McMinnville, Or. - - Jan. 6, 1887

White lilacs are about ready to bloom.

The Choral Union will meet Tuesday evening at Mrs. Campbells.

Leslie Laughlin left for a visit to the city by the deep sounding sea, Astoria, yesterday.

Mrs. Eunice Martin, who has been a guest of Mrs. A. J. Apperson for several days, left for her South Yamhill home yesterday.

G. N. Holbrook, now of Colorado, but at the time of the Indian war nine years ago, a resident of Idaho, has just recovered a daughter from the savages whom he supposed was murdered with her mother.

The father of the young man, Homer Lowe, killed on the west side road last week, must be in rather an impecunious position. He took no financial view of the horrible affair such as would open his purse strings, whether the incident touched his heart or not.

If this city proposes to progress, it is time its board of trade was organized. It will not do to ignore vital interests at this juncture of affairs. Else there will be room for all and plenty to spare within the present corporate limits of the city, without further acquisition of territory from the surrounding country. Don't make any mistake. Organize your board of trade and act upon the progressive principle in corporate capacity.

Farmers generally throughout this valley are kicking against the Mongolian pheasant. They are not even a game bird. Pity the dog that, catching the scent, comes to a stand and expects to find his bird, is often mistaken. It may be there, and it may not. On foot they are the equal of any dog and seem to take pride in giving them chase through the tall grass or wheat. They cannot be depended on, for when the dog sets where the bird should be, it may be a hundred yards away and running at the rate of twenty-four knots an hour.

Eggs 20 cents and dull. The hens are at work.

Mr. and Mrs. Goulet have located at Spokane Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sloane are passengers on the incoming steamer.

The council will meet again Monday evening. In the meantime: "Talk it up."

S. C. Force grasped our phist on the street yesterday. He begins to look, and act, and feel, like a new man.

Wheat has advanced four shillings in Liverpool since the first of last October. This means something. We give latest quotations to-day.

The venerable W. H. Bishop, of Dayton, Washington, one of the oldest members of the family, uncle to C. P. Bishop, is on a visit to this city.

We are constantly receiving baits to catch suckers. Suppose every one in Yamhill gets them from the Portland retail traders. Buy at home, of merchants whom you know, and save your credit.

W. G. Cameron and Frank Wenn are under arrest and will be examined at Lafayette to-day in connection with the disappearance of the horse which strayed from the pasture of A. K. Olds last month.

Let us as a city, improve the streets we have. And let us reach out for the county trade, not repel it by an over-dose of "grab" for territory and mud, at the risk of legitimate business. Go slow for a minute.

Slippery-elm bark is a good remedy for scaly boilers, and has been successfully used for a number of years. It is placed in the boiler and left there, the scale falling off in flakes, which should at once be removed.

Everybody, all over the county, even in Lafayette, sign the petition asking the assembly to let us vote upon the relocation of the county seat for Yamhill county. That is right. We have enough to annoy us without hanging to this slender thread of discord in our county politics.

There are so many points to be raised all over this county about "McMINNVILLE SELFISHNESS" that perhaps it would be well to consider the propositions before the council for a revision of the town charter, in a sort of committee of the whole. If this place is to prosper in the future, let us profit a little from the past.

It is impossible to describe the misery of London.

Washington city is called the marriage market of America.

It is said that Gen. Logan's disappointments killed him.

The tax on sugar has got to go; that's all there is about it.

Our defenseless coasts seem to be attracting attention from abroad. It is time.

The Emma Abbott Opera company will appear at New Market on the 31st.

People out around the country call McMinnville a typhoid hole. Ditch the town and stop their yaup.

The McMinnville WCTU will hold a special meeting for further advancement of the temperance work, immediately after the Band of Hope Saturday, 3 p. m. All members requested to be present.

The "uniquet" New Year card we have seen for a life time comes to C. W. Talmage from O. N. Hall. It just knocks the socks off Spencer's antiquated book. Ask Charley to let you see it.

Two horrible railroad disasters are reported, one on the Baltimore and Ohio, and one on the Boston and Albany Jan. 3d, almost exact counterparts of each other. "Behind time" caused both, and the loss of life is terrible.

The Evening Democrat remarks, parenthetically, upon saying that Vanderbilt has won the big Nickel Plate case in Ohio in the U. S. circuit court that: "In fact it has reached a point where money, almost invariably, wins and when a judge is found, like Gresham, who decides honestly and against money, the people instantly wish to make him president. The times are out of joint."

Ex-Congressman Murch, the stone cutter who surprised everybody by defeating Eugene Hale for congress in 1879, died a short time since in an insane asylum at Danvers, Mass. His career was a wonderful one and his end was extremely sad. The sequel to the last was told by the declaration that he was one of a large class of men "who cannot stand prosperity."

There are over twelve hundred patents at the Oregon city land office. Parties wishing to know if their patent is among the number can estimate. Usually the patent is ready about fifteen months after the date of the final receipt.

Observations.

Mrs. Breon is prepared to receive a few day boarders. Three gentlemen can be furnished with rooms. Corner of Third and H streets, last house on the right before crossing railroad track.

Ladies gold and silver watches at a big bargain at the McMinnville jewelry store.

Miss Belle Johnson, teacher of music in McMinnville and at McMinnville college. Residence corner of Second and C Streets.

McMinnville jewelry store is now the biggest and largest west of Portland and the cheapest in Oregon. Wm. Holl, proprietor.

Why do you pay for inferior silver plated table ware big prices, if you get at the McMinnville jewelry store, Wm. Holl, the best and finest can be had for the same price.
