

The Daily Reporter.

D. C. IRELAND & CO. PUBLISHERS.

McMinnville, Or. - - Jan. 20, 1887

A few tiny flakes of snow fell in this latitude longitudinally yesterday; just a few.

The Central hotel will be all newly painted and calcimined for the new tenant Frank Mulner.

Hyman Abrams, Frank T. Dodge and Al. Zieber, are applicants for the collectorship of customs at Portland.

It is the proper thing to do to convene the people now at an early day, and complete the arrangements for a board of trade.

It was reported here yesterday that a snow blockade existed on the lines of eastern railway, and tickets would not be sold beyond the Dalles, but yesterday's dailies say nothing about it.

The reports of 24 feet of snow at Oshkosh, Wis., thermometer 28 deg. below zero at St. Paul, and ten feet of snow over a large part of the Inland Empire was to us more chilling than the weather here yesterday.

Messrs. Logan Bros. & Henderson will have a fine place of business for somebody on Third street, in a few days, after the transfer is made from the old to the new stables.

Mr. C. Symons is about to reconsider his resolutions and remain with us. This is a good idea, suggested by numerous friends. He is strongly pressed to remain in business here as tailor, hatter, and gents furnishing goods dealer.

After a most social and pleasant party given by Mrs. Wm. Logan for Miss Fannie Musgrove, Tuesday evening, a charade club was organized, which will hold semi-monthly meetings hereafter, and prove to be a source of much amusement among our young folks these long winter evenings.

The United States Mail tells us much about the hardships of the fourth class postmasters, but is silent upon the point that they are often compelled to carry large sums of a deficiency, without hope of interest, just to accommodate some person to whom the government owes the funds. Uncle Sam expects more from a postmaster of this class than old Shylock ever exacted. It is time congress took notice of these things.

Going Home.

Kiss me when my spirit flies;
Let the beauty of your eyes
Beam along the waves of death
While I draw my parting breath,
And am borne to yonder shore
Where the billows beat no more,
And the notes of endless spring
Through the groves immortal ring.

I am going home to-night,
Out of blindness into sight,
Out of weakness, war and pain,
Into power, peace and gain,
Out of winter gale and gloom
Into summer breath and bloom;
From the wanderings of the past
I am going home at last.

Kiss my lips and let me go:
Nearer swells the solemn flow
Of the wonderous stream that rolls
By the borderland of souls:
I can catch sweet strains of songs
Floating down from distant throngs,
And can feel the touch of hands
Reaching out from angel bands.

Anger's frown and Envy's thrust,
Friendship chilled by cold distrust,
Sleepless night and weary morn,
Toil in fruitless land forlorn,
Aching head and breaking heart,
Love destroyed by Slander's dart,
Drifting ship and darkened sea,
Over there will righted be.

—James G. Clark.

Hon. Eugene Hale has been re-elected United State senator from Maine. He is at present a member of that body.

Uncle Jephtha has lost the glass water pitcher at the Opera house. It was possibly taken away with other things after the Odd Fellows' festival, and is perhaps some place in the city awaiting an owner.

The ringing of church bells in east Portland, is a topic freely discussed in the papers. Some of the language used is more forcible than elegant, and sounds harsh from ministers of the gospel.

The Columbia river fish wheels are to be legislated right out of the water, but they are no where along side of shad, as a destroyer of salmon. Halt; right about face, gents; and go for Spencer Baird, and some of his idiosyncracies.

The report of the senate committee on transportation routes shows thirty three years ago we produced 100,000,000 bushels of wheat and about 600,000,000 bushels of corn. Twice in recent years we have reached 500,000,000 bushels of wheat, and in 1885 the corn crop reached 1,800,000,000 bushels—a five-fold increase in wheat and a three-fold increase in corn. Wheat, in fifty-eight years, has added $2,600,000,000 to the value of our national productions.
