Still Searching After Truth.

The article signed "Liberal" seems to admit that "nature" is the author of the Bible, natural men made its teachings, men who practiced and taught superstitions, lying, theft, murder, adultery and all the abominations of the earth. Then should we hold up our hands in holy horror and cry out: O Nature! thou author of so much evil, conceiving man in sin and bringing him forth in iniquity, to curse the bosom of the earth with his presence, setting him up to write blasphemous books, to make idolatrous sacrifices of human life, thou art an inhuman monster, a merciless God: Alluring man with deceptive illusions, loading him with burdens of priestcraft, and burning innocents at the stake. Thou vile and impious fiend, that hath power over the same particles of matter to make a donkey or a deist; why hast thou made me thus? Yes there is some good in nature, but the teeming millions of earth, like ravenous wolves have kept the air resonant with moaning and curses since the advent of life. What a responsibility. This is on the supposition that there is no God but nature. Then the Bible is the word of nature.

Now suppose the Bible to be the word of God, and the works of nature to be the works of God God being a perfect being, you say his word must be perfect but his works imperfect. Your reasoning will not parallel, it plays at cross purposes. Again a perfect penman cannot make perfect writing with an imperfect instrument. The writer begs pardon for the impertinence in presuming to be able to criticize his intelligent highness, S. R. Putman, but it was done in all kindness and with a thirst for truth and knowledge which often makes us walk "where angels fear to tread."

It is best to stick to the text and not discuss too many questions at once or be too long, the editor and reader may both be annoyed, but some would like to know whereon "Liberal" basis the hope of future life.

Not defending dogmas but merely an INVESTIGATOR.

Read This

Five saloon for each church in this country. What are the fruits of these saloons? drunkards, libertines, murderers, thieves, liars, negligent mothers, vile fathers, unruly sons, impure daughters, infidels, and all that is wicked and sinful, think of it! five saloons to each church and these saloons sustained by the voters of the church people. It is strange that the power of the church is not what it should be, when there is such golden wedge among her voting members— one place devoted to the building up of christianity and five times as many for its destruction, what will the harvest be? will ye as christians pursue this course any longer? God help the followers of Christ to come from among the world, and with spotless garments, do their whole duty, then will we see Zion prosper and souls returning to God.—Pacific Baptist.

Lafayette.

Mrs. Belcher has been very sick for more than a week. She is afflicted with a sort of nervous fever.

Misses Agnes and Maud Cook, clerk and cashier of Old's & King, Portland, have been visiting their parents the past week.

Hazel nuts are getting ripe and it would make you want some yourself, to see the average small boy cracking them with his teeth and rattling them in his pockets.

The children's sociable held in Littlefield's hall on Friday evening, was well attended, and afforded lots of enjoyment for the little ones. We have not heard what sum was realized.

The town seems almost deserted, so many having gone to the coast. County Clerk Briedwell and family, Judge Loughary and family, McCain and Gates, with their families and—we don't know who all else. Well, maybe we will take a notion to go next year.

Newberg News.

Joseph Hoskins and son are burning a kiln of brick.

Edwards & Co's sawmill is having quite a lumber trade.

Dr. Morse is building a barn octagon in shape, a model of convenience.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield of Dayton, spent the Sabbath with friends in this vicinity.

Mr. Miles has bought five acres of land from Mr Cottle and will build a dwelling at once.

Mr. B. E. Miles who is book-keeper for the State Insurance Co., of Salem spent the Sabbath at this place.

Three other dwellings in town are in process of erection and still more house room is wanted for incoming immigrants.

Wheat cutting is in progress and promises a fair yield. The cool cloudy weather the past week has greatly helped the late sowed oats.
