a customer comes. North Yamhill is as rapidly improving town as any on the west side, is the center of a large trade, the starting point for Tillamook bay, the resort for hunters and sportsmen in the summer season, and this is the best chance for a good man in the whole state. For further particulars address this office, or apply to J. Delap, North Yamhill, Oregon.

Watch This Art Gallery.

This is the time of year when Merchants all begin to show low prices. We realize that permanent trade cannot be made unless one has the correct styles and correct prices. We are selling goods at astonishingly low prices on the merits of our wares. We know that there are no better styles of Clothing, no better fitting, no better made than ours, and we believe that no one in McMinnville is selling Clothing as cheaply as we are.

We only ask an inspection of our goods and a comparison of prices.
