Side Roads and Short Cuts.

A Salem constable, stepping into a store for a package of cigarettes, was attacked and severely beaten by a couple who jumped him without warning. This proves, boys and girls, that smoking cigarettes is a dangerous habit... By the way, whatever became of the tobacco chewer, who used to at least hold the balance of power in the average voting precinct? Gone with the wind, and the pelicaloojin bird, and the rats and switches in milady's hair, we reckon. Anyway, we once acquired a most excellent jackknife by saving tin tags in the shape of horse shoes, from Horse Shoe plug cut. Them, as the feller says, were the good old days, when house-cleaning meant, among other equally appalling stints, pulling the tacks out of half an acre of carpet, then beating the carpet till no more dust arose from the beating, by which time a small boy's right arm weighed 86 pounds, easy.

Monkey Business.

United Press despatches last Saturday included the cutest story! All about a dampfool woman who insisted that a pet monkey be equipped with diapers. We had thought that the farthest south in adult morons was the little jerk usually married to, or at least supporting, a large shopworn blonde, leading a dog on a leash while the latter made his routine calls at suburban hydrants, but this monkey diaper thing shows just how low a woman, a reporter, and a daily newspaper, can get.

Johnny's Essay on the Mule.

The mule is a beast of burden which is often mentioned in the Bible. Our hired man often tells about the mule, too, very loud. The mule is a sad-looking animal, like a horse with a hangover, and the saddest-looking mule I ever saw kicked my grampa's pants so hard that his false teeth lit 'way up on the roof of the henhouse. The mule has been chosen as the symbol of the Democratic party, but the mule had nothing to say about that. The mule does not chew a cud like a cow, but will chew contentedly on a hired man. The mule is very stubborn and patient, and will wait his chance for weeks, and then he comes all unwound and is hard to reason with. The mule is not a musical animal and has a very odd voice, like my uncle who sings in the choir, but is very useful and hard working. My pa says a hired man will never go to sleep while he is driving a mule.

And We Quote.

"It has been my firm belief ever since that all persons who devote themselves to forcing virtue on their fellow men deserve nothing better than kicks in the pants. Whenever A annoys or injures B on the pretense of saving or improving X, A is a scoundrel."—H. L. Mencken in Newspaper Days.

Idanha

By RHBBA SNYDER

Among those attending the circus in Salem Thursday night were Mr. and Mrs. Frank New and daughters, the three Snyder boys and Virginia O'Brien.

Sherry Pittam thought her sister's hair was too long, so she gave her a hair cut. Poor Patty looks like something the cat dragged in, but doesn't seem to mind. Her only comment is, "Sherry bad girl."

The American Legion Auxiliary met at the home of Roselle Vickers Tuesday night. The meeting was called to order by its president, Bernadine Stoll. Sixteen members answered roll call by naming their favorite radio program. The organization was divided into two teams, with Flossie Storey and Esther Fouts captains, to get dues in by Oct. 1. The winning team will be treated to a party by the losers. One guest was present. Refreshments were served.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank New were Miss Shirley Norton, Portland, George Barney, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schaffer. Overnight guests Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lind of Sherwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wiekell and son, Neil, of Corvallis, were Sunday visitors at the Jim Gordon home. The daughter of Portland is also here for a week's visit.

Mrs. Carl Schaffer, Mrs. Jerry Pittam and Mrs. Frank New attended a surprise "pink and blue" shower for Mrs. Eldon White of Detroit at

LITTLE ILLS
MAKE BIG BILLS!

• True, that "little illness" you've been mentioning in an offhand way, may not seem to amount to much—just a few faint symptoms. But, neglected, these "little ills" can lead to big bills for doctors, medicines, etc; not to mention needless suffering and loss of precious time. Consult a Doctor now—you'll save by it in the end. And, of course, we hope you'll bring his prescription to us for careful compounding.
