M. Underwood wants a No. 1 fresh milch cow. Jersey preferred.

Hon. T. B. Henderson of Amity called yesterday on his way home from Lafayette.

The locks and water power at Oregon city have passed into the hands of a syndicate, which will prove to be a boon to western Oregon.

The way to build a city is to build it, and not wait for the spirit to move us. Let us mark the progress of this year with something substantial in McMinnville.

Hibbs was sentenced to a term of five years. This was a forced put nearly; as the judge gave the jury to understand that a verdict of guilty must be had. As the Telegram says: It will tend to justify the British government for refusing extradition to criminals of his class hereafter. The case will be notable in the judicial annals of the country as being one of much ado about nothing.

Albany has been celebrating for something these five years past. Her latest was the junction of the OPR with OCR at that point. The approach of the train from Yaquina was greeted by cheers, waving of handkerchiefs, and inspiring music by the band. Mayor Weatherford delivered an address of welcome, which was responded to by Vice President Wallis Nash. The draw-bridge was formally opened, and citizens invited to a free ride over the new road to Corvallis. Many availed themselves of the opportunity.

When Gen. Manteuffel in 1866 levied a contribution of 25,000,000 florins $10,000,000 on Frankfort Baron Rothschild was indignant and demanded: "Does your excellency realize the full meaning of the word million? Has your excellency ever seen a million of money?" The general was nonplussed, as indeed, he had never seen such a sum at once, and to get out of the pickle he altogether remitted the contribution. Frankfort hereafter always considered Rothschild "a bigger man" than Manteuffel. Once before that Gen. Falkenstein made an assessment of $2,280,000 upon the city, and sent two soldiers, with a wheelbarrow to fetch it. He was much surprised to learn that that sum of money weighed about fifty tons.

A Tramp's Philosophy.

I've been 'round this country from Texas to Maine,

And mostly with nary a red;
I've walked it for miles in the wettest of rain,

And slept on a board for a bed.
But I've learnt a few comforting facts by the way.

While living this queer life of mine,
And the principal one of the lot, let me say,

Is "it's better to whistle than whine."
I know that winter's a comin' on fast;

I'm aware that a home I ain't got;
I see the clothes I'm wearin won't last,
Till I reach a more torrid spot.

But nobody yet has discovered in me
Anxiety's tiniest sign;

And it's jest 'cause I learnt in my youth don't you see
That "it's better to whistle than whine."

It strikes me somehow that it's mighty durn queer

That fellers much wiser than me
Keep kickin' because this terrestrial sphere

Ain't jest what they want it to be.
Their parents have filled them with Latin and Greek,

But their logic ain't equal to mine,
Or else they would know every day in the week

That "it's better to whistle than whine."

The tax levy in Yamhill county for the current year has been fixed at 13.7-20 mills, per dollar. This is less than the levy for 1886; a gradual reduction.

Gold is pouring in from Europe as if the yellow metal were anxious for intimate relations with our bright and beautiful white dollars. "In God we trust" that this influx will not make the monometallists weary.

The old misers of the east commenced dying off last year. The first of the crop of 1887 is reported at Philadelphia. Jo Perry and Bob Price, cousins, 75 years of age, passed in their checks in squalid solitude. Perry left from $100,000 to $250,000. Both died hungry. Bob didn't leave so much as Jo.

The Grand Army of the Republic has taken hold of the Mormon question vigorously. The local posts of the GAR in Utah have issued appeals to the order throughout the country, setting forth that the Mormons are greater enemies of our republic than were even the rebels of '61, and that they are at enmity with American institutions, hostile to our flag and opposed to our government. The recent encampment at San Francisco passed resolutions calling upon congress to pass the Edmunds-Tucker bill or some other equally stringent law to curb the rapidly increasing power and hostility of the Mormon church.

Observations.

No one deserves the least sympathy for suffering from piles when he can be cured by calling on Dr. Taylor at the office of Dr. Johnson. Without additional pain, without the use of the knife or chloroform, and if the cure is not complete and satisfactory, no charges. If you can't accept these terms you ought to suffer.

Will remain a few days. Irving and White, the popular repairers will remain here for a few days only to give those who desire to have their Pianos, Organs or Sewing Machines, tuned, cleaned or repaired by first class workmen. These gentlemen have had twenty years practical experience in their business. Satisfaction guaranteed. No money required until parties have had time to test work and are satisfied. They will do work by the "live and let live" rule. Give them a trial. We can vouch for them that they are realiable and will do as they agree.

Advertisements, etc., intended for publication in The Weekly Reporter must be handed in Tuesday morning. We cannot in future deviate from this rule.

Mrs. Breon is prepared to receive a few day boarders. Three gentlemen can be furnished with rooms. Corner of Third and H streets, last house on the right before crossing railroad track.

Miss Belle Johnson, teacher of music in McMinnville and at McMinnville college. Residence corner of Second and C Streets.
