Merry Christmas.

Carol, brothers carol,

Christmas day has come again.

Take a look into all the show windows about town.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop left for Brownsville Thursday.

The boys expect to recover their lost shot guns.

What did you get in your stocking? We found a foot in ours.

A fifty dollar dress for a dollar is an elegant gift. At Mrs. M. Shadden's.

Leave your orders now for the great edition. Next week it will be too late.

That mud flood item in another column should have been credited to the Salem Statesman.

Henderson Bros. are preparing a lot of new box stalls for the accommodation of their trade.

No paper will be issued Monday morning from this office. The printer must rest as well as others.

Hon. W. J. McConnell was in the city yesterday bidding friends "good by." His family move to Moscow next week.

The list of presents, etc., at Dr. Smith's wedding did not reach us in time for publication with the announcement.

It seems to be settled that Father McGlynn, of New York, must go to Rome to answer to the Pope for supporting Henry George.

A new candidate for public favor is the Aurora Borealis, a family magazine, published by Bacon & Co., San Francisco, for only $1.50 per year.

The holiday number of the Eugene Register, comprising twelve pages, has reached our table. Hodson and Yoran are gentlemen from way back. Here's our Danger of the flood of mud has become so great that the committee on streets and public property yesterday started another man to work cleaning the sidewalks.

W. H. Warren is now purser of the ORN Co.'s steamer Chief, on the Wallamet, the fastest and best passenger boat on the route between Corvallis and Portland. Take a ride with him.

The number of ems as given in the great edition of the news, was put a 240,000 for twenty pages. There must be a mistake. The New Year edition of the Reporter has only eight pages, averaging 30,000 to the page, making a total 240,000 ems for the edition.

Sheridan lodge No 64 AF&AM., will install the following officers on St. John's day, the 27th, in lodge: H. W. Lamson W. M.; Lee Rowell S. W.; John Bones J. W.; Dr. W. Tyler Smith Treasurer; D. C. Coleman Secretary; H. B. Sommerville Tyler.

D. C. Coleman, Esq. the Nasby of Sheridan, paid us a pleasant visit yesterday. Mr. Coleman is one of the steadfast pioneers of Oregon. The first brick building put up in the state was built by him at the corner of Oak and Front streets, Portland, and there it still stands, in all its Jeffersonian simplicity; just as it did when the president of the nation used to send his messages to congress by mail. Then Mr. Coleman used to pay $1.40 for a letter from the states.

Married.

In Portland, Dec. 23d. 1886 by Rev. T. L. Elliott, Hon. F. J. Taylor of Astoria, and Miss Lizzie M. Anderson, of Portland.

Judge F. J. Taylor and wife paid McMinnville a flying trip yesterday, and delighted us with a brief visit. They left for San Francisco last evening on a bridal trip to California. The wedding took place at the residence of the brides mother, Mrs. W. H. Anderson, 206 Eleventh street, Thursday evening, Rev. T. L. Elliott officiating.

Remember the poor.
