Cheap and Dainty Fancy Work— Suggestions for Ornaments.

Fancy work is not an expensive amusement, and it is one that most women, even those of moderate means, must have. There are many articles that may be made for a little money and will look as pretty and artistic as those costing more. One of the prettiest of bureau covers is made out of a couple of yards of Swiss, covered with little white flowers. The material is worth 10 or 12 cents a yard. Cut it in the desired shape and with a little yellow and pink silk floss work the roses alternately yellow and pink, or scarlet and yellow, or any other combination that may be desired. The effect is exceedingly pretty. The edges should be turned in, bordered with some pretty, cheap lace, and, of course, a few bows of ribbon will add to its beauty. Small toilet mats may be made in the same way.

An artistic pincushion is made out of a half yard of soft surah or China silk, of some bright shade, such as yellow or scarlet. Cut the silk crosswise into three equal parts and make each into a little bag, with a deep hem at the mouth. Fill the bag with bran or cotton and tie just below the hem with narrow satin ribbon, the color of the silk, leaving butterfly bows at each side. The three bags are then joined together at the tops with a few strong stitches and the cushion is finished. Owls, birds, and other animals are sometimes painted on the silk. The cost of such a cushion would be about 75 cents, and make a pretty gift.

Coarse canvas bagging, which is one of the cheapest of materials, is used extensively for decorative purposes, and with a little care may be made very effective. It may be made into bedroom portieres, mats, table covers, and other articles, and is excellent for "drawn" work. A handsome pair of portieres that are made of this material have just been completed for a bedroom closet. The dark fawn of the canvas is relieved about the edge by a wide band of outline stitch done in golden linen thread, and above this runs a row of Greenway figures in scarlet and blue. The edge is fringed for a depth of six inches, and a bow of scarlet ribbon ornaments a corner. A purse of netted silk is coveted by almost every woman. To make one, purchase a spool of knitting silk of the desired color, black or scarlet is the best, and, with a crochet needle, make a chain of forty-five stitches, and on this a row of long stitch, and then one of close stitch, and so until the strip is about eight inches long. Then sew together to form a bag, leaving the opening in the center of the seam. Put a silk and bead fringe on both ends, and purchase a pair of rings for the center. If a beaded purse is desired the beads must be strung on the silk before crocheting is begun. The entire spool must be unwound, threaded with beads, and rewound on another spool.

BERTHA.

Senator Saulsbury has introduced a bill in the senate looking towards the better regulation of the matter of aliens becoming citizens. The bill provides that after any alien shall have resided in the United States for three years he may present his petition for admission to citizenship. This petition shall be accompanied by an affidavit of a citizen stating that the petitioner has lived three years in the United States and one year within the state in which the application is made, and that during the time has behaved as a man of good moral character. Upon such presentation the court shall be subject to all the duties of citizenship, and have all the rights except that he shall not be entitled to vote until two years have elapsed from the issuance of his certificate. Minor children of foreign born citizens shall have the right of citizenship, provided they have lived three years within the United States. No person shall be admitted to citizenship who cannot speak English.

Hibbs was convicted at Lewiston on one count for forgery of postal order No 22,768.
