Another Choice lot of fresh made Cream Candy at C. Grissen's.

Vestry meeting at Dr. Johnson's office this evening at eight o'clock.

The north Yamhill has put the Guant bridge four feet under water at one end.

Coffee is high, but C. Grissen still offers bargains in green and roasted coffee.

Hon. W. D. Fenton has been called away to eastern Oregon on important business.

Barnekoff & Co., will represent the Staver & Walker house in this city in the future.

Articles for the Art Exhibition at the firemen's fair may be left at E. B. Fellows' furniture store.

Jas. Flett and family are snowed out from the mill, and are pleasantly located in the city.

The broom brigade will be present promptly at roll call at 7 o'clock at the Opera house this evening.

The firemen will hold their annual election to-morrow evening, with the annual supper to follow, at the Opera house.

Malt whisky has ruined Duncan Sniffen, and he is stranded as an advertising agent, with nothing to pay.

If the South Yamhill gets much higher than it is this afternoon, damages are likely to result to the bridges.

Mrs. Carl Young is very ill, at her home in Lafayette. She has been attended by her mother, but as she was compelled to return to-day, Miss Lillie Newgard, her sister has gone over.

An Emory Harmony Book was lost to-day on the road between the Cozine bridge and Grange store. Finder will be suitably rewarded on leaving the same at Rogers & Todd's city drug store.

A new style banjo, which is the invention of Jones Howell of this city, throws the music deliberately to the front, up from under the sounding board which is sustained by brass supports. It is indeed an improvement.

California Comb Honey at C. Grissen's.

Board of trade meet this evening at the city council.

We need a heavy frost to check the wild oats crop.

J. R. Shaw has been appointed postmaster at Oretown.

We inadvertently over looked the explanation of little Miss Hembree's riddle in the Farmer. It was a shadow.

Dinner costs fifty cents at Dundee, but you get half a dollars' worth of wholesome food, well dished up.

It is now pretty certainly established cinabar does exist in the coast range on the line between this and Tillamook counties.

The legislative assembly made an excursion to Yaquina Saturday, the bridges washed out, and there they are; to the number of about forty.

California butter is now for sale in McMinnville because our merchants cannot get a supply of good butter at home. Fresh rolls are in demand.

Mr. Monroe, of Willamina, passed up from the capital yesterday. He is interested in a bill that should pass, to secure a wagon road to Netarts bay from Willamina.

There came very near being a fire at the Peckham house last evening, by the upsetting of a table with a kerosene lamp upon it. Marshal Kauffman and Wee Davy happened to be near, and rendered valuable services.

The Yamhill river is booming; and so is this city. We want a woolen mill here, gas and water works, a system of drainage, and a horse car line to McMinnville junction on the narrow gauge; all of which will duly appear.

We are glad to know that wise councils prevail in our municipal corporation, and that very fair amendments will be asked to the charter from the assembly at Salem. There is not now any disposition to secede any set up any sort of empire upon our town site. So mote it be.

A Card.

People musn't think it was me who was engaged in the street fight either with or against P. F. Brown last week, as I have too much business to attend to at the Opposition Boot and Shoe store, to indulge in any such luxuries.

Burial of Mrs. Newby.

One of the largest funerals that has ever occurred in this city took place yesterday at the burial of Mrs. Newby, from the Christian church. Mrs. Newby's death occurred in Salem, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Lemon, but this being her home from territorial days, and her husband having been buried here, the remains were brought over from Salem, and the family were summoned from all parts of the state to attend. There were present her only sister, Mrs. Lovejoy, of Oregon city, five daughters, one son and four sons-in-law; Mr. and Mrs. Lemon, Judge and Mrs. Watson, T. B. Ladd and wife, C. N. Graves and wife, Miss Rosa and Luther Newby. Fully eight hundred friends attended. The service was opened by the hymn

"Time is winging us away,"
By a picked choir of fifteen voices lead by Prof. Crawford, Miss Rosa Hembree, organist. Rev. J. W. Webb followed the opening prayer by Rev. J. G. Burchett, in a brief but touching sermon, so very fitting to the occasion that but few if any eyes were witness to the impressive scene without dropping the tear of sympathy or sorrow. At the close of the service the casket was opened and while the choir sang—

"Asleep in Jesus,"
The vast audience passed in line, fronting, and viewed for the last time the features of their good neighbor of other days.

Mrs. Newby was born in Kentucky in 1824, came to Oregon in 1843, and was universally beloved. The pall bearers yesterday were Judge Cows, C. A. Wallace, W. C. Hembree, Jacob Wisecarver, J. E. Brooks and J. Todd.

Not even a lurking doubt shadows our mind, with regard to house bill No. 18. When the regular order of business is adhered to, it will take its proper place. It is now engrossed in the house for a third reading to-morrow. To some bills perhaps to-morrow never comes, but house bill No. 18 will get there, Eli; and don't you forget it.

Dr. Watts, from the committee on education, has reported a resolution to amend the state constitution by a section prohibiting the sale of liquor as a beverage. It passed the senate by 25 to 4, the minority being represented by Chandler, Gray, Hamilton and Stanley.
