Have you seen Jeff. D. Fenton's new sign? If the conundrum season hadn't passed we should be tempted to impose one. Why is it so much like Jeff. himself? Because its away up.

Custer Post band will not go down. But from the proposition of Hon. Wm. Galloway the dear people intend to—go down—into their pockets and hold the boys up. Call the roll: Here.

The finest affair of the week was the exhibition at the Opera house last evening. The Jubilee singers covered themselves with crowning glory, and furnished more laughable matter for the crowded attendance than was ever got out of one engagement in this city before. The Mop Brigade was a big card; but at the last Revenge was Sweet.

Chicago report advises the discovery of another wonderful cave in Kentucky. A partial exploration shows many rooms of great extent. There have been found two skeletons, and considerable money and silverware. The cave has not as yet been thoroughly searched, but it is undoubtedly another wonderful series of subterranean cavities. It is supposed that it was the hiding place during the late war of the guerrilla band of "Bloody Bill Grady." The cave will be thoroughly explored, if possible.

Yesterday's dispatches indicated the failure of Bismarck to secure an election in Germany entitled to his demands. If such is the case the old chancellor will be mad enough to fight somebody sure.

At a meeting of many citizens last night, held in the Art Gallery at Garrison Opera house, Capt. E. B. Fellows was called to the chair and John E. Brooks chosen secretary. A set of resolutions, too lengthy for publication, were adopted thanking Messrs. Wilhelm & Stroble of Portland, for the use of the convex mirror which aided the committee in netting a very handsome sum of money for the firemen, and it was resolved that whenever any of our boys go to Portland they call upon Peter and Fritz at the Resort—about lunch time.

Mr. Garrison informs us that diligent search fails to reveal one live stalk of blackberry in over two acres of his patch. This may be taken as an evidence of the fact that our spring like early winter and the sudden check lastly experience has put a veto upon small fruits in this valley. Peaches, pears, etc, generally appear to be all right.

The annual dinner of the New York Republican Club upon the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln was attended by two hundred and seventy-five of the leading republicans of the nation. We want to publish full reports of everything pertaining to the fair just closed; we should be glad if we could give the name of each one connected in any manner with it, as fireman, committee, participant, attendant or otherwise; but of course we cannot, unless we get up a special edition. That's absolutely impossible; but, why doubt our ability after all we have done; if these reports are not full just call upon the chief engineer. He's Fuller.

Many, Many Thanks.

The committee on art gallery extend their thanks to the citizens for their liberal patronage, and kind friends who gave us a helping hand in furnishing things to make our art gallery a perfect success. E. B. Fellows, John E. Brooks.
