Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis received word from their daughter, Mrs. S. E. Delaney, of Lowell, who was expected at their home for Thanksgiving, that they were having the goofest dinner of all. The Delaneys were to bring pumpkin pies and enjoy turkey in Mill City. Their car broke down so all they had was the pie while the Davis' enjoyed the turkey.

Tex Blazek reports that Portland is jammed with Christmas shoppers. He was to meet Mrs. Blazek at the Alder St. entrance of Meier-Frank's between 1:30 and 2 on Saturday. He arrived at 1:10 and waited until 3 for her, unable to leave to put a nickel in the parking meter. By that time he was ready to tell the Salvation Army lassie to move and he would sit and ring the bell for her.

While in Portland Tex called Jack Bardsley, former local resident, who is now at Garden Home with a riding academy. Jack inquired about his many friends and promised a visit
