A Quiet Evening at Home

Tomorrow these Aviation Cadets in training at the Pensacola Naval Air Station will put their homework into actual practice in the skies over the Florida base. Two cadets are assigned to large rooms in brick dormitories. Pensacola Naval Air Station, the "Annapolis of the Air," is the focus of the recently reactivated Naval Aviation Cadet training program, which is open to healthy, single young men between 18 and 25, with at least two years of college. Upon graduation they are commissioned ensigns in the Naval Reserve, or second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve, are awarded their wings and assigned to two years' active duty.

Idanha

By CHARLES DE SULLY

Friday last when the school bus stopped in Idanha, two cars were following. One waited for the bus to proceed, the other drove past the bus at excessive speed, and only by good fortune (not the driver's care) missed a little child who was crossing the road.

Can this dangerous practice not be stopped?

A number of new boxes are being installed at the post office, which also has received a large safe. The next move is to enlarge the post office itself. One does not have to be an optimist to see the necessity.

A lot of good work is being done on the interior of the fire hall, laying floors and putting plywood on the walls.

Mrs. Lester Hathaway will talk on the life of Lord Byron at the next meeting of the Women's Club Tuesday night at the high school recreation room at 8. The meeting this week was postponed because of the March of Dimes benefit game.

The Tuesday meeting will be Red letter day and each member will contribute a quarter for some foreign student in Oregon. This is a project of the Oregon Federation. This year the student is a Chilean girl.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Nelson Lanphear and Mrs. Charles Wolverton.

Mrs. Everett Elliott is back in school after several days' absence with a sinus infection.
