CITY.

Clark Braly lost 12 fine sheep by worthless curs, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tapp left on Wednesday for their home at Oakland, Or.

The attendance at the mission service during the past week, has been usually good.

Mrs. Frank Leslie wears diamonds as big as hen's eggs, and they hatch a great deal of envy.

A boy was born to the family of Mr. Feulner yesterday. Mother and child are doing well.

The service at St. James church this (Friday) evening at 7:30 will be specially addressed to man in general.

Dr. Taylor goes to Corvallis on Wednesday and Thursday of each week to attend cases he is treating there.

A good piano must be placed in the Opera house next week for the fair, to make the exercises a complete success.

Keep your "piles" and keep your money, if you wish; that is one of the blessings we enjoy under the government in which we live.

All parties desirous of competing for the conundrum prize are requested to hand them in to the committee to-morrow without fail.

We notice an article in an exchange headed, "How to Trim a Waste-Basket." We trim our waste-basket with Beautiful Snow poems just now, and it looks real handsome.

W. P. Johnson, of Salem, has completed arrangements for opening a photograph gallery at this place. He will make regular trips here during the spring and summer. Due notice will be given through the papers.

—An examination of the daily and weekly papers of this state for the past ninety days shows that there are in jail awaiting trial or now on trial, for various offences, eleven boys under sixteen years of age.

The Open Temperance society will meet at Grange hall, Monday evening, Feb. 21st, at 7 o'clock. Election of officers for the ensuing year and other matters of interest. All are invited, especially those interested in the work of temperance.

The Coldwater Mich., Courier announces the death of the wife of Adam Thurstin of Bronson, Feb. 4th. Mrs. T. was an aunt by marriage to the L. H. Cook family of this county. She was 79 years of age. The couple lived together 53 years.

A great many Branch county, Mich., people in these parts will recollect the old pioneer barber F. R. Jenkins. Many of us were shaved by this honest old colored gent. He passed away Jan. 30th, and the Courier gives a splendid sketch of his life.

Talk is cheap but when you get down to business A. H. & O. O. Hodson, can sell you better bargains in hardware, tinware, stove, ranges and anything you may want in this line, at better prices than any other firm in the county. If you have got cash to spend and want to get the value of your money, bring it to the only house in the county that is capable of fulfilling any order you may give them, and satisfaction guaranteed. A word to the wise, etc.

The second annual convention of the Oregon State Sunday School Association will be held at Salem, Oregon, commencing Tuesday evening, March 8th, and closing Wednesday evening, March 9th, 1887. This will be a mass convention and all interested in the Sunday School work will be welcome to participate in the work of the convention, but to insure a representation, all Sunday School throughout the state are earnestly requested to elect delegates pledged to them.

Communicated.

In Fridays Telephone, some eavesdropper expresses his opinion about the Jubilee singers. We will inform him that we were not rehearsing for the criticism of one whose idea of music aspires no higher than the braying of an ass. It was for those who can appreciate the cultured voices of a well-trained manichoir. He evidently thinks he is a vocalist, and feels that he is a flower that is born to blush unseen. He has a good voice for 24ct beer, and if practice makes perfect, he will be able at the next fair to sing a solo that will kill all the hard kickers on the committee.

THE JUBILEES.

Kissed By Mail.

A young postmaster of a village postoffice was hard at work when a gentle tap was heard upon the door, and in stepped a bashful maiden of sixteen, with a money order, which she desired cashed. She handed it to the official with a bashful smile, who, after closely examining it, handed her the money it called for. At the same time he asked her if she had read what was written on the margin of the order.

"No, I have not," she replied, "for I cannot make it out. Will you please read it for me?"

The young postmaster read as follows: "I send you three dollars and a dozen kisses."

"Yes," she said, "if he has sent me any kisses I want them, too."

It is hardly necessary to say that the balance of the order was promptly paid, and in a scientific manner at that, and eminently satisfactorily to the country maiden, for she went out of the office smacking her lips as if there was a taste upon them she never encountered before.

After she arrived home she remarked to her mother: "Eh, mother, but this postoffice system of ours is a great thing, developing more and more every year, and each new feature added, seems to be best. Jimme sent me a dozen kisses along with the money-order, and the postmaster gave me twenty. It beats the special delivery system all hollow."

The improvement of the Columbia river is all important in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana territories. Senator Mitchell has just finished one of the best reports on the subject that has ever been made. We have read it with deep interest; and regret that we are not editing the Oregonian, that we might extend its publicity. The space in the Reporter is too limited for publication entire.

The Charade club will hold its next meeting at Mrs. Reed's, two weeks from last Wednesday.
