McMinnville, Or. - Dec. 14, 1886

New Year Edition.

The staff of the Reporter are now at work upon the great edition for New Years. Each town in the county will be visited and its past, present and future outlook given to our readers in readable form. This edition will surpass anything yet attempted by the publishers.

OUR MERCHANTS, LAWYERS, DOCTORS AND PATRONS.

Are informed that now is the opportunity to send in your orders for copies of our great edition for New Years, as this will be strictly a county paper for the benefit of the county, is expected that liberal patronage will be extended. The size of the weekly will be eight pages, eight columns to the page, just twice the present size. If you do not leave your orders now, you will not have a chance later on. The price will be single copy 10 cents, or three for 25 cents. Now is your chance to advertise old Yamhill to the world by sending to your friends in the east, an issue of this great edition.

HOW DOES THIS STRIKE YOU?

The Next President

Must be chosen in 1888. The time will be thundering along here so soon that you will not realize the fact and know anything about it, unless you wake up. We have made an arrangement with E. W. Fox, President and manager of the Washington city National Republican by which we can furnish EVERY SUBSCRIBER TO THE REPORTER, who walks up to the Captains office and planks down his dollar and a half for THIS PAPER, for 1887, with the National Republican TWO YEARS 1887-1888; for ONE DOLLAR ADDITIONAL. Can you see that proposition? TWO papers for 1887—and ONE for 1888 for ONLY $2.50 CASH up and no back talk. The National Republican advocates the principles and policies of the republican party, and to that end support its nominees. It believes our republican form of government is the best; therefore the constitutionally expressed will of the majority should rule. That "political power is the only security for civil rights." That these blessings can only be enjoyed by a free people who have the patriotism and the bravery to demand a free ballot and an honest count throughout the confines of the republic. That the American laborer, as well as capital, has the right to organize and use the power of the ballot to protect himself against the curse of underpaid foreign labor and domestic servile labor, both of which are aided and abetted by the democratic party. The National Republican will favor such adjustment of the custom dues as will give revenue to the government and protection to American industries and labor. It will advocate the enlargement of the free list by such a requisition of the tariff as will place upon it, and keep there, necessary articles of consumption which are more cheaply produced below the frost line; such as sugar, molasses, tea, and coffee. It will favor a sound and sensible metallic and paper currency of national issue upon such a basis as will cause gold, silver, and paper to associate upon a par in the payment of public and private dues. It will favor the education of children at the expense of the local, the state, and the natural government. In the interest of cheap transportation between the producer and the consumer it will favor the improvement and construction of navigable waterways at national expense. It will especially advocate the location of a permanent Exposition at the National Capital of the material and products of the people of the western hemisphere. The success of the principles and policies stated The National Republican believes will tend to develop the resources of our country, increase the property of our people, and influence of republican institutions throughout the world. The Reporter will continue to lead in old Yamhill, and if you want to join the caravan, get in and drill. Pay off the old score, enlist anew, and take a clean ticket for the excursion. Only $2.50 cash; no more jaw bone.

Even the approach of congress gave the president rheumatism in the knees.

It is hard to see why Dilke should be ostracised if Lord Colin Campbell, son of the Duke of Argyle, and brother to the queen's son-in-law, is fit for social recognition.

War Inevitable.

A London dispatch to the New York Star last Saturday indicates that a European war is now definitely looked for. Hostilities are expected to commence in about sixty days, at the latest, if the weather at that time should permit military operations on the enormous scale necessary to carry out the plan of campaign supposed to have been decided on. It is generally believed that Russia will be first to move, springing upon Austria without warning. Travelers returning here from Russia report extraordinary secrecy in military quarters and ceaseless movement of troops toward the German and Austrian frontiers. Work on ironclads is being pushed with feverish haste. Arsenal and navy yards are reported to be working night and day. It is believed there that the situation is the deliberate creation of Bismarck.

Gov.-Elect Bob Taylor, of Tennessee, says "the democratic party heeds more harmony. The printer set it up more hominy. Robert ought to know that the democratic party don't waste corn in that way."
