CITY.

Born, a daughter to Mrs. D. C. Narver.

The total receipts of the fair amounted to $291.37.

Dr. Dodd of Albany, was in the city on business to-day.

Hon. Joe Gaston returned our call this a. m. We are pleased to meet him in old Yamhill.

J. E. Fenton, of Eugene city is on a visit to relatives in this county.

Mr. Kingery was in the city yesterday. He says the probabilities are for warm wet weather until the 10th.

Hon. W. D. Fenton has a reply to the letter addressed to Hon. Wm. Reid, by the board of trade. It is favorable.

E. P. Thomasen is off in the country for a few days on business. Mr. Hansen is at the office on Third street at present.

Mr. Hodson returned from Newberg last night. There was no perceptible improvement in the condition of Mrs. Hoskins when he left for home.

McMinnville has at last furnished us with a dog fight. It was short and decisive. Bets were freely offered on the dog, but when he got to work a snow ball broke him all up.

J. W. Brasfield is enlarging and improving his house, at Seal rock, and will have quite a commodious hotel there next summer, for the benefit of tourists, who make the delightful trip to the rock.

Thanks of this office are due to Messrs Balfour, Guthrie & Co., of Portland, through their McMinnville agent Hon J. E. Magers for a most superb calendar for 1887. The very best that art can produce.

The Portland daily News now has full and complete dispatches from all portions of the world over the Mackay-Bennett Postal Telegraphic lines, and will soon become the leading newspaper of the Pacific Northwest.

The signal service bill has passed the senate by a very handsome vote, but we are unable to say whether it passed the house or not. If it did so, then the college at this city may soon expect apparatus for a signal station.

The Marine Journal of a recent date contains a fine portrait and a biographical sketch of Senator J. N. Dolph, who is a vice president and a prominent worker in the National Marine association.

The Mongolian pheasant bill failed to get through the senate. Many of the farmers don't like it at all. The birds are becoming a regular nuisance. They are very destructive to wheat and vegetables.

Work has been commenced on the last span of the Morrison street bridge at Portland. When this span is finished it will only remain for the draw to be built when Portland and east Portland will be connected by bridge.

St. James church, Rev. John C. Fair rector. Services to-morrow at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. This being the last Sunday in the month, the usual childrens choral services, will be had at 9:30 a. m., at which time Holy Baptism will be administered. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

We print this over the signature of Mr. Stinit for his benefit.

I hereby notify all persons within this State that they shall not give or sell me any intoxicating drink whatever, under any consideration. If they do I shall prosecute them to the full extent of the law.

[Signed.] A. STINIT.

If he can let whiskey alone he is as smart a man for business as there is in Oregon.

Should the weather be pleasant it is possible that a delegation of our people will make our sister town a visit upon this occasion. All who wish to go are requested to leave names at this office, where arrangements for transportation can be made.

Subject at Baptist church next Sabbath evening will be, Inspiration of the Bible.

Dr. Taylor goes to Corvallis on Wednesday and Thursday of each week to attend cases he is treating there.

O. C. Hiatt will open a first class restaurant on Third street, where you can get a cup of coffee or a square meal, or a good cigar and not rupture your bank account.

A gentleman walking up Third street yesterday, discovered a five dollar piece in his pocket. He turned and went into Bishop & Kays, where he purchased a fine lot of toilet goods, and while in the store found out that overcoats were going off at cost this week.

Mr. Chapen, of Bellevue, was in the city yesterday. He is well posted upon the subject of underdrainage and the use of tiles, and is a very pleasant talker. We hope our farmer friends will cultivate his acquaintance. He is just from a thickly populated and prosperous region of the east, where farming has to be managed with a view of getting all the benefits that can be obtained.

Necklace Lost.

A little girls necklace has been lost somewhere in the city. The finder is requested to leave it at the store of J. Harve Henderson, and be suitably rewarded.
