Fun on the Bristol is the funniest and brightest of all Musical comedies, and Widow O'Brien with her comicalities, the most laughable character on the stage. Jerry Thompson, the steward of the Bristol with his songs, medleys and funny sayings keeps the audience amused from rise to fall of curtain. Messrs. Kelly and Brown are without equals, and comedians of the highest order, and well deserve all their success. Fun and laughter come thick and fast. The music, bright and sparkling, is always encored over and over again, and the comedians, Kelly and Brown, keep the audience convulsed. The steamboat scene is one of the most realistic ever witnessed on the stage.
