Mrs. Theodore Burton, assisted by Mrs. Frank Saunders, was hostess at her home Thursday afternoon to the members of the Gates Womens Club at the social meeting. The afternoon was spent in informal discussion of plans for the annual bazaar to be given Saturday evening, Dec. 3, in the social rooms of the high school.

Theodore Burton gave a short talk offering suggestions as to ways and means of raising money to finish the clubhouse now under construction.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to Mrs. Lincoln Henness, Mrs. Albert Millsap, Mrs. Elmer Stewart, Mrs. Harold Wilson, Mrs. Larry Shelton, Mrs. Floyd Volkel, Mrs. Laura Joaquin, Mrs. Glen Hearing, Mrs. C. O. Rhames, Mrs. Edward Chance and Mrs. Joe Joaquin. The next regular meeting of the club will be held at the school house Dec. 10.

Mrs. William Pennick was hostess to a group of the small friends of her daughter, and their mothers, on Patty's fourth birthday. Following an afternoon of party games and the opening of gifts, refreshments were served by the hostess to the honoree, Patty Pennick, her brother, Billy, Mrs. Tony Baker, David, Nathan, Timmy and Judy; Mrs. Theodore Burton and Billy Joe; Mrs. Elmer Stewart Billy and Connie; Mrs. Don Smith Judy, Ernie and Donna Jean; Mrs. Lester Bemish and Claude; Miss Margie Murray; Mrs. Charles Ball and daughter, and Mrs. Ray Colgan.

Mrs. Lincoln Henness spent several days in Salem visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Wiltsey.

A. D. Scott accompanied his daughter, Mrs. Larry Shelton, and Barbara were Salem visitors one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, teachers in the local high school, who have been living in Mill City, have moved to Gates and are living in the Forest service cabin to be nearer their work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wisheart, formerly of Portland, have rented the Robert Wilson home. Wisheart is employed at the dam. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are living in Roseburg where he is employed in the Montgomery Ward store.

Darlene, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Joaquin, was hostess at her home Friday evening to a large number of her schoolmates. Amid a setting of jack-o-lanterns, witches and black cats, the little guests played Hallowe'en games and enjoyed a jolly evening. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joaquin to Darlene, Carol Sue Ball, Eddie and Ann Marie Hirte, Sharon and Sherall Hirte, Darlene and Elaine Schafer, Nancy Ann Hamen, Patsy Sitala, Barbara Shelton, Joan and Roger Harden, Rodney Stubbs, Claudia, Sue and Bobby Park, Rodney and Roger Schaer, Marshall Barnhardt, Ross and Dennie Klutke, Irvin and Jerry Tucker and Jimmy Fish.

A Hallowe'en hardtimes community party was held in the social rooms of the school house Monday evening. It was sponsored by the Womens Club for members, their families and friends. A program of Hallowe'en games was prepared by Mrs. Edward Chance and Mrs. Theodore Burton. Admission was one vegetable from each guest, which was prepared by them and added to the stew which was served as refreshments at the close of the evening. All those showing any signs of prosperity in their garb were fined. After the fun the guests all departed well "stewed."

Talk about the absent-minded professor! One evening last week the erstwhile editor and publisher of the Mill City Enterprise brought his wife and family to Gates to get a square meal at a cafe here. After he had satiated himself, both with food and conversation with the proprietor's wife, he left, leaving his one and only hat hanging on the Garrison family tree. When he was called several days later and asked if he knew where his hat was, he didn't even remember he owned a hat! We wonder—was it the good food, the proprietor's wife, or the fact that the hat has grown too small for his head since he now is a gentleman of leisure.

Ed. note: Neither, since his hair farm experiment of last summer, he has so much hair he doesn't need a hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Fount Paul, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Tex Allen, were Portland visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Varcoe spent the week end in Potland visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKee who have been living in the Oak Park Motel have moved to Milwaukie, where he is still employed by the Montag Construction Co.

A number of the men employed by the Rogers Construction Co. are idle due to the accident that damaged the rock crusher and are taking advantage of the resulting lay-off to visit their homes. Albert (Buck) Morris left Friday for his home in Idaho to visit his mother who was not well; Sam Rutherford spent the weekend in Salem with his family; Howard Sullivan went to Salem over Sunday and Shelton Northrup left for North Plains for a week or ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Knutson, former residents of Gates, now of Salem have been here caring for the farm home of his brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. Chris Knutson who have gone to Seattle, Wash., for a visit of two weeks.

Larry Shelton has been employed the past two weeks building the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne Rembo in Mill City.

Mrs. C. O. Rhames is manager of the Oak Park Motel since the departure of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Montag. Mr. and Mrs. Rhames reside in the motel.

Several businesses and homes are in process of construction here. T. W. Lord is adding several units to the motel he has already completed. His property is located in the west end of town and is near the site of the old Gates hotel, which was torn down a number of years ago.

A crew of men have been filling and leveling a lot on the highway east of the new postoffice building, under construction, and it is reported the Union Oil Co. will build a service station there.

P. A. Lee, who is connected with the Vancouver Plywood Corp., is having a large home erected on lots he recently purchased of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith on the highway east of the town. The building is of pumice block construction.
