Detmering has a fine display of laces in his window to-day. Halt and take a look at them. It is a perfect bower of all varieties' varying in price from 5 cents up to $4.00 per yard.

Little Rhody leads off in the line of states to legislate against railway cremators. An exchange says: The Rhode Island legislature has taken the railway stove by the leg, so to speak, and thrown it out the window, by passing a law forbidding its use as a heater in cars.

Hon. William R. Morrison has accepted the tender of the inter-state commissioners, and probably will be the chairman of the commission. Judge Cooley, of Michigan, receiver of the Wabash system, and Gen. Bragg, of Alabama, will also be commissioners. The former is a republican, and one of the most able jurists of the country. The latter will represent the south.

The ignition of a wooden partition in a sleeping car on a Pennsylvania railroad the other morning, from a coal stove overheated by leaving all the drafts open for too long a time, shows that the perils from fire on a train are by no means confined to accidents caused by derailment. Even surrounded by the most satisfactory conditions, the coal stove in a passenger car is only a murderous monster under bonds.

The beautiful blue bird has been seeking admission to this office for several days. The window was opened to them this forenoon, but they finally declined the hospitality and retired to some more secluded nook to begin their work of nest building. As we expect to vacate these premises soon, the birds are welcome guests.

Our "home amusement club" are the Star Jubilee Singers. They appear at Garrison Opera house Monday evening. No person who witnessed their famous Mop Brigade at the firemen's fair can suppress a laugh, even at this late date. We are not advised as to whether this piece will be repeated; but of one thing rest assured, the programme will be witty, spiced with originality, and it will please the boys to see you there. Go by all means; and enjoy a hearty laugh; it will do you good. Box sheet open at Rogers & Todd's.

Japanese paper fans are among the new objects on which decoration is lavished. They are often painted in oils in bright, sketchy ways, the whole fan being done, or else divided in some slanting lines and each division so made being painted after a different style.

Palm leaf fan wall-pockets make convenient photograph holders; half of the fan is covered with plush or velvet, and between it and the fan the photos are slipped in. The fans are hung on the wall in whatever position may be requisite to show the photographs to the best advantage.
