McMinnville, Or. - - Jan. 27, 1887

Firemen's supper for the brave laddies, Thursday, Feb. 1st.

D. C. Ireland left for Portland yesterday, via the narrow gauge route.

Coffee is high, but C. Grissen still offers bargains in green and roasted coffee.

Oscar Rennie, foreman of the West Side at Independence, called yesterday.

"A tale of '49," written for the Reporter, will soon be run through the daily.

T. D. Henderson's compliments were received at this office yesterday. Thanks.

Prof. Crowhurst lectured at the Opera house last evening to an appreciative audience.

The next meeting of the Choral Union will be at the residence of Dr. Tucker, February 8th,

Read Hodson's new "ad." They are splendid mechanics and do just what they advertise.

Snow is fast covering up the hills back of town, and a cold, drizzling rain is falling at this writing.

Elsie Wright has commenced hauling stone for the foundation of his new building, on the lot adjoining Henderson Bros. livery stable.

Rev. G. J. Burchett contemplates, at an early day, to change his residence to Portland, as his future duties lay in that field. It is not definitely settled as yet.

The time table of the narrow gauge line will be found in this issue, complete. No other paper, as yet, has published it in so convenient a form. The line is fast becoming popular.

John Morgan while out hunting for deer recently, with three fine hounds, came suddenly upon a bear. In the conflict that ensued, the finest dog lost his life, and the bear escaped.

A fine poetical effort will be found on the first page of this issue. Mr. Grissen is a graceful writer and handles his subjects with ease and ability. His many able contributions are duly appreciated by the proprietors.

A committee of the Lorillard strikers last night demanded the discharge of those of their number who had returned to work, as the price of declaring the strike off. This was refused.

Strikers continued to return to work in small parties to-day.

Chief Engineer Henderson requests us to state that on Eeb-ruary first a firemen's election will be held to elect a chief engineer, one assistant, a secretary and treasurer. Immediately afterwards the various companies will elect local officers. On the same evening a supper will be tendered the department.

Boulanger, who will be the biggest French general next to Napoleon if he lives to beat Germany, is working hard to prepare the victory which many Frenchmen are prophesying. His last investment is in 200,000 shells loaded with melinite, the new explosive invented by two French officers, who guard the secret well.

Now the United States government has, by statute, virtually prohibited and put down the manufacture of oleomargarine, the Astorian asks: Does the state of Oregon need the continuance of the present office of dairy commissioner? We answer yes; most emphatically. The law of congress is so utterly defective that state law is necessary to punish violations of the national act.

The country near Cottage grove in Lane county, was visited by a young cyclone Saturday last. Large trees were torn up by the roots, fence rails were carried 300 feet into the air, and general havoc prevailed wherever it went. This is something new for the Wallamet valley, and this young cyclone was probably an orphan that had lost its parents and wandered away from home.

State News.

Diphtheria is raging in San Francisco.

The steamer Topsy is engaged in rafting logs on the river near Independence.

On account of heavy obstruction on the O&C road near Ashland, the California mail goes and comes by the way of the Short line.

G. C. Israel, the lawyer who killed Mr. Cohen at Baker city some time since, has been acquitted by the circuit court of Baker county.

Eugene will erect more buildings next summer than any other town in Oregon outside of Portland. Work will commence early in the spring.

J. M. Kitchen has been appointed postmaster at Irving, Lane county, vice S. A. Bond, removed. Another republican rose nipped by the democratic frost.

When the people of San Francisco and the surrounding country heard that terrific explosion of a cargo of giant powder, they thought the Hill boom had struck "the slope" endwise.

A reward of $5,000 is offered by A. E. Eaton for the apprehension and conviction of the murderer or murderers of Willis Skiff, on North Powder, Union county. One thousand dollars additional is offered by the county.
