

The Daily Reporter.

D. C. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS,
McMinnville, Or. - Nov. 22, 1886

W. H. Fletcher lost a $250 horse by distemper last week.

The stock of dolls in this city in the hands of little Misses is fine.

Senator Dolph passed through the city on Saturday, bound south.

Hon. A. R. Burbank called on Saturday, as he was in town on business.

Little Tommy Browne is a sufferer with very painful effects from toothache.

Mikado hair pins and Astracan trimmings at the store of Miss F. E. Russ.

Dr. Watts will lecture at the open temperance meeting at Grange hall to-night.

Fletcher Bros. chop mill is up and in working order. It is a first class roller mill.

W. T. Booth was the only man with a carriage at the opera house Friday night.

A small locomotive, the Alsea, passed up Saturday for the government works at Newport.

We shall give a nice report of the school entertainment to-morrow. Could not prepare the copy for to-day.

Mrs. Frank Morrison presented her husband with a fine boy last week. Mrs. M. was formerly Miss May Baker of this city.

Miss Belle Johnson, teacher of music in McMinnville and at McMinnville college. Residence corner of Second and C Streets.

Sales of wheat the last few days include 5,000 bushels McMinnville to Hon. Wm. Galloway at 66 cents sacked, about 5,000 bushels on board cars at Sheridan to the same buyer at 69 cents.

Have we a Rosa Bonheur among us? The many nice pictures from the pencil of Miss Edith Martin would seem to affirm that we have. Her latest is a dog head, presented to Mrs. Vanatta.

Capt. W. S. Powell's Dayton saw mill was destroyed by fire about three o'clock Saturday morning. The building was used by G. F. Brower as a stable. He lost a pair of horses, harness and wagon. The loss of the mill was about $1,200. There was no machinery in the mill. It was undoubtedly set on fire.

Dayton, Lafayette and vicinity is undoubtedly infested by a gang of murderous, villainous tramps, and there is not the least doubt in the world but they are a portion of a gang to which Marple belonged. It is evident they fired Powell's mill, Saturday morning, and stole $71 from G. F. Brower. The people are determined now to scour that part of the country and get rid of the rascals.

Messrs. Gault and Wright are at work raising the bell tower to accommodate the new bell for the department. The new bell would not swing in the tower without this work. It is thought that the contract will be completed so that the bell may be heard on thanksgiving morning, simultaneous with the appearance of the Daily Reporter.

The McGibeny Family.

Wherever they appear, in spite of bad weather, a cultured and critical audience always welcome the McGibeny family. The family is a remarkable one, not only as musicians, but in number. It consists of Mr. and Mrs. McGibeny, Mrs. Frank McGibney, wife of the eldest son, and twelve children, seven boys and five girls, and every one of them musicians from the parents down to the little 3-year-old Leo. A Montana paper thus refers to them at Butte: The programme last evening included solos, duets, quartets, and full orchestra, each commanding an applause as generous as it was hearty. If the merit of the entertainment be measured by the demonstrations of favor exhibited by the large audience, we would be safe in asserting it was the best that has been presented here, and the audience the best pleased assemblage of people that ever filled the house all did so well it would seem invidious to discriminate, but one cannot refrain from mentioning the really artistic performance of Mr. and Mrs. Frank in their cornet duet, the masterly playing of Mr. Hugh, the violinist, the excellent rendition of a choice selection by Miss Viola, violinist, the "Peekaboo" by Miss McGibeny and little Leo, the fine and most pleasing recitation by the beautiful Miss Allie, the character sketch by Florence and Grace, the comic song of Master Jamie, and the grand march by the whole troupe. The performance occupied two hours and a half, and throughout was conducted with a naturalness and regard for proprieties that were not among the least of its charming features. Mrs. McGibeny is a superb singer and a finished artist, qualities which are prominent in every one of her interesting children. Music-loving people will have an opportunity of hearing this most remarkable family at Garrison opera house early in December.

