McMinnville, Or. - Dec. 29, 1886

Rheumatic affections are prevalent.

Another college building is going up in the city.

A mosquito came buzzing about our ears Christmas evening. How is that for a test of climate?

After the first of January the mail will be again a daily mail from Sheridan to Grand Ronde.

Multner has advanced the price of meals at the St. Charles. He now furnishes the best meal in the city for 26 cents, and throws in the odd cent.

Geo. E. and John Pate, left for the mountains yesterday for a week's hunting. They will make their headquarters at the place of J. E. Janssen, Pleasant hill.

We are informed that the first brick in Portland was constructed long after the first brick in Yamhill county, which was the residence of Geo. Gay, near Wheatland.

Pomona Grange held their election at Amity last Saturday, and had a splendid good time. State lecturer Hayes was present. It ended with a grand Christmas dinner.

The storm night before last was a very severe one, for rain and wind. But it brought us no snow, and yesterday was as clear and bright as the mildest day in May.

Elsie Wright has purchased the lot next to Henderson Bros. stable on Third street, and will at once proceed with the construction of a building for a chop mill, wood yard, etc.

Fred Schwartz, an employe on the farm of Jos. Watt, lost a part of the thumb on his left hand on Monday, by a mislick with his little hatchet. Dr. Smith dressed the wound.

A good Band dance, such as every body enjoyed last winter, will be given by Custer Post Band Thursday evening, December 30th. Come and have a good time, at Band hall.

The whole story is out now: Lady (?) Colin Campbell is a daughter of the notorious Mrs. Woodhull, formerly of the Woodhull & Claflin Weekly obscene species of New York city.

"What shall we teach our boys?" was the question asked at a social gathering the other evening. "Teach them that they should be guided by the same standard of morals as their sisters," was one reply, which struck us forcibly.

Telephone.

Mrs. Carrie Scott of Portland, is up to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Adams.

A new postoffice has been established over in the Nestucca country at the mouth of Slab creek, called Burdick, with Mr. Burdick as postmaster.

We hear that Dr. Littlefield will soon start for Murray, where he has secured one of the hospitals, and has the assurance of all the county practice.

And now Columbia county has a murder case on hand. A worthless drunken vagabond kills a good man. This makes fifteen for Oregon for 1886.

Oregon is exchanging canvas back duck for Wisconsin wild rice. It is suggested that some wild celery be obtained also from the Chesapeake; then with our Wapato this would soon be the sportsman's elysium.

Baltes & Co., are moving into their new quarters, Oak and Second streets, Portland. Where their facilities will be increased by the addition of new and improved machinery and printing materials. No delay will be had as new and improved machinery will be in operation at both places until next week, when their new quarters will be open for the inspection of the public.

Why is it that certain of the Portland press insist upon stringing a lot of jackasses on the same string with leading citizens is what they term society notes. We speak from the card when we say that it was distasteful to certain ladies, and a few gentleman, to read the list in the Telegram after the last Wednesday night party at Masonic hall. Such things are silly, indiscreet and stupid.

On the morning of December 30th, Mr. White will call upon the business houses of this city with copies of the New Year edition. Its contents cover all topics, consisting of able editorials and current events, stories by well known writers, selected poems, Yamhill county and its business interest, pioneer days, local and miscellaneous news, making it a vehicle of public information unsurpassed in the history of country journalism in the northwest. It behoves our resident citizens to take one or more extra copies, and send to friends outside of the county. The price has finally been placed at 10 cents per copy, owing to the increased cost of production, it is no boast to state that the issuing of this New Years number will cost the publishers over $300. Having had constantly employed for the past month a force of five men and two ladies.
