Tributes to Women.

Confucius—Woman is the masterpiece.

Herder—Woman is the crown of creation.

Voltaire—Women teach us repose, civility and dignity.

John Quincy Adams—All that I am my mother made me.

Lamartine—There is a woman at the bottom of all great things.

Whittier—If woman lost us Eden, such as she can restore it.

E. S. Barrett—Woman is last at the cross and earliest at the grave.

Richter—No man can either live piously or die righteous without a wife.

N. P. Willis—The sweetest thing in life is the unclouded welcome of a wife.

Voltaire—All the reasonings of men are not worth one sentiment of women.

Beecher—Women are a new race, re-created since the world received Christianity.

Leopold Schaefer—But one thing on earth is better than the wife—that is the mother.

Shakespeare—For where is any author in the world teaches such beauty as a woman's eyes?

Michelet—Woman is the Sunday of man; not his repose only, but his joy, the salt of his life.

Margaret Fuller Ossoli—Woman is born for love, and it is impossible to turn her from seeking it.

An old citizen of Walla Walla is quoted as remarking: "No, I was never very lucky in the lottery business." The only men who ever are lucky in that business are those who sell, not those who buy the tickets. It has been calculated that a man wins a prize in a lottery about as often as he is struck by lightning.

Water is fast receding in the rivers, and no further damages may be expected.