Hon. J. L. Ferguson has been appointed administrator of the estate of D. I. Corker, the murdered man.

Uncle Lafe Bristow has got hold of the helm at the Salem Talk. He is a good newspaper man, and, if he continues in his present position, he will no doubt greatly widen the influence and extend the circulation of that paper.

An alarm of fire at the Central on the evening of the 19th, caused quite a flurry for awhile. Fortunately the fire was squelched in its incipency by prompt work. Some of the boarders, Prof. Price, et al., thought it was a ruse to choke them off from the supper table, but Bro. Cook says it was not the likes boarders who have good appetites.

Uncle Jephtha Garrison had a curiosity in nature on exhibition at the Eurisko market Saturday. It was a tuft of hair adhering to the innermost or skinny side of a beef hide, and a mat of loose hair surrounding it, all between the flesh and the hide. The beef was white, but this hair was neither white nor red, a sort of auburn color. The cow was pure, fat and fat. The hair, hence evidently grown and out for the 20-page Daily Reporter Thursday morning.

Grissen is enlarging his store room to double capacity.

Genuine California honey 15 cts. per lb., at the bakery.

Elsia Wright talks of establishing a regular wood yard in this city.

Spectators will be admitted to the gallery at the firemen's ball thanksgiving evening.

The ladies society of the C. P. church will give an entertainment Friday evening, Dec. 10, 1886.

The Guild of St. James (Episcopal) church will hold a fair on Wednesday evening, December 1st.

An attractive part of the Episcopal church fair, will be a Japanese table, containing handsome articles for sale.

Hon. Geo. Dorsey, of Dayton, one of the stalwart commissioners of old Yamhill. A solid man and farmer himself, paid us a visit yesterday, and added his mite to reduce the friction of tight times hereabout.

Mrs. Elsia Wright was called to Portland on account of the little boy of Mr. Spencers, whose ankle was operated upon, and bone removed. The hope is that the child may recover, as he is young, and the operation performed in the most skillful manner.

We do not blame the Portland police for kicking at the manner their movements in the Kenealy murder case are being dogged by a certain class of so-called journalists. The Tacoma Ledger, in particular, comes in for a good share of criticism for the publicity it is giving the movements of Detective Simmons, who is now on the sound working up the case. "Hard to make much headway in the matter of solving any criminal problem with a lot of Paul Prying reporters always at your heels!" indignantly observes the detective.

Singular but True.

People are terribly forgetful sometimes. We once heard of a man so forgetful that he forgot his own name. But there is one remarkable thing about people who go to Bishop & Kay's to buy their clothing. They get such goods fits and fine goods and low prices, that they do not forget it, but go round regularly every year to lay in another supply. When you read this you will never forget it. It will make indelible impressions on your mind, and when you want anything in the clothing line you will go straight to Bishop & Kay's and buy it.

A Bargain.

The Exchange hotel of North Yamhill, containing twenty-two rooms in all, two stories high, is offered for sale for cash, or exchange for real estate. The house is well known to the traveling public, and doing a good business. The present proprietor's reason for selling is that he is too far advanced in age to attend to it, and is determined to sell if an opportunity is offered, even at a sacrifice. In fact he is bound to sell if a customer comes. North Yamhill is as rapidly improving town as any on the west side, is the center of a large trade, the starting point for Tillamook bay, the resort for hunters and sportsmen in the summer season, and this is the best chance for a good man in the whole state. For further particulars address this office, or apply to J. Delap, North Yamhill, Oregon.

Watch This Art Gallery.

This is the time of year when Merchants all begin to show low prices. We realize that permanent trade cannot be made unless one has the correct styles and correct prices. We are selling goods at astonishingly low prices on the merits of our wares. We know that there are no better styles of clothing, no better fitting, no better made than ours, and we believe that no one in McMinnville is selling clothing as cheaply as we are.

We only ask an inspection of our goods and a comparison of prices.
