D. C. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS,
McMinnville, Or. Dec. 1, 1886

The WCTU will hold a meeting at 3 p. m. Saturday, at the M. E. church. Senator and Miss Dolph and Miss Odeneal, left yesterday for Washington.

We cannot publish accounts of births, deaths and marriages until they occur.

Logan Bros. and Henderson are preparing to build a new stable on Third street.

Arthur McPhillips has purchased a part of the Jolly place, paying therefor $31 per acre.

F. M. Lupton, No. 3 Park Place New York, does not strike our ideas of a fair dealer. Let him alone.

James W. McPhillips purchased the Jimmy Warren place, 130 acres, at executors sale last Saturday for $300.

Prof. Price is confined to his room by sickness, and Prof. Freund has been employed ad interim by the school directors.

Mrs. M. C. Athey is about to open a select school at Wardner, Idaho. We concur in the statement of the local paper there, that none is more competent.

At a regular meeting of Amity Lodge No. 67, IOGT, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: T. E. White, N G; J. B. Briedwell, V G; T. B. Ferguson, R S; R. L. Simpson, T; J. A. Likens, P S.

Our new city council will meet next Tuesday evening. Congress on Tuesday morning, and the charter revision committee of McMinnville,—never, or at least from present appearance "hardly ever."

Bean shooters should be regulated by stringent ordinances. In Portland a little fellow named Koste last Saturday night suffered the loss of his right eye, caused by a pin thrown from one of these abominable play things.

Dick Longacre has bought another farm, the Boardman place, up in the Levi Davis neighborhood, and is again "at home." He was in the city yesterday looking for a purchaser for eighteen head of good sheep which he has for sale.

During the most of the past three days here, Happy Valley has been enjoying fine sunshine. Perhaps this is because J. A. Versteeg has taken the Newby mill, and is turning out a thriffler X quality of family flower there. Try it, for sale at Bangasser's market.

We are thankful to a couple of our lady friends who called yesterday to call our attention to the picnic enjoyed by the Band of Hope at Grange hall Saturday. There were about 130 children present, besides many adults. The program was well rendered by the little ones, and interesting addresses were made by Rev. T. H. Henderson and Mrs. Cozine. The table was loaded with good things furnished by friends, conspicuous among which was an elegant cake prepared by little Miss Georgia Jones, and also one by Miss Ola Burt. The best of order was observed by the boys.

Fair and festival to-night at Garrison opera house. Admission free.

The music has arrived, and the Choral union met last evening at Grange hall.

Arthur C. Goudy has left Astoria, and goes to Spokane falls to engage in business.

The Salem bridge over the Wallamet was used by foot passengers on the 25th. Teams will be able to cross next week.

A gang have beset the path of A. Stinet, intending apparently to get away with him; but if he will keep sober he will win in the long run and make them sick.

At last they have got Voorhees' vote footed up over in Washington territory. His plurality is 2,192. Old man Newell got 2,875 votes, Bradshaw 21,080, Voorhees 23,272.

The whereabouts of F. W. Davis still remains a mystery. Davis has been carrying on a grocery, drug and general assortment store in Monmouth and one peculiar feature connected with his disappearance is the action of his creditors. His stock has been attached.

It is three weeks since Franz Althaber disappeared from Astoria, and notwithstanding rewards have been offered aggregating $1,250, there is as yet not the slightest clue to the fate or whereabouts of the young man who has disappeared as completely as a cloud that melts into the blue sky.

Another mysterious disappearance is reported of Homer Howard from Pendleton. He was last seen at his hotel in San Francisco a month since. Hon. H. L. Marston, who is in California trying to unravel the mystery, thinks Mr. Howard has been foully dealt with. Howard has lived in Pendleton six years; was a trustworthy, honorable, reliable and able business man. Temperate, fair-minded, generous to a fault, and was thought much of by a large number of friends.

The phrase "Liberty enlightening the world," is a mistranslation. What Bartholdi called it in French is, "Liberty lighting the world." The idea was illumination, not instruction. The illumination not having been provided for the error in the translation was likely to stand, until the question was officially brought to the attention of President Cleveland last week. The President and Secretary examined the bearings on the case, and as a result the President directed that it be placed in the hands of the light house board with a view of determining the utility of the statue as a beacon. Mr. Goff, president of the American system of electric lighting, subsequently waited on the secretary of the light house board and made a proposition to light the statue free of expense to the government. He was told to put his offer in writing and it would be considered. A member of the board, in speaking on the subject said the main question to be determined was whether an electric light was an aid or a detriment to navigation. There were many person who held the latter view, and it is a fact he said, that the electric light at Hell gate was to be discontinued because it was regarded dangerous to navigation.

Observations.

A favorite resort—before the fire. Gold and silver ladies watches at a big bargain at the McMinnville jewelry store.

The McMinnville Business College is open every evening at 7 o'clock for students in writing, drawing and book-keeping.

The Weekly Reporter, a faithful and complete compendium of the week's news, is furnished for 16¢ cents a month.

McMinnville jewelry store is now the biggest and largest west of Portland and the cheapest in Oregon. Wm. Holl, proprietor.

Miss Belle Johnson, teacher of music in McMinnville and at McMinnville college. Residence corner of Second and C Streets.

Capt Powell is rushing the work at the Cascade locks. He has cut the time of the men down two hours per day and nineteen cents per hour, and board themselves, at the boarding house $4.50 per week. "This is business." Most of the men have become dissatisfied and left.

HOW TO REMIT.

Our agents are advised that we cannot pay commissions upon reduced prices. The Reporter for all of 1887 will be $1.50 (to Jan. 1, 1888), but the subscriber must remit us the full amount. Remit money by Postal Order, Registered letter or express, at our risk, but not at our expense.

AGENTS WANTED.

We want a thoroughly reliable man at every post office in Yamhill, Polk and Washington counties. We will make it an object for those willing to work, who can show results. Write to us for particulars. We want no duds nor tricksters to apply.

A SPLENDID CHANCE.

Any person sending us four subscribers for one year each, with $6.00 in cash, will receive an extra copy for one year. This is a rare opportunity for getting the best weekly paper west of the Rocky mountains free.

ABOUT THAT GRIEVANCE.

The Yamhill Reporter copies the Albany Bulletin's lecture to the Chronicle, but fails to find room for our reply. Has Bro. Ireland also been slimed over with OP taffy and bought with OP promises to pay? Let us hear from you, D. C.—Corvallis Chronicle.

Well, not exactly; Charley. But is this your reply?

"Let me tread on you, or I'll kill Corvallis," says the fiery colonel. "Let me walk all over you, or I'll make the grass grow in your streets," sings the overbearing colonel. "Let me climb right up and sit on your ear, or I'll make life a burden to you, and take the very bread out of your mouths," shouts the Hogg.—Chronicle.

He must have been exasperated. Who threw the first brick, and what was the size of it?

Subscribe for the Reporter, and pay for it when you subscribe, and we will pledge ourselves to give you more news, for less money, than any other paper in the Willamette valley. The Daily will help the weekly 100 per cent.
