McMinnville, Or. - - - - - Mch. 25, 1887

During the winter stock has suffered more severely from the elements than during any former one. The blizzards in Dakota and Montana have been unusually fierce, and drifting snows have at different times greatly obstructed trains.

The country lad, who is trained to simple ways and homely virtues, and who learns what a dollar is worth by actually earning it under the law of imperative necessity, has a tremendous advantage over the town boy.

The anarchists of Chicago seem determined to have their condemned friends hanged if possible; for the persistent truculence with which they avow their hostility to law, government, and society must have some effect in preventing pardon or clemency.

The Columbia fishermen's protective union has issued a circular warning all strangers to keep away from the fishing grounds on the lower Columbia during the coming season for the reason that there are men enough to man the boats with union fishermen.

It is rumored that Endicott, secretary of war, will soon resign. From all accounts in regard to him, it is a pity he did not think of it before. He is said to be so exclusively aristocratic that he disdains this dirty planet and all its vile contents, including the people.

It is not altogether clear that Newfoundland can whip Great Britain, but if she wants help she is very likely to get it. Her memorial to the crown bears a very striking resemblance to one issued by a certain thirteen colonies something more than a century and a decade ago.

The OPR. Co. are having another steamer built, in addition to the Eastern Oregon and the Willamette Valley, already mentioned. The new boat is an iron steamer of 3000 tons burden, and will have all modern improvements. They expect to have her completed by September 1, when she will at once start for this coast, and form a tri weekly line between San Francisco and Yaguina.

The longshoremen of New York have recently passed through a most unpleasant and most costly experience, they and the coal handlers having suffered between them, an actual loss of wages exceeding in the aggregate two million dollars, and very many of them have suffered the further and greater individual loss of their former places on the piers and wharves and in warehouses.

Since annexation was killed the Moscow Mirror wants a new territory created out of North Idaho and that part of Washington lying north of Snake river and east of the Columbia. That is a scheme as is a scheme. The Olympia Standard rejoices because Cleveland killed the annexation bill. The reason is obvious. Had the bill become a law Olympia would have lost the capital.

A paper published in the Coeur d'Alene mines, says snow at the head of Alder gulch, visible from main street of Murray, must be from 50 to 100 feet deep in drift places, as huge trees are buried from sight to the very tops. One man who investigated as closely as possible, says that on the west side of the gulch the depth of the snow is even greater than 100 feet, from which it appears that truth is even stranger than Baron Munchausen.

Jeannie Winston's engagement with the Pyke company extends to April 9th, and then she proceeds to Baltimore, where she begins a summer engagement May 16th, at the Academy of Music. Miss Winston has been delighted with her slope tour, which has been a very prosperous one. In Carson and Virginia city she was the recipient of considerable social attention from the elite of both cities, including a dinner given in her honor by the governor.

There has been a generous rivalry in Washington society this winter between the daughters of the two Oregon senators. Miss Mitchell has been noted for her beautiful face, and Miss Dolph for the symmetry of her figure. Which one has the greatest personal charms is still an open question. As the Telegram suggests: In the midst of general disappointment over the treatment our state has received at the national capital, here is one cheering announcement. And Grover Cleveland can't veto it.

Parker Allison and wife arrived from Canada on Friday last, and will spend the summer at least visiting with John Allison's at Wheatland. They may possibly remain in Oregon, if a suitably located farm can be secured at a reasonable price.

Col. Dan Lamont says Dr. Sowers was a little too previous about Cleveland's health. He weighs less than when he came to the White house and takes ample exercise. He does not walk about the city, but he does in the country. Sowers does not know the president.

Negotiations for the transfer of the OCR to the SPR, which have just been completed, have been going on for over three years. The Oregonian says this is a very important announcement to Oregon, for though it has been known for a long time that the negotiation was under way, and news of the consummation has therefore been somewhat discounted, yet these things can never be considered as certain of accomplishment till positive announcement thereof is made.

OWED TO ## THE ROOSTER.

How dear to my heart is the elegant rooster, Old Public Opinion we all know so well. Who lifts up his voice when people are tickled, And crows when his tidings are joyful to tell.

The dooster the booster
The bouncing old rooster
The jolly old rooster with tidings to tell.
Now lately this rooster has taken to crowing in favor of us and the goods that we sell. Our trade is increasing and daily increasing Due to the public opinion I know very well. Then hurrah for the rooster
The bouncing old rooster
The jolly old rooster with tidings to tell.
