The Presidents Message.

Yesterday the Presidents message was given entire to readers of both the Daily and Weekly Reporter, in form of a supplement, as it was too lengthy for the regular columns. It is a very strong document, and will bear careful perusal. One of the most important questions discussed is that pertaining to our public domain. He is right in declaring that "the rapid appropriation of our public lands without bona fide settlement or cultivation, and not only without intention of residence but for the purpose of the aggregation in large holdings, in many cases in the hands of foreigners, invites the serious and immediate attention of congress. The fact that he introduces the sentiment and dwells upon it for the purpose of asserting that the "land department of the present administration has devoted its energies to remedy the defects and correct abuses in the public land service," is too transparent a device to detract from the merit of the first assertion. The protection of our public domain from the blight of foreign syndicates and domestic corporation is one of the most pressing duties of congress, far surpassing in value to a future generation the question of tariff revision. The laudation of "civil service reform," in the full face of administration records, is amusing—that is all. Though reasonably concise, the redundancy of the document is best shown by reading the concluding six lines and reflecting that these contain the meat of the whole chesnut.

Lady Colin Campbell is getting to be as much of a nuisance as her hog. She is getting too common and numerous; in which case who cares for the woman. If London society recognizes Lord Colin Campbell as a gentleman, it should see that Dilke is canoized at once.

The infractions of the treaty of 1818 by unwarranted interference with the rights of American fishermen by British authorities in Canadian waters is presented to congress in able state papers. Let us see what we shall see.

Observations.

Posters announce that three lectures are to be given at the Christian church Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, by Prof. T. F. Campbell.

McMinnville jewelry store is now the biggest and largest west of Portland and the cheapest in Oregon. Wm. Holl, proprietor.

Clarence Turner wishes it understood that in future he will not, under any circumstances, take charge of delayed letters, to be dropped into the mail car at the depot.

Next Monday and Tuesday Apperson's store interior will be topsy turvey in consequence of changes in shelving. Call now, and then after these improvements are made.

Why do you pay for inferior silver plated table ware big prices, if you get at the McMinnville jewelry store, Wm. Holl, the best and finest can be had for the same price.

Most Rev. Wm. H. Gross, Archbishop of Oregon, will preach at the Catholic church next Sunday, the 12th., at the 10:30 o'clock mass, and in the evening, at 7:30; also next Monday at the same hour. Arch Bishop Gross is one of the eminent speakers of the age, and the public generally are invited to attend these services.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumers, as well as relieving the burden of home manufactures. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Bochee's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen, has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size. The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and The German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size.
